THE world faces a livestock famine of such magnitude that you and I simply cannot comprehend it. The Great War has swept millions of horses, cattle, swine and sheep into the fire. The liberal livestock premiums to be awarded by our Fair will do much to create a local interest in the raising of live stock.

TELL AGE OF OCEANS

Scientists Figure It Out by Measuring Salt.

Declare Seas Were Born About 90,000,000 Years Ago—Water is Analyzed.

Washington.—How old is the ocean? Standing on the shore and looking out over the expanse of water, the ocean seems a fixed and eternal fact, but the seas had a beginning and will have an end. Scientists say that when this time comes the last drop of water will have been absorbed into the earth's crust, its surface will be a desert and all life will become extinct.

The age of the oceans have been estimated by a leading authority, Professor Frank Clarke of the United States Geological Survey, at about 90,000,000 years. This, of course, is only an approximation, but is based on carefully studied scientific data.

All the water was once contained in the vapor that surrounded the glowing, slowly cooling mass which is now the earth. After the gases combined to form water the process of making the ocean salt began. This was the work of the rivers. Mineral salts were extracted from the rocks over which they flow and deposited in the sea.

Each year the action of the streams is said to make the ocean slightly more salty, and this is the basis on which its age is calculated. The amount of salt carried by the rivers of the world is computed by the scientists and compared with the total quantity in the ocean. After evaporation and the velocity of currents have been considered, it is possible to calculate how long it has taken to make the sea water as salty as it is today.

About three and a half per cent of mineral salts and 96½ per cent fresh water make up the oceans. Three-fourths of the solid matter is common salt, other ingredients being chloride, sulphate and bromide of magnesium; sulphate and carbonate of lime and sulphate of potash, besides traces of various other minerals and metals, including gold and silver.

FOR 3 "MARRIED" REGIMENTS

Regulars With Foreign Brides to Be Placed in Special Units Says War Department.

Washington.—Special regiments, composed largely if not entirely of married men, probably will result from the war department's policy regarding the disposition of regulars who are returning to this country with French wives. Orders have been sent to commanding officers of debarkation ports to transfer such men and their wives to Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., Fort Ethan Allen, Vt.; or Fort Myer, Va., when they belong to the cavalry, and to Madison Barracks, N. Y., in the case of infantrymen.

Official estimates are that 20,000 American soldiers married foreign brides. A majority of these men were emergency enlistments, however, and it is believed three regiments will be sufficient to accommodate the regulars.

ROMANS LIVING IN CAVES

High Rents Cause Return to Prehistoric Dwelling Places in Italian Capital.

Rome.—"Cavemen," relics of prehistoric days of human housing, live in Rome side by side with institutions of art and learning.

The caves are under the very shadow of the British Art school and the Italian College of Modern Arts. Within a short distance is the national stadium. On the other side of them is the Porta del Popolo, through which before the days of railways all pilgrims to Rome passed.

The reversion of Romans to the caves is not retrogression. It is evasion of high rents. All efforts of the police to eject the tenants from the caves have failed. The "cavemen" move out but return as soon as the police depart.

The Editor's Guess.

A leading citizen in a small town was suddenly stricken with appendicitis and an operation became necessary. The editor of the local paper heard of it and printed this note about it: "Our esteemed fellow-citizen, James L. Brown, will go to the hospital tomorrow to be operated upon for the removal of his appendix by Dr. Jones. He will leave a wife and two children."—Truth Seeker.

She Had Him.

Husband and wife were having words, when he said: "I don't believe in parading my virtues!" "No?" answered the wife. "Do you think you could dear? It takes a number, you know, to make a parade."

Reports received from the Saving Division, War Loan Organization of Kentucky in the Columbia building, Louisville, show that every school in Hopkinsville is one hundred per cent organized in war saving societies. Superintendent J. C. Wailer and the teachers of the various buildings are enthusiastic over the success of these organizations.
