COLUMBIA, ADAIR COUNTY, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1916.

NUMBER 6

A Sad Death.

The people of Columbia were greatly surprised and grieved last Wednesday when the news reached here that Mrs. Flossie Richardson, wife of Hugh Richardson, had just died in Augusta, Kansas, where she and her husband located about two years ago. Before going to Kansas Mr. Richardson was a citizen of Columbia, where he was in business for several years.

The deceased was 28 years old and was a member of the Baptist Church, this place.

Her maiden name was Pulliam and she was born and reared in Cumberland county. Her remains reached here Friday afternoon, accompanied by her husband and on Saturday were conveyed to her old home.

The deceased was in fairly good health until seven weeks ago at which time a baby was born, and after the birth of the infant complications set up which resulted in her death.

Besides the husband three children are left. This is a sad dispensation of providence. May God comfort the husband and little ones.

This town deeply feels for those who have been so sorely bereft.

Monticello Wins.

On Wednesday before Thanksgiving the basket ball team of the Columbia Graded and High School journeyed to Monticello where they met, Thursday evening, the High School team of that place in the popular game. A large crowd witnessed the contest, and "rooting" was lively. The Columbia aggregation did the best it could, but it was not strong enough to win the fight. The result terminated as follows: Monticello, 38; Columbia, 12.

Mrs. Elizabeth Grove, who was the widow of the late Jordan Grove, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Estes, Lebanon, Sunday night of last week. She was 71 years old and was a native of Green county. Mrs. Estes, before her marriage, was Miss Ida Grove, and she was educated in Columbia.

Democratic committeemen for the fifteen precincts in Adair county were chosen last Saturday, as we understand. In nearly all the precincts the old member was re-elected. In East Columbia J. B. Coffey was chosen to succeed Philetus Dunbar.

The foot ball game at the Lindsey-Wilson, Thanksgiving, resulted in a victory for this year's team, the score being 20 to 13. The losing team made up the eleven last year with one player missing, David Dulworth.

Rev. J. S. Chandler, pastor of the Campbellsville M. E. Church South, will preach at the Methodist church, this place, the fifth Sunday forenoon in this month. Every body cordially invited.

Mr. Geo. H. Nell has purchased the Goodman residence, a few blocks north of the square, for $1,000. His son, Guy, will occupy it.

Messrs J. N. Coffey, J. P. Dohoney, Sr., and N. M. Tutt are now supervising the town list, as returned by the Assessor.

For Sheriff.

Elsewhere in to-day's News the announcement of Mr. Clyde Crenshaw's candidacy for Sheriff of Adair county appears. He is before the Democrats of the county, subject to the action of members of said party as expressed at the August primary, 1917. Mr. Crenshaw has been deputy sheriff under Mr. S. H. Mitchell for three years and has made a very efficient officer. He has done more riding than any other attaché of the office, and there is not a doubt but he has so conducted himself as to merit favorable expressions that are daily coming to his ears. He is a young man, active, and has been ever ready to do his duty. He is perfectly familiar with the duties of the office, and he promises, should he be nominated and elected, to devote his whole attention to it. He feels that he could please the entire county as High Sheriff and he is anxious to serve in that capacity for four years. Before the primary Mr. Crenshaw will make it a point to visit every locality in Adair, and present his claims in person, and in the meantime he asks a favorable consideration of his candidacy. He is in fine health and only the dispensation of providence will prevent him from meeting all his friends before the August primary.

Death of a Good Citizen.

Last Wednesday morning Mr. W. P. Salmon, who lived in the Bliss community, died after a short illness. He was one of Adair's best citizens, a Christian gentleman, having been a devoted member of the Presbyterian Church for many years. He was also an excellent neighbor, and his passing leaves a vacancy that will be hard to fill. His family who was very devoted to him sustains the greatest loss, and the sympathy of the entire neighborhood is with the sorrowing wife and children. The funeral was largely attended. The deceased was about seventy-two years old, and had resided in Adair county a number of years.

Mrs. Nannie Flowers anniversary arrived the latter part of November and the occasion was duly celebrated, the "big" dinner being a surprise to her. The cook had been advised by Mrs. Flowers' daughters in-law not to cook dinner, but let her movements appear that she was busy in the cook room, and they would do the rest. At the proper time they all arrived with well-filled baskets, and very soon a magnificent dinner was spread. After the meal several hours were spent in social enjoyment.

I have a few more Ladies and children's coats that I will sell at cost. T. E. Waggener. 6-2t

Rev. L. F. Piercy, pastor of the Methodist Church, preached the Thanksgiving sermon to a large congregation, at the Christian church, last Thursday. Every thing he said was appropriate and told in a very interesting manner. The sermon was largely complimented.

A barn that was owned by William Hancock, son of Elijah Hancock, near Cane Valley, was consumed by fire the first of last week. No stock in the building and very little provender. The loss is small.

Mr. J. R. Tutt, Jr., Milltown, had the misfortune to get his left arm broken, below the elbow, last Saturday.

Friday Evening's Concert.

