

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Elvira Jane Alexander oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Travis was born at the old Travis homestead in Crittenden county, Ky., Feb. 22nd, 1847 and departed this life June 28th, 1905, meeting her death in the terrible tornado which swept away her home six miles north-east of Phillipsburg, Kansas.

She was 58 years, 4 months and 6 days old. She professed religion at the annual camp-meeting at Piney Fork in 1865. In September after the camp-meeting she joined the M. E. church to which her parents belonged, and remained a member of that church until after her marriage. She joined the Cumberland Presbyterian church at Piney Fork to which her husband belonged and remained a member of that church until her death.

She was joined in marriage with John J. Alexander March 23th, 1868. To them were born eight girls, three of whom preceded her to the glory world. The five children left to mourn the loss of this loving christian mother are Mrs. Ella Jacob, Miss Dora Alexander, Mrs. Ada Paris, Mrs. Anna Paris and Miss May Alexander besides the father who was severely injured in the dreadful tornado, all of Phillips Co. Kansas.

She also leaves four brothers L. E. and T. G. Travis, of Marion, and G. M. and J. H. Travis of the Starr neighborhood and two sisters Mrs. J. L. Travis of Marion and Mrs. A. F. Eady of the Shady Grove neighborhood.

She was a woman of great consecration and determined to rear her children for God. The and her husband had their family altar and gathered their children daily around the sacred hearth-stone in earnest devotion. And I have often heard her say that if it was God's will for her to go in a storm that she wanted to go from earth to Heaven just that way and that she was not afraid to meet her dear Savior in the storm for he would make all things right.

Her loving husband will miss her for he has lost a faithful companion. Her children will mourn her absence because they have been deprived of the heart of the home. Her brothers and sisters will weep for her because the family circle is broken.

But though she is absent in body her memory is hallowed with an influence that makes her present in spirit and she still lives through her sacrificing deeds that will bear fruit in eternity.

As the gardener plucks the flowers with the rarest tints and sweetest perfumes to adorn his king's table, so dear ones, let us find comfort in our knowledge that earth has given up one of its richest gems that it may find a richer setting around the king's throne, and she has been chosen because of her fitness to make Heaven more attractive for us.

It can truly be said of her that piety penetrated her entire being. No one could help observing her purity and loveliness of soul, thus we feel assured that she has exchanged pain for joy and a cross for a crown.

The funeral was held Thursday afternoon June 29th at the Crider home, Rev. L. W. Kemp preaching the sermon from Matthew 6:20, "Lay up your treasure in Heaven." A large number of sorrowing friends and neighbors followed the remains to Fairview cemetery at Phillipsburg. What is death to her who meets it with an upright heart?

A quiet haven where her shattered bark Harbors secure 'til the rough storm is passed. Perhaps a passage overhung with clouds. But at its entrance a few leagues beyond Opening to kinder skies and milder suns And seas pacific as the soul that seeks them.

What Wives Should Remember.

That Adam was made first.
That "he pays the freight."
That "blessed are the meek."
That nine men in ten detests gossip.
That all angels are not of your sex.
That confidence begets confidence.
That men sometimes have nerves.
That there should be no place like home.
That it takes two to prolong a family jar.
That the least said is the soonest mended.
That with all his faults you love him still.
That you should have no secrets from him.
That husbands have troubles of their own.
That he's "all right" when you know him.
That woman's best weapon is her weakness.
That home is more than half what you make it.
That he is just as anxious to get rich as you are.
That wives are unusually favored in this country.
That his typewriter cannot help it if she's pretty.
That he likes to hear that the baby is his dead image.
That six pair of slippers are enough for any man.
That a man likes neatness in your attire at all times.
That ruddy in excess is worse than raim in moderation.
That you should not run up bills without his knowledge.
That a baby in the house is a wellspring of pleasure.
That she who puts on the gloves should know how to spar.
That he is not in love with every woman he glances at.
That it is policy to let him believe he is "Lord and Master."
That your relationship is closer to him than to your mother.
That a prompt and pointed answer does not turn away wrath.
That he does not get sleepy the same moment you do.
That there are letter drop boxes on the nearby corner.
That you should not expect him to light the fire in the morning.
That you can't keep books, and there is no use of your trying.
That he expect you to look your best when you go out with him.
That it does not improve his razor to use it for chiro-podical purposes.
That house-hunting is not reckoned by the average man as a pastime.
That 8 p. m. is 60 minutes past 7 o'clock, not 15 minutes to 9.—Boston Globe.

