Quail-Eating.

Ben Wilcox the colored cook who has enjoyed a local reputation as a "chief" for many years, is extending his renown to other parts of the state as attested by the following clipped from the Hartford Herald. The quail eating at Mr. G. A. Shelton's railroad camp, in north Hartford, last Saturday night, was a most enjoyable affair. The quail, biscuit, coffee and trimmings were prepared to a queen's taste, which was fittingly attested to by the hearty thanks of the guests to Mr. Shelton and management on their leave taking.
"Uncle Ben," the cook, deserves special mention. He is the "best ever."

MINER HICKS RESCUED.

From Mine at Bakersfield California.
Was Entombed for Twelve Days.

Bakersfield, Cal., Dec. 22.—L. E.
Hicks, the miner who was entombed by a cave-in tunnel of Edison electric power company Dec. 7 was rescued at 11:25 tonight.

Bakersfield, Cal., Dec. 22.—Reports reach here that Hicks has been taken out. Fire bells are ringing, whistles are blowing and fire arms are being discharged. The report has caused great excitement.

Bakersfield, Cal., Dec. 22.—It is expected to release Hicks within an hour. A physician reaching under the car tested Hicks' temperature which he found to be normal. The miner's pulse was a little high.
When first the rescuing force shook Hicks by the hand, the miner said that the touch of a human was the finest he ever felt. A plug of tobacco was then passed to him and he pronounced the first chunk a fine morsel.

Waverly, Ill., Dec. 26, 1906,

Mr. S. M. Jenkins, several of my friends have asked me to write them, but I can not spare the time to write them one by one. So if you will allow it I will give you a few lines and if it appears in your paper I may write you something later on.
This is a fine farming country and good health, a good portion of it being prairie. I have a good people to serve. It is a very neat little town of about 1600 with one saloon and five churches with every Sunday, I have a nice church and parsonage on adjoining lots, and my beloved bro. L. J. Millikan lives within fifty feet of me. I am having better health than when in Ky. I am working harder for my Lord. My people have made us several useful Christmas presents, one being a nice tailor made suit of clothes. They are feeding us well and I sure like the yellow legged chickens. I received a treat last Saturday evening it was the CRITTENDEN PRESS.

Yours for souls,
ELISHA THOMAS.
