Democratic Ticket.

FOR PRESIDENT,

GROVER CLEVELAND, New York

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

T. A. HENDRICKS, Indiana.

For Member of Congress,

FRANK POWERS, of Carter.

For State Board of Equalization,

JAY H. NORTHUP, of Lawrence.

Vote your honest sentiments and receive the reward of an approving conscience.

Blaine robbed Ohio of the right of self-government, and the same machinery used there has been set up in Indiana. No treason could be more dangerous than this.

Popular government is on trial. The vilest candidate ever before the American people attempts to break into the White House in spite of the people. Blaine must be beaten.

Roscoe Conkling, the great New Yorker, without whose support Garfield would have been defeated, has declared for Cleveland and Hendricks. The g. o. p. has fallen to pieces.

Republican appeals to the monopolists for cash are meeting with a ready response. It is a life and death struggle with the patriots who have grown fat at the expense of other people.

Vote for Frank Powers.

Long needed and general rains were reported from various sections of Alabama last night. This puts a damper on the severe and almost serious drought prevailing in that section of the South.

Mason, Bracken, Robertson, Nicholas and Bath alone will give Frank Powers more than 2,000 majority over Wadsworth. The Democrats everywhere are getting down to their work like little men.

Horace E. Deming, Chairman of the National Committee of the Independents, estimates that the Independent vote in New York States for Cleveland will be not less than sixty thousand, and that the State will surely go Democratic.

At a meeting of workmen in Baltimore, one of the speakers pictured the general distress and hard times that had come upon the country under Republican rule. "If this is the result of protection," he said, "let us get rid of protection."

Let everybody turn out Monday to hear the last big gun of the most remarkable campaign in the history of this country. Gen. Cero Gordo Williams, a home man, will speak to home people at the court house, Monday evening. Come, everybody come.

Vote for Frank Powers.

The party that would place a herd of armed deputy marshals at the polls, would not hesitate to place bayonets there also, if they had the power. It will come to troops and bayonets at the polls if the party to which Mr. Wadsworth belongs and all of whose acts he endorses, remain in power much longer.

With overwhelming defeat staring him in the face and in the madness of desperation, Mr. Wadsworth made a very bitter and abusive speech at Maysville last Saturday night. The chase, the elegant, the curly Mr. Wadsworth was so far carried away by his wrath as to refer to his absent and honorable competitor as "a stick, a knot on a log, and without sense enough to say God to a goose".

That "Conversation."

"Maysville, Ky., October 11, 1884. "In our conversation which we had with Mr. Frank Powers he did not say that he would vote for the Morrison bill, if elected, and said nothing in the course of the conversation which, in our judgement, should be construed into any other than a strict accordance with the Democratic platform of 1884. We agreed with Mr. Powers perfectly in regard to the tariff, having no idea of free trade which neither of us favor. Our understanding of his favoring a large reduction of the tariff was that he wished the large surplus of revenue to be reduced, at the same time equalizing the inequalities of the existing tariff.

ROBERT T. MARSHALL, CHARLES MARSHALL, By R. T. MARSHALL.

Attent: WM. P. COONS, THOMAS M. WOOD.

Before the OUTLOOK reaches its readers again the greatest political battle in the history of the country will have been fought, won and lost. Democratic prospects were never brighter and with a free expression at the ballot box, there is no shadow of a doubt as to the triumph of Cleveland and Hendricks. But judging from the exhibition of desperation manifested by the Republican party in the recent Ohio election and their evident determination to attempt a repetition of the same tactics in Indiana next Tuesday, it is barely possible that they may succeed in carrying the state. Timid, peaceable citizens will not go to the polls when they believe their lives are endangered by the presence of ruffianly deputy U. S. Marshals armed with clubs and pistols, ready to begin an attack on the slightest provocation. On the other hand, we have assurances that the gallant Democracy of Indiana have made up their minds to put up with no officious meddling from these unprincipled pimps and are prepared to wipe up the earth with every one that puts himself the least bit out of the way.

Connecticut, New Hampshire and New Jersey all seem safe for Cleveland, while California has a strong leaning the same way.

Whatever the result may be, if fairly reached, we will all submit to with a good grace.

In the meantime the poor old world will manage to wag along, after a fashion even if the Republican party is knocked into smithereens, office holders and all.

Vote for Frank Powers.

Never were party lines easier to draw than at present. On the one hand we have Blaine, who is so notorious corrupt, that all the magnificent galaxy of talent that has held the party he professes to represent, together in the past, headed by Roscoe Conkling, turn their backs on him with scorn and contempt, and declare for the honest, incorruptible Cleveland, who represents the Democratic party on the other hand. We appeal to the young men of the county to pause long and ponder well before casting a vote for Blaine.

Vote for Frank Powers.

The voters of Bath county should rebuke the party in power for placing armed negro deputy marshals at the polls in the free state of Ohio, to deter freemen from casting their ballots as they pleased. Not only was this done, but numerous innocent, unoffending citizens were shot down—murdered in cold blood by these hirelings, Mr. Wadsworth endorses and represents the party that does these things, and then expects Democrats to vote for him! Such stupendous check was never before exhibited.

