

Bad Backache

Such agonies as some women suffer, every month, from backache!

Is it necessary? No. It can be prevented and relieved, when caused by female trouble, by taking a medicine with specific, curative action, on the female organs and functions, which acts by relieving the congestion, stopping the pain and building the organs and functions up to a proper state of health. Try.

WINE OF CARDUI WOMAN'S RELIEF

"I suffered for 15 years," writes Mrs. Malinda A. Akers, of Basham, Va., "with various female troubles. I had such a backache that it drew me over, so I could not stand straight. The doctors could not help me, so I took Cardui, and now I feel like a new woman."

WILL GIVES SON $1 FOR ROPE

One "Long and Strong Enough to Support His Wife" Is Specified in Vengeful Bequest!

New York, Nov. 5.—In the will of John Ling, an old-time resident of Woodbridge, N. J., a copy of which was filed in the office of the surrogate of Queens county Jamaica, L. I., to-day, in order to cover some of the estate in that county, appears the following clause:

I leave and bequeath to John Ling, my son the sum of $1. My wish for John Ling, Jr. is to purchase a rope long and strong enough to support his wife, with the said sum of 1 $, or 100 cents, the same to be paid six months after my decease by my wife, Mary Ling, her heirs and executors.

The records do not show whether John put the bequest to the use designated by his father, who objected strenuously to his daughter-in-law. The will is dated March 6, 1857.

The New Pure Food and Drug Law

What is a Watt?

In the electrical world one hears and reads a great deal about "watts." The current is measured by watts; the machinery is rated by watts; lamps burn by watts. To the ordinary layman all this talk of "watts" is as mystifying as the death of the late Akhond of Swat.

The man to whom we owe the idea of the horsepower was a Scottish inventor, James Watt, and when the electric unit involving the idea of working capacity came to be formulated the name of Watt was chosen to indicate this unit, just as that of Volta has given us the term volt and Faraday the farad.

Watt considered that taking the average, a London dray horse was capable of doing the work of lifting 33,000 pounds through one foot of distance in one minute of time, a gainst gravity. The introduction of this time limit, the minute, gave the unit of power or the rate of performing work. This or its equivalent has ever since been called a horsepower.

The electrical unit called the watt is capable of being represented in terms of the horsepower, and in that form it is perhaps more intelligible to those who are familiar with mechanical rather than with electrical expressions. The electrical watt is the product of volts multiplied by amperes where the volt is the unit of electrical pressure and the ampere is the unit measuring the density or volume of an electrical current.

Careful experiments have demonstrated that 746 watts per second, are equal to 500 foot-pounds per second, or to state the equation in its usual form, 746 watts equal one horsepower. The form in which electrical power is generally sold is computed on the basis of kilowatt-hours. The prefix kilo comes from the Greek Chiliad, one thousand. A kilowatt, written also k. w. is therefore 1000 watts. The kilowatt hour is the performance or work at such a rate that 1000 watts per second shall be delivered continuously for one hour.

The kilowatt-hour has a special interest for the man who has his office or house lighted by electric lamps, because the kilowatt-hour is the unit upon which the power and light companies base their charges.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

This remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds and croup. From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to all parts of the United States and to many foreign countries. Why? Because it has proved especially valuable for these diseases. People who once use it are so much pleased with the prompt cure which it effects that they recommend it to their friends and neighbors. It is not a palliative intended to merely give temporary relief, but effects a permanent cure. It contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidentially to a baby as to an adult. Sold by J. H. ORME. 4t

CAUSES OF SUICIDE

STATISTICS COLLECTED FROM MANY SOURCES.

Numerous Cases Attributable to Childless Marriages—Rate High Among Germanic Nations—Means of Self-Destruction.

Among 1,000,000 suicides of all classes, it has been found that 205 married men with children destroyed their lives; 470 married men without children; 526 widowers with, and 1,094 widowers without children.

With respect to the women, 45 married women with, and 158 without children committed suicide, while 194 widows with, and 238 without offspring, completed the list.

On the face of things it would appear that in childless marriages the number of men suicides is doubled and in women trebled. Leaving the case of actual insane persons out of count, it would also appear that in males suicide is more frequent than in females.