A Grim Tragedy

is daily enacted in thousands of homes, as death claims, in each one, another victim of consumption or pneumonia. But when coughs and colds are properly treated, the tragedy is averted. F. G. Huntley, of Oakland, Ind., writes: "My wife had the consumption, and three doctors gave her up. Finally she took Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, which cured her, and today she is well and strong." It kills the germs of all diseases. One dose relieves. The Joy of Home Coming.

The train lurched forth with a shriek and a roar,
And speed off toward a Southern clime;
A tired boy smiled, his vacation was on,
He was leaving the city behind.
The scenery seemed fleeing to a world beyond,
On myriads of changing wings.
The cherries smiled at the clover blooms,
And the children waved from their grapevine swings.
The gray rock walls overgrown with ferns,
Towered o'er the track with wondrous height,
That pierced the sky's ethereal blue
And hid the sun's life-giving light.
In the dense green woods the cattle knee deep in the cooling stream,
And the song-birds flitted through the underwood,
Like a rainbow's mystic gleam.
The tired boy to the business world
His weary eyes then closed
And fondly dreamed of the old home place,
Where the Cumberland gently flows.
Where each familiar object shared,
His childhoods joy, naught to condemn,
Back to the quiet country town,
And to the folks who believed in him.
As he onward sped ever the cedar hills,
The hours seemed to creep away.
But the train slowed up and whistled shrill,
As the twilight claimed the day.
Was he really there? back home again?
Ah! his heart with rapture thrilled,
When the conductor called with a lively air,
"All out for Pleasureville."

Sonnet.

BY O. G. W.

O world, thou chooseth not the better part,
It is not wisdom to be only wise,
And on the inward vision close the eyes;
But it is wisdom to believe the heart,
Our knowledge is a torch of smoky pine,
That lights the pathway but one step ahead
Across a void of mystery and dread.
Bid, then, the light of tender faith to shed
By which alone the mortal heart is lead
Unto the thinking of the thought divine.

CHICAGO.

To the Pacific Coast—to California, Oregon, Washington—round-trip, long transit and return limits, liberal stop-over privileges.

The rate is practically on the basis of one fare for the round trip. Of course, if you wish to visit both California and Oregon or Washington, the cost is slightly more.

These reduced rates are in effect on certain dates in months of May to October, inclusive. They apply from all Eastern points via Chicago, St. Louis or Memphis gateways. The Rock Island System will take you up in either Chicago or St. Louis, or at hundreds of other Middle West points and carry you to the Coast in through Standard or Tourist Sleepers with unexcelled Dining Car service. The Rock Island also affords a choice of routes: on the "Scenic" route you can stop off in Colorado—see Salt Lake City—visit Yellowstone National Park; on the "Southern" route you can go via El Paso, thru New Mexico, then "up coast" to San Francisco and on to Portland or Seattle if desired.

In short, these Pacific Coast excursions offer an unusually good chance to see our western country in a comprehensive manner.

If you desire to go only as far as Colorado, there are excursion rates in effect to that section and return, all summer long, specially reduced June 30 to July 4, August 12 and 13, and August 30 to September 4. Extension trips to Ogden or Salt Lake and return at low cost also.

From September 15 to October 31, 1905, one-way tourist or "colonist" tickets will be on sale to California and the Pacific Northwest—about half regular fare.

If interested, send name and address on this coupon, designating which booklet wanted and to what point you plan to go. Name probable date of start also, so we can advise definitely with respect to rates, etc.
