TAYLOR ISSUES A CARD.

He Declines to Be a Candidate for the Republican Nomination for Governor.

Louisville, Ky., June 9.—W. S. Taylor sent to the Evening Post from Indianapolis the following card in which he declines to be a candidate for the republican nomination for governor:

"To the Republicans of Kentucky: At one time I thought, and so announced, that if the republican nomination for governor were tendered to me I should not feel authorized to decline it. But after mature consideration of all interests involved in the contest for civil liberty, and of my duty to myself and to my family, for whom I must provide, I feel that I should ask for your hands relief from the exertions which a nomination would impose.

"For ten long months I have borne as best I could the burdens which have attended this great struggle. How much I have endured for freedom's sake few can know. In spite of all this the will of the people has been overthrown and I have not only been robbed, but subjected to a merciless political persecution.

"The coming campaign is one of the profoundest importance to Kentucky. The ballot must be redeemed. The victory won last fall must again be won and the theft perpetrated by the general assembly corrected.

"Our only possible redress must come through an appeal to the people. The campaign must be an active, aggressive one. No point should be neglected. Every friend of the sacred cause of human rights should be enlisted.

"To the end that the appeal should be successfully made, you should select for your candidate one who may devote all his time and energies to the prosecution of the canvass. In the light of these considerations, it is therefore manifest that some other than myself should be your standard bearer.

"While I can not longer be your leader in this great battle, yet I shall gladly render whatever assistance I may be within my power, for I love liberty none the less because of what I have suffered for her sake.

"W. S. Taylor."

FIFTY-SIXTH CONGRESS.

Summary of Leading Events.

Washington, June 4.—Senate.—The senate was in session more than ten hours, nearly four hours of which were spent in executive session. The only features of the session was the speech on the Philippine question by Mr. Teller (D.), and the report by Mr. Pettigrew (S. D.) to obtain consideration for the anti-trust bill passed by the house.

House.—The senate amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill appropriated $50,000 for the Louisiana purchase exposition at St. Louis in 1903 was agreed to; also the disputed items in the District of Columbia bill, and the bill went to the president, leaving only four appropriation bills still in dispute between the two houses.

Washington, June 5.—Senate.—Most of the day was given to conference reports and odds and ends of business, preparatory to final adjournment. A night session was held which lasted until 2:30 in the morning.

House.—The entire time of the house was taken up in conference reports on the unpassed appropriation bills and private measures. A night session was held which lasted until 2:40 in the morning.

Washington, June 6.—Senate.—Inability to reach an agreement upon the naval appropriation bill caused the senate to abandon the adoption of the house resolution for final adjournment. The armistice with Germany was the one which caused the delay. The senate will remain in session until a settlement is finally reached.

House.—The entire session was taken up in an endeavor to reach a settlement of the armistice with Germany in the naval appropriation bill. A new adjournment resolution was adopted.

Washington, June 7.—Senate.—No business was transacted, the sessions simply waiting for the conferees to report on the naval appropriation bill. The customary resolution of thanks to Chairman Frye was passed, to which the senate responded in a brief and graceful speech.

House.—After a long and stormy debate the senate amendment to the naval appropriation bill was agreed to and the bill passed. The bill was at once signed, and both the senate and house adjourned sine die.

DEATH OF MRS. SHERMAN. The Venerable Wife of ex-Secretary of State John Sherman Passed Away Early Tuesday.

Mansfield, O., June 6.—Mrs. Sherman, wife of the former secretary of state, John Sherman, died shortly after midnight Tuesday morning, aged 72 years.

Without having regained consciousness from the third stroke of paralysis, which she sustained on Sunday afternoon, Mrs. John Sherman was barely alive at a late hour Monday night, with her venerable husband at her bedside, himself in precarious health, and it is feared that he will not long survive his wife.

The Sherman family returned from Washington May 25, to spend the summer here, in hope that the milder climate and the restful manner of their lives might be of benefit to both. While Mr. and Mrs. Sherman were sitting on the piazza of the home Sunday afternoon, chatting with visitors, Mrs. Sherman sustained the shock which caused her death.

