JUST A WORD PLEASE.

E. Jeffrey Travis has a splendid record as superintendent of Schools in Crittenden County Kentucky.

July 13th., 1911, Mr. Ellsworth Regenstein, then the Superintendent of Public Instruction wrote Mr. Travis: "I like your plan of having all your schools begin at the same time. It is desirable that they continue in session without interruption and close at the same time."

July 27th., 1911, Mr. H. H. Cherry, President of the State Normal School at Bowling Green Kentucky wrote Mr. Travis: "I do not want to pay you doubtful a compliment; but must say with great enthusiasm, that I have never seen a higher expression of interest nor a more aggressive or patriotic interest than you are manifesting in the performance of your official duties. I congratulate you upon your success in this connection."

September 24th., 1912, Mr. T. J. Coates, Supervisor of Rural Schools wrote to Superintendent Travis: "Permit me to congratulate you upon the plan that you are forming for the improvement of your schools."

It was an old custom for the schools of Crittenden County to begin at any time when it best suited the convenience to teacher or trustee. They would begin any time from the third week in July to the second week in September. The Teachers Institute would come on after some of the schools had been going from one to three weeks, while others had not started. The teacher of each school mapped out his own programme of study, if he had any. There was no concerted action of Crittenden County teachers. Now the Teachers' Institute is held before any school begins and they all begin at the same time.

We have now in Crittenden County a daily programme that each teacher is supposed to follow. We have a course of study in the hands of each teacher with instructions how to use it. Each teacher is furnished every month with a printed list of examination questions based upon the work as outlined by this course of study. Crittenden is the only County in the state that does this. These educational improvements have been working and growing for the past three years.

Now For Some of The Results.

Results as shown in the graduation of Rural District pupils from the common schools:

In 1910 (the first year)	there were 8
" 1911 (the second year)	" " 32
" 1912 (the third year)	" " 41
" 1913	there will be still more.

Results as shown in number of pupils in County High School
In 1910 there was in the County High School 1 pupil
" 1911 " were " " " " 9 pupils
" 1912 " " " " " " " 19 " " " " " " " " 30 "

Results as shown in School Attendance in Crittenden County
In 1910 School attendance for the county was over 1,300.
" 1912 " " " " " " " " 2,000

Prior to 1910 there were several districts that had only three months or no school at all. Since 1910 there has been a full six months term taught in every school house in the county.

Since 1910 there has been no money returned to the state; but all has been used in the County for the Schools.

In 1912 there were 39 Trustees who attended the County Teachers Institute on "Trustee Day."

In 1913 the attendance was 50, a thing unheard of before.

These are a few of the plans and improvements for the benefit of our schools put into force and operation by Mr. Travis the present County Superintendent. He has had 17 years experience in successful teaching in Rural Schools and four years experience in the office of County Superintendent. The School interest was never greater in Crittenden County before.

Prof. W. J. Craig of Bowling Green State University says: "I was very agreeably surprised in Crittenden County. The school interest of that County is easily 20 per cent greater than in any other over the whole state."

JOHN T. PICKENS,
CHAIRMAN REPUBLICAN COUNTY COMMITTEE.