Vote for Frank Powers.

What New York will do next Tuesday is the reigning mystery of the campaign. The Democracy can not afford to lose that State and the Republicans will move heaven and earth to win it. There is every reason why—viewing the surface of events—New York should go Democratic and few why it should be Republican this year. Mr. Cleveland should wield a power in New York that would make him invincible. Beginning with his election as Sheriff of Erie county, there has not been a flaw in the political record he has made. True, that record is brief and it involves comparatively unimportant acts, but his honesty, his devotion to duty and his desire to be a good public servant and advance good government are indispensible. And moving upon this line he came into immense popularity in his State; not only with his own party, but with Republicans, from any of whom voted for him Governor and many of whom remained neutral, content to encourage his election by refusing to vote for his opponent. Since that election he has made enemies by his executive acts; but who does not? When he is named for President the Independent Republicans who voted for him for Governor or who refused to vote against him unhesitatingly offer him their cordial support. How many of these there are we have no means of knowing. The gentlemen who are at the head of that organization say there are over 80,000 who have pledged themselves to support Mr. Cleveland. Taking his great popularity into consideration, without any evidence of distinguished ability, but with abundant proofs of his honest desires for good government, the record of supporters he has made among good elements of New York Republicans and his enemies among the worst classes of New York Democrats, there is every reason to expect Mr. Cleveland ought to carry his own State, not only by a fair but by a round and decisive majority.—Commercial.

Vote for Frank Powers.

The "Doubtful" States. As the near approach of the Presidential election stimulates conjectures about the result and provokes inquiries how the States voted in 1880 and 1876, we give the following tables, showing the States, with their electoral votes, carried by Hancock and Garfield respectively:

HANCOCK.	GARFIELD.
Alabama	10 Colorado	3
Arkansas	7 Connecticut	6
California	8 Illinois	22
Delaware	8 Indiana	13
Florida	4 Iowa	13
Georgia	12 Kansas	9
Kentucky	13 Maine	6
Louisiana	3 Massachusetts	14
Maryland	8 Michigan	13
Mississippi	9 Minnesota	7
Missouri	16 Nebraska	5
Nevada	3 New Hampshire	4
New Jersey	9 New York	36
North Carolina	11 Ohio	23
South Carolina	9 Oregon	3
Tennessee	12 Pennsylvania	30
Texas	13 Rhode Island	4
Virginia	12 Vermont	4
West Virginia	6 Wisconsin	11

Total 173 Total 228. In 1876, in the contest between Tilden (Democrat) and Hayes (Republican) Tilden carried all the States that Hancock carried, except California, Nevada and South Carolina—and in addition carried the States of Connecticut, Indiana and New York, and was fairly elected.

In the present contest all the so called southern States are conceded to Cleveland, giving him 153 undisputed electoral votes. As the Republicans are making little contest in New York, showing that they concede it to Cleveland also, its 36 votes may be added to the 153, making 189 undisputed votes for him. He will need, therefore, only 12 more votes than the number already virtually assured to give him the requisite majority, 201. The disputed States are Indiana, New Jersey, Nevada, Connecticut and California—even if Ohio, too, ought not to be included in the list. All these States are more Democratic than Republican. Indiana is Hendricks' own State, and at the last election (1882) was carried by the Democrats by 10,684 majority; New Jersey went for Hancock in 1880, and was carried by the Democrats at the last election (1883) by 6,800 majority; Nevada went for Hancock in 1880, and has a Democratic Governor now; Connecticut and California were carried by the Democrats at the last election (1882).

It will be seen, therefore, that the chances are largely in favor of Cleveland in the present condition of the contest, since, with all the so called Southern States and New York assured him, he requires only 12 more votes from the doubtful States, all of which were Democratic at their last elections.—Missouri Republican.

As the day of election draws near, the best Democratic support that Mr. Wadsworth was going to receive in this country, grows beautifully less. We have positive assurances from a number who were claimed for him, that while they admired Mr. Wadsworth as a man, they held party fealty higher than any personal considerations, and consequently would have to support Frank Powers, the regular Democratic nominee.

Vote for Frank Powers. Cannot Support Him.

The following letter has been addressed to Mr. Wadsworth by Mr. Charles F. Taylor, one of the leading citizens of Mason County: "MAYSVILLE, KY., Oct. 18, 1884. "Hon. W. H. Wadsworth: Having told you I would vote for you I desire to rescind that promise, as I cannot support a man who is affiliated with a party that appoints negro United States Deputy Marshals to shoot down peaceable citizens in the exercise of their legal rights, as in Ohio on Tuesday last.

C. F. TAYLOR. Gen. Williams and Mr. Wadsworth met in joint debate at Flemingsburg last Friday. The shaking up he received may account for the recent ill humor of the latter.