The Self Culture Club of Columbia, made it possible for the people of the city to enjoy an entertainment of an unusually high character and enjoyable nature when they presented Friday evening at the Paramount Theater, Miss Bernice Wimberly violinist, and Miss Angela Sweeney, reader, from the Louisville Conservatory of Music.

Miss Wimberly displayed remarkable talent in her chosen art, that plus her charming manner could not and did not fail to delight each and every member of the appreciative audience.

Mrs. C. M. Russell, of our city, in her usual efficient manner accompanied Miss Wimberly.

Miss Sweeney fairly captivated the listeners and displayed her talent in rendering equally well, her numbers in various styles. Especially were her dialect studies charmingly given.

Under the direction of Mr. G. W. Lowe and Mr. Walter Sullivan a company of young men of Columbia, who are organized into a band, are now making good music. They have only been practicing a short time, but they have been before the public upon several occasions, delighting all Columbia with melodious strains from their instruments. A band puts life into a community, and as this company of young men have splendid tutors, we hope they will stay together, making the welkin ring as often as possible. In this connection we will state that the Lindsey-Wilson also has a brass band, composed of students of the institution. They are being instructed by Prof. Dan Schroer, who is a German musician and a very superior cornetist. This set of young students will soon be ready to show the public their advancement.

VIRGINIA BROOKS.

Comments on The Little Girl Next Door.

SERVICE TO NATION.

Virginia Brooks Washburn, the well-known Chicago social worker, says:

"This picture presents the problem of the girl drift in a manner so striking and effective as to make it of inestimable value in the campaign for morality."

"Every father, every mother should see it in order that they may recognize the cunning pitfalls that are set for the feet of young girls in a great city. Only those of us who have been in the thick of the battle against white slavery can appreciate how great a service to the nation has been rendered by the production of this picture." See it at Nell's Opera House Tuesday, Dec. 5th. 5-2t.

Big Money Made in Buckwheat Crop.

Somerset, Ky., Nov. 23.—In the Science Hill section of Pulaski county, covering an area of a few small miles, the farmers raised and sold 70,000 bushels of buckwheat at a price of $1 and $1.25 a bushel, and are now jingling about $75,000 in their pockets. The price has now advanced to $1.50 a bushel. This industry in Pulaski attracted buyers from the East, and at one time there were a dozen men here to bid on the corn. The farmers, with the aid of the county agent, organized a farmers' club and held out for the prices which they received. Last year the crop only brought 60 cents a bushel.

When it is known that this crop can be sown after wheat is taken off, and that it does not drain the land of its fertility like many other crops, it is predicted that in the near future it will rival the tobacco and hemp crops as a money producer for Kentucky farmers.

Two crops can be grown from the same land in one year, and it produces as many bushels to the acre as winter wheat. It is very likely that a mill will be established here for the purpose of manufacturing buckwheat flour.

Also 125 or 150 barrels of picked merchantable corn, in 10 barrel lots, and other things too numerous to mention. Also one thoroughbred registered Short Horn Bull, 2 years old.

I will also at the same time and place offer for sale my farm containing 107 acres, 1/4 mile of church, 1/4 mile to school house, 1 mile to post office. This is regarded the best farm in the Montpelier country. Terms made known on day of sale.

Entertainment at Tabernacle.

A delightful entertainment was rendered by the school at Tabernacle Thanksgiving night, under the management of Miss Bess Cabell. Dialogues and recitations were very interesting. A play of 9 characters with five scenes called "Pumpkin Ridge," was very amusingly played by J. C. White, Welby Knifley, John Corneal, Willie Evans, Elba Miller, T. Williams, Florence Rubarts, Anna Rubarts and Bess Cabell.

What Wears Out a President.

My sustained mental work in the presidency was not equal in amount or in time consumed to that which I was obliged to devote to my judicial duties, or indeed to that which I have done in my university lectures at Yale and elsewhere since I left the White House. I had many assistants in my Cabinet officers and their subordinates, who investigated and reviewed the reasons for and against an issue, and thus reduced the labor of the President to that of making the decision, but the strain of the work was, nevertheless, greater than any I have undertaken.

The President daily consumes a great amount of vital energy in meeting persons who present him questions that he must decide promptly and yet wisely, and in resisting pressure from those whose motives are mixed. I soon came to understand that there is something besides the exercise of mental processes, something besides the investigation of facts and the arrangement of arguments, that can exhaust you physically and mentally. A President will feel as limp as a rag after a long day; yet during that day he may not have done any real intellectual work.—Ex President Taft in Youth's Companion.

The Bluff City News, of Kansas, notes the marriage of Mr. Chas. Sanders and Miss Fern Sanburn, of that town. The wedding took place at Lamar, Colo., where Mr. Sanders has staked a claim and is teaching school. Mr. Sanders, a native of this county, son of Mr. W. F. Sanders, near Glenville, has many friends here who wish him and his bride a happy prosperous life. He is a young man of snap and enterprise and made a splendid record as a teacher in the Sunflower State where he has taught for several years, leaving for Colorado only under the advise of physicians for his health. The News extends its good will and wishes to this happy couple on the voyage of a real happy and useful life.
