

SOCIETY IN SALEM

Our Sister City Proves Her Genial Hospitality in Entertaining Her Visiting Guests From Bowling Green and Paducah.

OTHER ITEMS OF MUCH INTEREST FROM SALEM VALLEY.

In honor of Miss Mottley, of Bowling Green, Ky., Jake Farris Jr., entertained the young people of Salem, Thursday, July 30th, with a Lawn Social.

The lawn was tastefully decorated in Japanese lanterns, which together with the well arranged flower beds, that were in full bloom, made a very pretty scene.

"Madame Raffo" (?) had her tent stretched on one side of the lawn, where, with her assistant she told the young people their fortune, and answered all questions propounded to her. Only one couple was admitted at a time. The price of the fortune was a pawn, which, after the fortunes were all told, were sold by "Madam" and some of the "stunts" the owners were compelled to execute to redeem their property were very amusing.

It being Leap Year, the girls were given a chance of proposing to the boys.

Each girl was given a sheet of paper on which was written the name of the boy to whom she was to propose. She writing the proposal on the sheet of paper.

The boys wrote the answers in the same way. The proposals and answers were then read by one person, thereby no boy knowing who proposed to him and know who gave her an answer, some being real funny, especially the rejections.

Refreshments, consisting of sherbet, caramel ice cream and cake were served.

Those present were:—Misses Sallye Mottley, Bowling Green; Gertrude Hollowell, Paducah; Robbie LaRue, New Burnside, Ill.; Nell Gray, Effie Wolford, Pearl Glasgow, Linnie Farris, Charlie Hayden, Carrie Hughes, Leucille Lintley, Viola Ford, Myrtle Davis, Addie Boyd, Rosa Kidd and Margaret Lintley, Messrs. The lawn was beautifully decorated with Japanese lanterns.

Punch was served throughout the evening.

A "Cobweb" was much enjoyed by everyone. Each one was given the end of a string which they wound into a ball, going wherever the string bid them, on the other end of the string was a surprise of which there were various kinds.

Quite a unique way was used in the boys getting their partners for lunch. They each drew a paper with a girl's name on it, and all had to search for the girls who were hidden in the house. Some had to search quite awhile before they found the girl they were looking for.

Delicious refreshments, consisting of sherbet, ice cream and cake, were served.

Every one enjoyed a "peanut doll" contest. A bag of peanuts, crepe paper, needle and thread were given each couple. The girl making the doll of peanuts and the boy dressing it.

Miss Addie Boyd and Mr. Claude LaRue, won the prize, for having the best doll which was a large slice of water melon, that they had to eat together.

In Memoriam.

Miss Lura Parker, the subject of this sketch, died in Salem, Ky., at her father's home on the 13 of May, 1908.

She was the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben E. Parker, and was her father's housekeeper when she was taken sick about three months before she died. She was a faithful daughter and worthy of the love bestowed upon her by her loving father and sisters. Since her mother's death in 1893 she had taken charge of the household affairs and practically raised the younger children. Besides the father, there are three sisters to mourn her departure, all of whom are married. Mrs. B. A. Brandon, of Hardinsburg, Ky., Mrs. B. F. Birdwell, of Orell, Ky., and Mrs. Ollie Lowery, of Tolu, Ky.

Miss Lura left a bright assurance that she was going home to run her father's house above. All that loving hands and hearts could do was done for her, but over in the sun bright clime four beautiful white hands were beckoning her to come, so just before she died she seemed to rally and said "He is coming" There He comes! and her face shined with a heavenly smile of triumph as she slipped out to be with them forevermore.

Her pain was great but her relief was sweet, and while hearts were torn and bleeding at every pore, when she heard the splashing of the oars and went over with the boatman, the sigh of relief and resignation was beautiful. Some sweet day we will meet again. We know where to find her.

She was a dutiful child and a loving sister. Self sacrificing for their happiness. She was a Methodist and belonged to the church at Salem, Ky., from which church she was named the sermon being preached by her pastor, Rev. Woodman. She was buried beside her mother and sister, Hattie, who had preceded her to the grave.

She had many friends everywhere she was known and they all regretted to give her up, but there is an end to all things earthly and the time of parting will surely come for us all, so let us be ready to meet her and the rest of those whom we love who have gone before. B. A. B.

the proof is positive. You must believe it. Read this testimony. Every backache sufferer, every man, woman and child with any kidney trouble will find profit in the reading.

