Announcements.

We are authorized to announce Judge THOS. J. NUNN, as a candidate for Appellate Judge of this, the First Appellate Court District, subject to the action of the Democratic Party, Primary, first Tuesday in November, 1909.

The Oracle at Dawson will be sold for debt on Sept. 28th. It takes money to run a newspaper.

A minute report of the Institute will appear in Tuesday's issue of the Record-Press. All desiring extra copies will call during the week, and let the fact be known.

What is the matter with the candidates for the various offices of Crittenden county. As yet there has been no announcement, and surely they do not mean to make the race without announcing.

Ice is not only a luxury, but a necessity during the hot months of the year. Do without everything you can, but don't deprive your family of ice. The families who use it have less sickness than those who do not, and the $1.50 to $3.00 a month is buying health much cheaper than going to a doctor for it. Water is not good in summer without ice. Buy it and be healthy and happy. You buy ice after you get sick, so why not buy it and avoid the sickness.

Good bread has much more to do in making home pleasant than any one thing can and it takes good flour to make good bread. We are glad to say this flour is made by the Marion Milling Co., your mill, and you should be proud of them. They absolutely put out the best flour we ever saw. Don't think you are compelled to go from home to get good flour, when you have the best at your own door and besides a home enterprise. This is no paid editorial but just a desire on the part of the Editor to remind the people of Crittenden and surrounding counties of what we have in Marion. Candidly the first thing I fell in love with when I came to Marion was the pretty women and the first thing my wife fell in love with was the flour and now since she is here I agree with her.

PART OF GAME.

Not many of our readers are likely to be deceived by the accounts that are appearing every few days in certain Louisville papers failures and evils of local option in various towns and counties in Kentucky. It is known that a worker on the staff of these papers is assigned to the job of discrediting the cause of prohibition and of all efforts to eliminate the saloon. The accounts to purport to come from the various towns. It is doubtful whether the correspondent goes to these towns, and if he does it is for the definite purpose of spreading and fixing facts that will make it appear that the saloon is needed to save a town! The man is paid to do this and his pay depends upon the showing he makes.

No one who is informed will be deceived by such tricks. It may be well enough to recall that the Courier-Journal has pretended to favor local option which it is now trying to discredit.

The desperation, the mortal fear, that has seized the forces that back the saloon in Kentucky is every encouraging. They seem to have lost the sense of decency and to have cast caution to the winds. They are very long on figures and very short on facts. Their most gifted advocate entertains us all—when his irreverence and blasphemy do not shock us—by the skill which he conceals impotence of argument behind eloquence of phrase. It is most gratifying to find how generally the "rural press" stands for the progress of the campaign against saloons. These papers might have money for supporting the cause of the saloon but they prefer to serve the cause of righteousness and temperance. The city press may try to bluff and ridicule but it is evident enough that the country editor has his city contemporary on the defensive. And not by any means do all the city papers serve the saloon.

It is a good day in Kentucky, a day for courage and hope, for winning work against this giant evil.—Baptist World.

This is not the first occasion, neither will it be the last, in which the country press has wrought the utter rout and discomfiture of the city newspapers. As a general rule, the country editor is reasonably honest, reasonably intelligent and reasonably true to his convictions. He frequently makes mistakes—but they are honest ones. The compliment of the Baptist World is neither ill-timed nor misplaced—for about all a country editor receives in this world is occasional praise and a steady stream of criticism.—Glasgow Times.

Ames! Mr. Watterson, one of the greatest and brightest men of his age and editor of the leading political paper of the United States, is trying to lead the Democrats to victory and the people of Kentucky to—! In his stand for the saloon. But the people of Kentucky are aroused and for a certainty, the man or politician favoring the saloon interest against the interest of the overwhelming majority of the great common people, will be forced to take his seat in the rear.

THE FRAZER FAMILY OF NEAR DALTON, KENTUCKY.

Realizing that they had been blessed to the limit of God's goodness in the gift of twelve children all living and all highly respected men and women who with their respected parents appear in the above picture the proud father and mother concluded for once since their birth to have them home at a family reunion, which took place at their home near Dalton, Ky., July 11th, 1909, when the above picture was made. Surely there are few parents in Kentucky so fortunate as to rear to noble man and womanhood, an even dozen children to call them blessed. The reunion was a happy and long-to-be-remembered one with every member present and in splendid health.

They were, from left to right, bottom row, Annie L. born Nov. 12th, 1871; Lizzie O. born Jan. 6th, 1878, the father, Thos. A. Frazer, born Jan. 22nd, 1835; the mother, Mary J. Frazer, born March 24th, 1840; Kitty H. born June 11th, 1883; and Mattie B. born Oct. 23rd, 1892.

born Jan. 1st, 1868; Dr. T. Atchison, a highly respected physician of Marion, and president of the board of health, born Nov. 12th, 1869; Isaac S. born Nov. 7th, 1871; Joe S. born Nov. 1875; Thos. A. born Nov. 18th, 1880; Wm. A. born July 3rd, 1884; Clifton R. born Oct. 19th, 1887; and Geo. P. born May 1st, 1890.

Three of the twelve children were born in January, 1 in May, 1 in July, 2 in October, and five in November. If there be a more remarkable coincidence than this in Kentucky let their pictures appear.

Citizens Life Insurance Company.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 24th, 09.

Record-Press, Marion, Ky.

Dear Sir—I am pleased to advise you that the total amount of book subscriptions received at the close of this bulletin was $334,740.

I am in receipt of a letter from Mr. Helm Bruce, General Counsel of the Citizens Life Insurance Company, who is traveling with Mrs. Bruce in the far West. While his letter is personal, there is one paragraph which I would like to quote as follows:

"One day I was standing at a little railroad station (Lagran) on the Canadian Pacific when I fell into a chance conversation with a man who turned out to be from Oklahoma, and when he learned I was from Louisville, the first question he asked me was, 'How about that big life insurance company that the Citizens Life people are farming?' Of course I told him what was being done. It sounded very strange to hear such a question way up in the Canadian Rockies."

I predict that the time is not far distant when not only the people of the far West but other sections of the country are going to take an interest in the Citizens' National, like the people of Kentucky and the South are now doing.

Fourth Killing in Henderson.

Henderson, Ky., Aug. 22.

The fourth killing within a few days here was recorded Sunday, when Jeff Watson was shot through the head and killed, and Henry Hall is under arrest charged with the shooting.

Hall is 22 years of age. He had attended an ice cream social in the country with his father. Watson had been drinking and knocked a man down. The elder Hall criticized him, and then Watson then knocked Hall down. Hardly did Hall touch the ground until a pistol shot rang out and Watson toppled over dead, with a pile of ball hair clear through his head. Young Hall was placed in jail and denies the shooting. The coroner's jury held that the killing was not justified.

There have been four murders in Henderson within a few days, and a number of shootings where the victims almost died from the wounds. It is the worst reign of lawlessness that the city has known for years and the city is thoroughly aroused and anxious to do something to check the reign of crime.

Will you kindly note the fact that the most killings and the most lawlessness is where the most whisky is sold.

FOR SALE.—A new, 4-room cottage in Marion on West Depot st. Large lot, good cistern and all nee-cessary improvements. This property will be sold at a bargain.—T. J. Halloran.