Mansfield, O., June 8.—The funeral of Mrs. Cecilia Sherman, widow of Hon. John Sherman, occurred at the family residence at 11 o'clock Thursday morning. Business houses closed and the post office suspended for two hours as a mark of respect. Services were conducted by Rev. D. Putnam. The pallbearers were George F. Carpenter, Henry P. Davis, Dr. Wm. E. Longbridge, Lyman A. Strong, Henry M. Weaver, Capt. A. T. Cummins, W. S. Ward and Congressman W. S. Kerr. The burial was private.

BRITISH EMBARRASSED

Boers Tear Up 21 Miles of an Important Railway Line.

Lord Roberts Has Made No Report for Three Days or Permitted the Correspondents to Wire as to What is Going On.

Lourenco Marques, June 6.—United States Consul Hollis, who returned here from the Transvaal by special train, had a two hours' interview in close conference with President Kruger at Machodorp. It is stated that Mr. Hollis was the bearer of friendly dispatches from the United States government urging Mr. Kruger to treat for peace.

Washington, June 9.—Secretary Hay says in reference to the Lourenco Marques dispatch, stating that it was believed by the United States that Hollis had been negotiating with President Kruger to bring about peace, by direction of the Washington government, that Mr. Hollis had no authority to make a trip into the Transvaal, and, furthermore, the state department did not know of any such intention on his part.

House.—The right to go into foreign territory without permission from the state department, but, as it is assumed that his visit was of a purely personal character, it is not proposed to refer to his reported activities.

London, June 9.—The war office has received the following dispatch from Gen. Buller:

"Yellow Boom Farm, June 8.—On June 6 Gen. Buller, with the 1st and 2nd brigades and the South African light horse, seized Van Wike hill. The enemy made some resistance, and a good deal of sniping occurred. Our loss was about four killed and 13 wounded.

"During that day and the following we got two 47 and two 12-pound naval guns onto Van Wike hill, and the British guns opened on the western spur of Inkevelo. Under cover of their fire Gen. Buller and his staff assaulted all the spurs of the berg between Botha's Pass and Inkevelo.

"The attack, which was well planned by Hildyard and carried out with immense dash by the troops, for whom no mountains were too steep, outflanked the enemy, who were forced to retire from their very strong position.

"I think we did not have any casualties, and I hope I have obtained a position from which I can render them no assistance."

Lord Roberts has communicated nothing for three days, nor permitted the correspondents to wire what is going on. London's inference is that he is not authorized to do so, possibly disposing his army for a reach after Commandant General Botha.

London, June 10.—Gen. Forester-Walker cables to the war office from Cape Town, under date of June 8th, as follows:

"Kelly-Kenny, at Bloemfontein, reports that the telegraph has been cut at Rooledal, north of Kromstad, by a body of Boers estimated to 2,000 men. The Boers are sending reinforcements to Kromstad, and I am reinforcing from Cape Colony. I hope the interruption will be only temporary."

London is somewhat disgusted at the "disagreeable activity" manifested by the Boers in the Orange river colony in cutting Lord Roberts' telegraph communication with his army. An indication where some force mentioned in a recent Boer dispatch having started from Standerfontein with the very object of cutting the telegraph lines of communication in Cape Colony.

London, June 11.—The Boers have torn up 21 miles of Lord Roberts' railway between the Orange river and America Siding and Rooledal. It is a bold raid and vexatious, but it does not disquiet the military authorities as yet, for they expect Gen. Kelly-Kenny to drive off the marauders and to re-establish the telegraph lines of communication in Cape Colony.

The rapidity of the advance of Lord Roberts can not have permitted him to accumulate large reserves of stores. Therefore an interruption of the railway, even though it be only temporary, would be a disaster to the army and may bring the forward operations to a standstill. Nothing has been heard from Lord Roberts for three days. This raid on the railway, it is strenuously expected to Gen. Buller and the nimble escape of Commandant Gen. Botha's division have forced the war office observers to the reluctant conclusion that the war is not yet over, although even the occasional civilian Boer sympathizer can not see how the Boers will be able to do anything to change the result.

The Seat Brought $3,000. New York, June 10.—A cotton exchange membership certificate was sold at auction for $3,000. The actual sale was $2,800. The current advance was expected as a result of the new commission rule adopted recently.

On a Railroad "Bike." St. Louis, June 10.—Joe Flory, republican candidate for governor of Missouri, will make the campaign of the state on a railroad bicycle. He was formerly a railroad conductor, and now is railroad commissioner of Missouri.

