OUR SERVICE FLAG

Henry Ford has decided to accept the Democratic nomination for Senator in Michigan. Now if he can get his own party to nominate him he can crank up and rattle away.

Temple Chaplin, a zinc and lead mine operator at Joplin, Mo., has asked to be allowed to pay more taxes. As a joker, Charlie Chaplin will have to look to his laurels.

Franz von Rintelen, suspected of being a bastard blood relation of the Kaiser, is serving a term of four years as a spy, in spite of the Kaiser's threat to execute an American prisoner in reprisal.

French artillery and infantry Thursday evening fought four divisions on a two-mile front where they had concentrated to attack. Heavy losses were inflicted upon the enemy and it stopped his turning movement toward Compiegne.

The dissolution of the German-American alliance and the discontinuance of German language newspapers in the United States has wrung from the Cologne Volks Zeitung the admission that German interests in the U. S. and on the Atlantic are ruined.

The Courier-Journal mentions the Kentuckian as one of the old papers of the state and rightfully credits it with being 39 years old. This is true under the present name, but the paper was published 13 years before 1879 under a different name and some old stones and other heirlooms used in 1866 are still included in the Kentuckian's equipment.

An association of former British soldiers and sailors known as "comrades of the great war" sent this message to Gen. Foch: "We have perfect faith that on the scene of your historic victory of 1914 in which many of us were privileged to share, you and your gallant men will again stem the tide of invasion and hurl the hated invader from the sacred soil of France." Gen. Foch replied: "I shall entirely your confidence."

"DOOMED."

The heroic stand of a detachment of dismounted French cavalry on the height of Le Montant will be remembered as one of the most heroic episodes of the war. Surrounded Sunday morning at 4 o'clock they resisted until Monday noon against repeated and most ferocious enemy assaults. Every two hours they sent back a wireless message which always read: "We're holding." Finally when the hour of noon was striking on Monday, one word came through: "Doomed."

HOW MRS. BOYD AVOIDED AN OPERATION

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well."

"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. MARIE BOYD, 1421 5th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

Sometimes there are serious conditions where a hospital operation is the only alternative, but on the other hand so many women have been cured by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after doctors have said that an operation was necessary—every woman who wants to avoid an operation should give it a fair trial before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

If complications exist, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of many years experience is at your service.

TEXAS SUFFRAGE LEADER

Until the recent passage of a bill granting primary suffrage to women, Texas had a lonely woman voter. Mrs. Hortense Ward, a member of the Texas bar, could vote at the election of special judges. However she worked tirelessly to enlarge and extend this privilege to all the women of her home state.

Seamen in Trenches.

Keeping an eye open for the wily submarine is no reason why sea soldiers shouldn't get ready for life in the trenches, according to Sgt. J. G. Woolley of the United States Marines, who had been given a few days' leave from a battleship. "Part of our dock looks like a little bit of Flanders," says Woolley. "We have strung up six tough willow bushes with long center poles protruding from each and operated from the rear. We use these dummies for bayonet practice and five days a week we go over the top." If the time comes for us to do our bit in the trenches, we'll be ready.

Soldiers Ask No Sympathy.

Here is an expression of the stoicism and the philosophy of a soldier as printed in extracts from his letters in the Atlantic Monthly: "Don't worry about my privations—which mostly there ain't none! Such as they are, they are necessary and unavoidable; and, above all, we are fitted for them. You can't well sympathize with a man who is doing the thing he has longed for and trained for all his life. Besides, physical privations are nothing; it is the mental ones that hurt. A soldier in the trenches, with little to eat and nothing but a hole to sleep in, can feel happy all the same—particularly if life has something in prospect for him if he lives. But a man out of work at home, sleeping in the park and panhandling for food, is much more to be pitied, though his immediate hardships may be no greater."

AMERICA—THE SYMBOL OF FAITH AND HOPE

By GEO. W. GOETHALS Acting Quartermaster General

EVERY American citizen should be proud of the American Red Cross. It is daily, indeed hourly, giving an example of mercy to the whole world. Through its operations the suffering of soldiers and civilians is being alleviated.

The American people should continue to support the American Red Cross. Through it they are helping their own men and helping the allies. Through it they are making America the symbol of faith and hope in a distracted world.

GEO. W. GOETHALS, Acting Quartermaster General.

