

"WE MUST WIN THIS WAR"

Should Be Our Slogan.—The Housewives Must Do Their Part And do it Well

Women in time of war as well as in time of peace have done their part in the worlds work. During this great crisis there will be more work for them than ever before.

In the past women have shown as much initiative as have men, and the annals of history records many brilliant achievements of the women who have made this world better by their having lived.

Betsy Ross made the first American flag and we love that flag, we will all fight for it, and for the principles that it stands for.

Florence Nightingale the best loved and most useful woman who has ever lived went upon the battle field during the Crimean war and nursed and cared for the sick and wounded soldiers. She was the first woman to practice the profession of nursing. In fact she originated this the noblest of all professions and now where ever the soldier goes the nurse goes to do her bit in the alleviation of suffering and hardship.

Jenny Lind charmed the world with her wonderful voice and did her bit to make mankind happier and better.

Clara Barton was the founder of the Red Cross and has made her name worthy of a place in the Halls of Fame. Where a great calamity befalls mankind the Red Cross is there to help, to do their part in the care of the injured and the establishment of order.

There are so many women who have distinguished themselves in the world work that we can only mention a few of the most prominent.

We have got the world to feed and the housewife rules like a monarch when it comes to feeding the average man. The nearest route to a mans heart is by the stomach, and most women know this and make use of this knowledge.

The food that is wasted is mostly wasted by way of the kitchen, and if this waste is to be checked, it must be checked in the kitchen. Herbert C. Hoover our great food expert has issued an appeal to the housewives of our country to save all they can and we are sure this appeal will be heeded by most women. We would not advise women to leave off all social gatherings where good things are served to eat, but they should see that nothing is wasted while entertaining their friends.

The time may come before this war is over when it will be necessary for a large number of our women to go to the field and do the work that the men are now doing. Let them begin now and try to prevent such drudgery as the women of Europe are now experiencing.

Garden seed for next years planting must mostly be saved by women. So it behooves every woman to begin now, learn to save every thing that is worth while to save.

See that nothing is wasted that can be feed to man or beast. Make your arrangements to can and dry all surplus fruit and vegetables. Call on this council, call on Mr. Bird and his good wife for advise, and we will do the best we can for you.

It is our mission to help the people of Crittenden and there by do our bit to win this war. Think of these things seriously, but work while you think, and we will get results.

Taylor-Newman Debate

There will be a public oral debate between Elder H. B. Taylor of Murray, Ky., and Rev. T. C. Newman, of Marion, Ky., to take place at Sugar Grove, Ky., church, July 3rd 1917 continuing for four days, two sessions a day of two hours each from 9:30 in the forenoon to 11:30 and from 2:30 in the afternoon until 4:30 of each on the following propositions:

1st. The Holy Scriptures teach, that the Lord Jesus Christ, did organize or establish a church during the days of his earthly ministry, and that church was a Missionary Baptist church.

Taylor affirms, Newman denies.

Newman Affirms, Taylor Denies.
3rd. The Holy Scriptures teach, that the Baptism of saved persons by Immersion in water, upon the authority of a Missionary Baptist Church is the only Scriptural Baptism to-day.

Taylor Affirms, Newman Denies.
4th. The Holy Scriptures teach that sprinkling or pouring of water on the forehead of a proper subject, by a proper administrator in the name of the Trinity, constitutes the proper mode of water Baptism.

REDPATH CHAUTAUQUA BEGAN HERE WEDNESDAY JUNE 20.

An Elaborate Program is Booked And Prospects Are Brighter Than Ever Before For The Success This Year And Assurance Next Year For These Rare and Grand Treats

CREATORE'S BAND IS BIG FEATURE

The Big Redpath Chautauqua which opened here Wednesday afternoon for seven days, will present the best balanced program ever offered by the Redpath bureau. The Chautauqua management always strives to offer attractions which will please generally. This year this aim has been wonderfully achieved.

The Boyd lot was found too small to hold the tent and the Finley corner lot was chosen.

Mr. R. A. Parsons, the clever and hustling advance man of the big show, has been in the city several days and will remain here until the chautauqua begins. He is boosting the chautauqua with more enthusiasm than usual and declares the program this year is the best Redpath has ever put out, which is saying much.

I. AFTERNOON AND EVENING.

The Bohemian orchestra will appear the 1st., afternoon and evening. The program on the first night is featured by the lecture of Dr. Marlin D. Hardin on "America and the World of Tomorrow." Dr. Hardin is the son of P. Watt Hardin, for several years attorney general of Kentucky.

Dr. Hardin's lecture is something which every person should hear. It deals with the present war situation and goes into the question of America and the years that are coming. What will America do? Will she be able to democratize Europe or will Europe militarize America.