Fire in a University. Champaign, Ill., June 11.—Fire Saturday destroyed the men's gymnasium and wood building of the University of Illinois. The building was the first being erected in the college campus.

Four Killed by Lightning. Jacksonville, Fla., June 9.—In a thunder and rain storm Friday night lightning struck the smokestack of the ferry boat Commodore Harney, and passing down through the vessel, killed four men and severely injured a dozen others.

Two Soldiers Murdered. Cape Town, June 9.—Two British soldiers were stabbed to death by an Italian during a street fight here. A mob thereupon wrecked the supposed premises of the murderer, who had succeeded in making his escape.

CURIOS DOCUMENT FOUND.

Author of "Home Sweet Home" Acted as Land Agent While in Europe.

The University of Chicago received the other day a curious old document which is a relic of the early history of Tennessee. P. B. Mayfield, a lawyer in Cleveland, Tenn., was asked recently to look over some old papers of H. Calloway, of that place, and in his search found a document signed by Calloway and John Howard Payne, the writer of "Home Sweet Home." The paper was signed in 1825, and the business was Samuel Colt, the inventor of the famous Colt's revolver.

The document shows that Payne, who was at that time American consul to London, had received one-fifth of the profits made up of a certain parcel of land which he was to sell in England, Germany and other European countries. The land was the Ocea land district, which was ceded to the United States by the Cherokee Indians in 1825, and in turn given to the state of Tennessee by the government. The state of Tennessee gave out the land in grants, and Calloway received the major portion of it for services rendered. In the same document Payne was also given power of attorney on 142,500 acres of the land.

The royalties will place the document in the museum.

MISER'S HIDDEN HOARD. Unexpectedly Found After His Death in the Fifth Ward Which He Had Lived.

William Bowers, a miser who owned $100,000 worth of property in Yonkers and Chicago, died a short time ago in St. Joseph's hospital in Yonkers because he was weakened by the lack of nourishment. Dr. J. T. Gibson, who made administrative of his property, and he and F. X. Donoghue found that Bowers had lived in a miserable bed room in an apartment house. An old iron bedstead and chair, a broken bed of a waxy candle and rags that had been used as bed clothing were all that was first discovered in the room.

The doctor and Donoghue poked around among the rags with their walking sticks and to their astonishment found bank books on four New York banks, showing total deposits of $100,000. The tenants of the house called on Dr. Gibson to pay their rent, and, to his surprise, told him the old man had owned the house, which is worth $15,000. Subsequently Dr. Gibson found an old box in the basement of the house which contained deeds to property in Yonkers and Chicago. It is said all the property is valued at $100,000 and is free from incumbrance.

LEADS TO THE WORLD. Splendid System of Commercial Education Maintained in Germany with Excellent Results.

"Germany has led and is still leading the world in commercial education," says Consul Agent Harris, at Eisenstadt, in a recent dispatch to the state department. The German commercial schools, he says, annually send forth large numbers of qualified young men to take up lucrative and important positions in the business world. These young men, he continues, are selling in "stagnant" countries the products of the German empire, ranging from a locomotive to a clothespin, invariably finding the advantage over their American and English competitors of being able to speak fluently the language of the country in which they attempt to sell their goods. Consul Agent Harris attributes the efficiency of German commerce to the splendidly conducted commercial institutes in Germany, and strongly recommends the establishment of similar colleges in the United States. The founding of a large commercial university at Hamburg is in contemplation.

PRICES SOAR AT PRETORIA. Economy Being Observed from High Official Down—Basis Time at American Consulate.

Late reports to the state department from Pretoria show that prices are soaring in that capital. Car hire ranges from $2.50 per hour upward, and can scarcely be had at any figure. Economy is universally observed from the highest official down. The foreign representatives at the capital find that their salaries are totally insufficient to pay the ordinary expenses of living. The United States consulate is overwhelmed with thousands of letters, were received in one week to be forwarded. Mail packages weighing in the aggregate 65 tons flowed into the consulate in the same time. Many small sums of money have to be disbursed among the British prisoners of war, and, together, the United States consul with his single assistant is fully employed.

"Yes," replied the man with the wise expression, "relates the Baltimore American. "Told me if I wanted to win the girl I should make love to her mother?" "I had."

"I had," said the man with the wise expression, "I had to do so to get the girl on my side all I had to do was to tell her that I was a doctor and that I was a doctor."
