

OUR REDPATH

CHAUTAUQUA

Was a Great Success, and Everybody Greatly Pleased With The Fine Program.

The Redpath Chautauqua which spent such a delightful week with us, beginning Friday June 23rd and ending June 30th folded their tents silently and like the Arab stole away Friday night after Madame Claussen's performance. The earliest risers Saturday morning could find no trace of the vast tent or any of the Redpath property on the lot so recently enlivened by their speakers, singers and musicians.

The engagement here was highly satisfactory and the management especially pleasing. The Superintendent, Rev. H. N. Barbee of Mayfield was the right man in the right place and won a warm place in the hearts of our people and to him much credit is due for the 1917 engagement of the Redpath Chautauqua for Marion. The gate men and all the attaches were polite and affable, and were courteous in their department with all patrons or others who came in contact with them.

Now as to the attractions there was no complaint. The morning lecturer, Mr. W. B. Amsbury and the children's worker, Miss Elsie Cummings, were both up to the former standard in quality if not in number of their appearances.

Friday afternoon and evening the Killarney Girls entertained the crowd under most trying conditions as a flood second only to Noah's fell during the day which prevented many from hearing Mr. Wm. Rainey Bennett although everyone who heard him on a previous engagement wished to have that pleasure again. Weatherwax brothers who were pleasantly remembered having appeared here on the Lyceum Bureau a few years ago, were given an enthusiastic reception Saturday afternoon and evening.

Monday afternoon's attraction was Ng Poon Chew, the Chinese statesman and scholar, whose "New Orient and its relation to us," was much appreciated.

The Pariah Players were encored frequently and by many their entertainment was awarded first place in the entire program for genuine pleasure. The Schuman Quintette Tuesday afternoon and evening was good and they were encored. And the White Hussars were a winning number drawing big crowds to both their engagements. Ernest Harold Baynes' lecture on "My Wild Bird Friends," was one of the best attractions of the Chautauqua, and as a result we are to have a bird club in Marion. The Bird Masque Sanctuary Thursday evening was a taking number, and was complimented by many who enjoyed the rendition. One enjoyable feature was the participation in the play of thirty-six local young people.

Friday afternoon was looked forward to with much pleasure by all who remembered Dr. E. T. Hagerman, a star attraction at a previous Chautauqua. His lecture, "The World We Live In," should make all prepared to enjoy and appreciate the world we do live in.

Probably Prima Donna Claussen was boomed too much, or probably some of our folks are unable to appreciate such high class work as she does assisted by Pierre Henrotte and Marcel Charlier, for if we are not mistaken any of the numbers given on previous dates were enjoyed fully as much. However we should remember her place was the most trying and exacting one as her audience, after a week of entertainment was too critical, and to, many may have enjoyed it, whom we did not hear express themselves. Suffice it is to say that the Chautauqua as a whole was pleasing to our people as evidenced by the hearty manner in which they responded to John W. Wilson's solicitations for subscriptions and guarantors for 1917. The number he obtained being double that of any previous season. So now we all look forward with pleasurable anticipations to the 1917 Chautauqua, the exact date will be made known through these columns in due time. It is to the credit of our business men that we can secure a $1750 attraction and that next year there is to be a Crittenden county day, when tickets of admission will be given to several hundred young and worthy Crittenden counties, under some plan of which we are not yet advised by the local Committee.

An Evansville Man Weds One of Crittenden's Fair Daughters.

Wednesday June 28th Mr. Wm Edwards, of Evansville, Ind., came to Marion on the 9:45 train and after procuring the necessary papers was united in marriage to Miss Nonie Horning in the parlor of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Worley on Court Street.

Rev. U. G. Hughes officiating. While the groom is a stranger to us he is a man of fine appearance and we trust the bride has been fortunate in winning his heart and hand. He is engaged in the mercantile business in his city.

The bride is one of the charming daughter of George Horning of the Crittenden Springs community. She is an accomplished young lady and will grace the home of him who was so fortunate as to win her. They left on the evening train for their future home in Evansville.

We wish them much joy, happiness and success through life.

Madame Julia Claussen.

Madame Julia Claussen, her husband, her daughters, Pierre Henrotte her violinist his wife and daughter, Marcel Charlier her pianist, and Miss Wood the Governess of the Misses Claussen, and Mr. Hudson the manager of transportation, a total of ten people were quite a distinguished party stopping in our city last Friday.

They traveled in a private car which was pretty hot when sidetracked in the R. R. yards in the sun and they appreciated and enjoyed the hospitable shade and beautiful lawn at the Baker home near the station and were given a hearty welcome there, by the little Mistress of the home, Miss Gladys Baker.

To show their appreciation Miss Gladys was given several automobile rides about the city, "showing the visitors the sights" and she was invited to be a member of their party at the performance that evening at Chautauqua tent. Everyone should be kind to strangers, it is never forgotten, but on the contrary is remembered and appreciated by all people of refinement.

LOYD'S BRAIN LEAKS

Ed Baker says you can't make the young folks believe it but it is about a million times easier to get married than it is to stay married.

Newt Dollar says if some women were not dressed that way you would never be able to guess that they were in mourning.

Uncle Billie Loyd says a man always talks too much during his courtship but he never realized the fact until after he is married.

Miss Vina Harper who is a good cook always snorts with indignation when she sees a cooking school graduate weigh and measure everything she puts into what she is going to prepare.

Mrs. Albert Elder said to Mrs. Duer my husband says I've made another man out of him. You'd better look out or the first thing you know he'll be looking around for another man's wife.