THE BOY IN KHAKI

By K. C. B.

I saw a mother, And her brown clad boy, And heard her sob, And "Goodby, son," And saw him, Kiss her tears away, And go.

And hours passed, And in the darkness, Of my room, I lay, And all the pictures, That the day had drawn, Came back, And she was there, And he was there.

And then a picture, From across the sea, Was painted, On my shadow wall, And he was there, And all about him, There were shadow men, But nowhere, Could I find the face, Nor find the form, Of her.

And then, Another picture came, A great Red Cross, And wounded men, Looked up at it, And raised their arms, And smiled, And he was there, And as I gazed,

Upon the cross, I saw her face.

And so it was, That in the darkness, Of my room, It came to me, That Red Cross work, Across the sea, Was mother's work, In other hands, And done for her.

And then sleep came, And came a dream, And cheering throng, And boys come home, And he was there, And she was there, And once again, I heard her sob, I heard her sob, Kiss her tears away.

And in their wake, On that glad day, A Red Cross waved, As it had waved, And followed him, Down in the Valley, And come back again.

I THANK YOU

One Million Sweaters For Army and Navy

The American Red Cross is the greatest volunteer organization that the world has ever seen. It was announced by one of the high officials in Washington that millions of people are and have been for some months working six days a week without a dollar's pay. This includes the members of the local chapters and all other employees in this country and abroad. One significant item in this is the fact that the Red Cross has given the army and navy over 1,000,000 sweaters for the boys in the service, of which over 500,000 were made by the members of the local chapters. You who know the difficulty of making sweaters can estimate the character of the work and the self sacrifice that the women of America are making to further the Red Cross' mission of mercy.

CARDINAL GIBBONS' MESSAGE

There is in these times a veritable ocean of sorrow and suffering engulfing millions of souls, and a society with the membership and resources of the Red Cross, actuated as it is by Christian principles, can best undertake the tremendous burden of attending intelligent and efficient relief. In particular I approve of the Red Cross activities as they are directed towards supporting the courage and caring for the injuries of our young soldiers and sailors. It is my earnest hope that all of our people will cheerfully and generously cooperate with the Red Cross committee in their efforts towards reaping the fullest measure of charity that it may be possible for the society to attain.

JAMES CARDINAL GIBBONS, Archbishop of Baltimore.

KEPT HER AWAKE

The Terrible Pains in Back and Sides. Cardui Gave Relief.

Marksville, La.—Mrs. Alice Johnson, of this place, writes: "For one year I suffered with an awful misery in my back and sides. My left side was hurting me all the time. The misery was something awful."

"I could not do anything, not even sleep at night. It kept me awake most of the night... I took different medicines, but nothing did me any good or relieved me until I took Cardui..."

"I was not able to do any of my work for one year and I got worse all the time, was confined to my bed off and on. I got so bad with my back that when I stooped down I was not able to straighten up again... I decided I would try Cardui... By time I had taken the entire bottle I was feeling pretty good and could straighten up and my pains were nearly all gone."

"I shall always praise Cardui. I continued taking it until I was strong and well." If you suffer from pains due to female complaints, Cardui may be just what you need. Thousands of women who once suffered in this way now praise Cardui for their present good health. Give it a trial.

Playing it Both Ways. She (sentimentally)—Which do you regard more highly—the pleasure of hope or the pleasure of memory? He (briskly)—I'm for both. For example, I hope for a quick turn in the stock market, which promotes my happiness, and if it turns my way, the memory will be everything that could be desired.

Permanent Investment. "I think the best way to retain me," declared the blond stenog. "Bought you some flowers?" "Bought me a dictionary."

A Furnace With No Pipes

Think of it! Stands in the cellar directly under one register and pours heat up through all the house. Burns to the farthest corner and maintains a temperature there but two or three degrees less than in the room where the register is.

Very Economical. Fully paid for in one year. No fuel cost, no maintenance.

UNIFORMED WOMEN DRIVE OREGON DELIVERY WAGONS.

(By International News Service.) Portland, Ore., June 13.—Faced with a shortage of men, one of this city's largest mercantile establishments has secured the service of thirty-five women to drive its delivery wagons. The women are uniformed in blue, striped with gold, and each is accompanied by a boy to "trot" parcels from the wagon to residents.