Dr. Hardin is a forceful talker and will propound many questions which will make his hearers think. This lecture is calculated to make better Americans and better citizens of every one.

II. AFTERNOON AND EVENING.

The Beulah Buck Ladies Quartette is the musical attraction. Gatling Gun Fogleman is another headliner. His lecture comes the second night of the Chautauqua. Mr. Fogleman is an efficiency expert, who has made a success in business. He has taught more men to sell than any other man in the United States. He will talk on "Success and Failure in Business," and every one directly or indirectly interested in business should attend, for Mr. Fogleman not only has something worth while to say, but he knows how to say it.

He is called "Gatling Gun" Fogleman because he frequently reaches a speed of 350 words a minute in delivering his verbal shot.

III. AFTERNOON.

Oratorio Artists Lecture Moonshine. B. F. McDonald Newark, Ohio.

FRIDAY NIGHT.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

Antonio Sala, Spanish Cellist and Artists. The Indian Princess Watahwaso is a real Indian princess, the daughter of a chief of the Penobscot Indians. She was born on Indian Island, off Maine, and there lived until she was taken to Boston to be educated by a Cambridge professor, who took a kindly interest in her and her family. Watahwaso is called the Indian prima donna and she deserves the title. She presents a program of Indian songs, legends and dances, and her vivacity and splendid voice make her one of the Chautauqua season's favorites. This is her first appearance in the South.

SATURDAY EVENING.

Marie Mayer, Magdalene of the Passion Play, is a Redpath attraction of interest. Her talk on the Passion Play, in which she herself was a principal actor, is authentic and compelling.

MONDAY AFTERNOON AND EVENING.

Gilbert and Sullivan Opera Company.

Light Opera "The Mikado," Monday Evening.

Another great musical offering this season is "The Mikado," which is given by the Chicago Light Opera Company, an all star cast of thirty stars, carrying a special baggage car of over one hundred pieces of scenery. The company includes many of the members of the Chicago Grand Opera Company.

"The Mikado" is a wonderful sensation in Chautauqua this year. The stage setting is splendid and the lighting most suitable. It was a great question to many at first as how "The Mikado" could be given an adequate setting on the Chautauqua platform. The problem was handed over to Hosman & Landis of Chicago, and it was more than solved.

The unanimous verdict of the newspapers in the Chautauqua cities this season has been that "The Mikado" scenery is wonderful. Redpath was doubly fortunate in securing for "The Mikado" two such artists as Ed Andrews and Arthur Aldridge. Mr. Andrews sings the part of Ko-Ko, a role which he has taken over 1,200 times. There is no doubt but what he is the greatest Ko-Ko of the generation. Arthur Aldridge starred with DeWolf Hopper in the recent stellar revival of "The Mikado" in New York City.

Never before has Redpath attempted such a big production. A mark has been set which every one who sees "The Mikado" will say is very high.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON.

"How to meet the high cost of living." By George L. McNutt of New York City.

TUESDAY NIGHT.

The above are a few of the attractions for the grown-ups. It must not be forgotten that the Chautauqua has something for the kiddies in the Mother Goose festival. This festival is the culmination of the children's hour work for the week. It comes on Tuesday night and is participated in by about 150 of the brightest children of the city. It will be a treat to the children, and will be immensely enjoyed by the older people.

Great War Lecturer Tuesday Night.

LIEUT. ROBERT BOWMAN

As has been announced before a special attraction will be the great war lecture of Robert Bowman, who comes direct from the French front at Verdun. Too much emphasis cannot be laid upon the extraordinary authenticity of the talk by Mr. Bowman who received the cross of the legion of honor in this war with the gold star from the French government as a reward for conspicuous bravery at Verdun, an honor which is the highest ever conferred upon any foreign non-combatant by the French.

WEDNESDAY

Afternoon and Evening Creatore and His Band.

For those who are interested in things musical, the coming of the great Creatore and his band will be a splendid treat. Signor Creatore is known everywhere as a bandmaster of genius and his tour with the chautauqua this season is winning for him and his bandmen a wonderful reception. Band day is the last of the seven big days, and on this day the tent is sure to be crowded to overflowing for both the afternoon and evening performances. Creatore has won special renown for his vital method of conducting. He is a cyclone of energy and he imparts to his band an artist which is peculiar to this great Italian.

Galen Dixon New Studebaker Wrecked Saturday Afternoon.

When Galen Dixon, Will Clifton started for a drive with Garth Mayes colored, at the wheel, the car slipped on the freshly oiled streets or the chauffer lost control, and ran it into the iron columns supporting the shed on the McConnell corner next to the Marion Opera House knocking two of the supports out and demolishing two wheels of the car and otherwise injuring it. Fortunately none of the occupants was hurt. The damages to the car are such as to necessitate the sending of it to the factory for repairs which will require probably a month.