He had been courting the girl for a long time. It happened on Sunday night after church. They were sitting on the back porch and she looked with ineffable tenderness into his noble blue eyes. Tom she murmured, didn't you tell me once that you would be willing to do any act of heroism for my sake. Yes Mattie, I would gladly repeat the statement now, he replied. Well Tom I want you to do something really heroic for me. Speak on darling what is it? Ask me to be your wife, we've been fooling long enough.

Uncle Tom Carlton says I never knew but one man who never told a lie to his wife. He was a bachelor.

Ed Baker says, the man who has a small salary and a big family has as much trouble making both ends meet as a puppy does when he is chasing his own tail.

Big Storm Here Monday

Monday afternoon there was a downpour of rain accompanied by wind, thunder and lightning and hail. The extreme heat was almost unbearable and the mercury which had soared up in the 90s for several days took a tumble so that Monday night and since then the weather has been quite pleasant. The hail which fell here soon melted but was as large as the end of ones fore finger.

Ed Sims, Col. Killed.

At Kuttawa last Wednesday afternoon Green Griffith, a negro of that place, shot and killed Ed Sims, a negro of this city. The shooting occurred about 4 o'clock and Sims only lived about two hours.

The facts in the case are about as follows: Griffith, who works at a livery stable there upon going to his home found his daughter and Sims in a room with the door locked and called on them to unlock the door and let him in, but failing to receive any response, entered the room through a window, and picked up a shotgun that was in the room and shot Sims in the forehead, tearing away the top of his head.

Griffith is 49 years old while Sims was 19. Sims was buried here Friday afternoon.—Leader.

NEW HARDWARE FIRM

R. E. Flanary Buys Interest of John A. Moore.

By a deal which was consummated this week, the firm of Moore & Daughtrey becomes Flanary & Daughtrey. Mr. John A. Moore selling his interest to Mr. R. E. Flanary.

The inventory has been taken and the deal closed. We have not heard what Mr. Moore will do, but he probably will resume the practice of law.

The firm is composed of two of our most successful farmers, both self-made men, who have put in an apprenticeship at farming and know the needs of Crittenden county farmers and are amply able financially to take care of all the trade which will favor them with patronage.

The new member of the firm is well known to most every man in the county, having been born and reared near Crittenden Springs and having resided here many years in the old Blue homestead which is his property.

Mr. Daughtrey lives in his own property purchased recently of J. B. Kevil, on East Depot street.

Double Taxation Scored.

Ashland, Ky. July 1.—The Kentucky Tax Commission met citizens of Ashland at the Elks Home yesterday afternoon to discuss the important question of taxation. Senator Hite H. Huffaker, of Louisville, as chairman of the commission, presided. T. M. Adams, president of the Norton Iron Works, made the attack on the double taxation system in the strongest terms and said the Kentucky tax on foreign corporations was a two edged sword. It cuts right and left, he said; it drives capitol from the state. Present at this meeting were Senator Hite H. Huffaker, of Louisville; Senator S. R. Glenn Eddyville; Senator H. M. Brock, Harlan; F. T. Gardner, Bardwell; G. L. Pickett, Shelbyville; R. B. Hutchcraft, Paris; Clarence E. Walker Louisville.

Julius Fohs Makes Valuable Donation to Kendal College.

Mr. David B. Fohs shipped this week forty-six cases of rocks, the rock and fossil collection of his brother, Mr. Julius F. Fohs of Tulsa, Okla., which will be donated to Kendall College at that place, of which Prof. Chas. Evans is at the head. The collection will be known as the "Fohs Collection" and contains many rare specimens, and mostly from Crittenden county mines.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

The Bonds Were Voted In Last Saturday Afternoon, By a Vote of 239 to Eight.

In the election held last Saturday to vote $10,000 to pay for the city's part on the new consolidated High School which is to be built and controlled by the county and town, there were 247 votes cast—239 for the new building (and a better Marion and Crittenden county) and 8 against it. The vote as cast Saturday shows how nearly the people of Marion stand as one when issues which have to do with a better town and county are before them.

The people of Marion are proud of their school and in the election Saturday it seemed that most of the parents of Marion were glad to have an opportunity of voting an extra tax upon themselves in order that their children, and the other children of the county may have the chance to get an education.

The location for the new building will be determined soon and work will begin at once on this building which will be one of the most up-to-date in this part of the state. The school management has been very much embarrassed for the last few months, because with the room and equipment of the old building they would be unable to take more pupils in High School. By voting the bonds necessary, the school will be able to care for all who wish to enter school in September. Mr. Christian and Mr. Franklin both wear a smile that won't come off because they realize now that they will be able to care for the many deservng young men and women who have been asking for tuition in the Marion High School. An extra teacher will be added to the High School Faculty this year.

Resents The Introduction of an Automobile into the Family.

One of the most pathetic deaths to occur in Marion this season was that of "Don" Boston on Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock in the grass lot in the rear of his master's mansion. "Don" was the name of the gray buggy horse used for many years by the Bostonians and he was a pet and never given very hard tasks. He sulked considerably last week when Miss Susie was seen to pass him in a "New Maxwell" and grew perceptibly worse when Ted and Maurie spinned by him without speaking. The climax of his troubles came Tuesday when he saw the boss himself cautiously driving the car out Bellville street. "Don" went to the rear of the lot, whirled around a few times and fell over. Altho attended promptly by the best veterinarian in the city he refused to rise and soon breathed his last.