A. H. Fritts, living on Depot St., Marion, Ky., says: "I know Doan's Kidney Pills to be a most effective and thoroughly reliable kidney remedy, and I think them unequalled for the purposes for which they are intended. For some time I had an acute lameness in my back commonly called "erick" which caught me when arising from a stooping position. The kidney secretions were exceedingly irregular and I felt miserable. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured at Haynes & Taylor's drug store, were prompt in relieving me of all these annoyances, and I have no hesitancy in giving this remedy my highest endorsement."

THE POWER OF CONFIDENCE.

A man's achievement can never rise higher than his confidence.

Every time you acknowledge weakness, deficiency or lack of ability or of opportunity, or harbor doubt, you weaken the very foundation, the very possibility, of achievement.

You might as well expect to get over the Alps by sitting down, declaring the undertaking too great for you, that you can never accomplish it, that you are afraid of the avalanches and of getting lost, as to hope to attain success in life while holding the doubts and fears of your ability to do what you undertake.

To allow yourself to admit that you are inferior to any emergency confronting you is to invite defeat. The moment you harbor a doubt of your ability that moment you capitulate.

The positive man may have some unpleasant qualities, but he is the man wanted everywhere. He who is fearless, with conviction born of the confidence of strength, is the one trusted to achieve in every line of endeavor.

The world stands aside for the man who has a fixed purpose, a mission, a calling to do that which he feels a throbbing compulsion within him to do.

One of the best ways to strengthen character and develop stamina generally is to assume the part you wish to play, to stoutly assert the possession of what you desire to have to insistently affirm that you are what you wish to be.

No man achieves anything worthy until he learns the power of confidence—his that he can accomplish what he will be strong enough and long enough.

She Likes Good Things.

Mrs. Chas. E. Smith, of West Franklin, Maine, says: "I like good things and have adopted Dr. King's New Life Pills as our family laxative medicine, because they are good and do their work without making a fuss about it." Spanked by The Night Riders.

Falmouth, Ky., July 30.—J. S. Merrill, a farmer of near McAnneysburg, was visited by "night riders" and a quantity of tobacco belonging to Jefferson Browning, a tenant, was taken to the pike and burned. Mr. Merrill was called from his home at midnight and spanked by one of his six visitors, who used the palm of his hand. He was told that if he did not cause the rest of this tobacco to be pooled it would be burned.

In Memoriam.

Bertha and Beatrice Bowers in the subject of this sketch their little but it empty, their sweet voice is still, and their places at home is vacant and empty to be filled.

They for nine short months their infant souls were given, then they had farewell to us and went to him to be born.

Little blossoms were given to us, For just a short time, And God thought it best to transplant them.

In the heavenly clime, Dearest babies from us you have gone, Your faces no more we can see, But in that sweet home, Some day we shall see thee.

We miss them Oh we miss them, And our lives are sad and lone, But we know that we can meet them, Around God's heavenly throne.

I know for God has told me this, That we shall see our babies, Their father dear and I, When God for aye shall wipe away, All tears from heavy eyes.

Wisdom of an Empiricist.

A forced apology is worse than none at all.

Motto of the confidence man: "Watch and prey."

When a man is in the right he can afford to await his turn.

Too many men pray for the things they are too lazy to work for.

A man boasts of his bad habits only when they are the best he has. Most men who are willing to do good are not in a position to make good. What this country needs is less enactment of laws and more enforcement.

Some men can argue a point for a half day without offering one good reason.

Happiness has been described in so many different ways that a number of people have doubts as to its existence.

Once in a great while you encounter a man who works more than he ought to, but the average man doesn't do half as much as he is capable of doing. Chicago News.

Easy Confinement

If you have cause to fear the pangs of childbirth, remember that they are due to weakness, or disease, of the womanly organs, and that healthy women do not suffer, like weak ones.

The specific, medicinal, vegetable ingredients, of which that famous, female medicine and womanly tonic

WINE OF CARDUI

is composed, will build up the womanly organs to a healthy state and thus prevent needless suffering.

"Before my confinement," writes Mrs. Rose Schubarth, of Monument, Colo., "I had such bearing-down pains I didn't know what to do. Cardui quickly relieved me. Some months later I had a fine 12-lb. baby, was sick only thirty minutes, and did not even have a doctor."