Equally interesting is that phase of the subject which deals with the causes. One table dealing with 6,782 cases shows one-seventh caused by misery, one twenty-first part by loss of fortune, one forty-third by gambling, one nineteenth by love affairs, one ninth by domestic troubles, one sixth by fanaticism, and by followed ambition and remorse one-seventh and one twenty-seventh respectively.

The geography of suicide is also of high interest. Westcott says the highest proportion in Europe is shown by the Germanic races, Saxony having "the largest rate of any country." In Norway the rate was very large for a time, its decrease being attributed to the greater restrictions now laid on the liquor traffic.

The Celtic races have a low rate, and this is evinced by the figures for Ireland and Wales. Mountainous regions are said to show a lower rate than lowlands. In the highlands of Scotland and Wales, and in the high areas of Switzerland, suicide is rare.

Times and seasons also operate apparently, to influence the act of self-destruction. Roughly speaking, the curve line of suicide, calculated through the year, rises from January to July, and decreases for the second half of the year. The maximum periods have been found to fall in May, June and July. I believe, indeed, June is found to show a marked predominance as a suicide month.

One reason for such preeminence in the warm season of the year is set down as represented by the onset of hot weather affecting the system and tending to disturb mental equilibrium of the subjects. In 1,993 cases noted in Paris the prevailing hours of self-destruction were from six a. m. to noon and from two to three p. m.

Perhaps one of the most curious phases of this study is revealed in the fact already alluded to—namely, that different countries to show preferences for different means of committing suicide from other lands. The most common European method is by means of hanging, but in Italy this mode of self-destruction is rare.

Drowning comes next in order, and twice as many women as men perish in this way each year in Europe. Shooting is frequent in Italy and Switzerland. Cut throat is common in England and Ireland; it does not seem to constitute anywhere else a frequent mode of ending life.

Poisoning is a specially Anglo-Saxon method of suicide, we are told; while suffocation by the fumes of carbonic acid gas, inhaled in a closed room, is very typical of suicide in France.

Necklace Brings Ill Luck.

An eerie story is told about a necklace which formerly belonged to the maharannee of Cooh Behar, India, and which is supposed to bring bad fortune to every one connected with it. The history of the necklace—of pearls and turquoises, which are not usually considered to be unlucky stones—is certainly peculiar. While it was in the maharannee's possession she was robbed of a quantity of valuable jewelry and the maharajah lost some of his best racing ponies by death and breakdowns. The advice of a pundit was sought. He prescribed a change of ownership and a voyage across the sea in order to break the spell and the necklace was accordingly given to a lady in England. As a result the maharajah has begun to win races again and the maharannee has received the stolen property, but the story goes that the present owner of the necklace has been the victim of persistent ill fortune from the day that it came into her possession.

Queen of Siam's Jewels.

The Queen of Siam possesses the finest collection of jewels in the world. The walls of her bed chamber are literally ablaze with precious stones, while in a safe in her majesty's apartments are diamonds, rubies, pearls and emeralds fashioned into quaint necklaces of fabulous value. One little article alone intended to serve as a thimble, is in the shape of a lotus flower and is valued at £15,000.

The king, too, possesses a wonderful stock of jewels, and not only is his throne, which is made of pure gold, thickly encrusted with diamonds, pearls and rubies, but his majesty's state mantle is covered with jewels. In fact, this cloak is the most wonderful garment in the world. In spite of his enormous collection of jewels, however, the King of Siam is constantly adding to them and spends something like $120,000 per annum in purchasing new stones.

G. B. Burhans Testifies After Four Years.

G. B. Burhans, of Carlisle Center, N. Y., writes: "About four years ago I wrote you stating that I had been entirely cured of a severe kidney trouble by taking less than two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure. It entirely stopped the brick dust sediment, and pain and symptoms of kidney disease disappeared. I am glad to say that I never had a return of any of those symptoms during the four years that have elapsed and I am evidently cured to stay cured and heartily recommend Foley's Kidney Cure to any one suffering from kidney or bladder trouble."

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else. It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had. For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.
