OWINGSVILLE, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, APRIL 1, 1909.

NO. 38.

SUBSCRIBERS.

A new postal rule enforced April 15 requires subscribers who receive THE OUTLOOK to come to them should watch their address labels and see that the date is ahead of the date of the next issue of the paper. The year for which a paper is paid for is indicated thus: 1510; meaning that the subscription is paid to January 15, 1910.

Subscribe for THE OUTLOOK. Bring your job work to THE OUTLOOK office.

Twenty-four PHOTOS 25c at Julia Elliott's residence.

Cash paid for eggs. MRS. D. S. ESTILL.

Nice line of latest style wall paper at T. M. Perry & Co.'s. 37-4t

The women were out in force Saturday to attend the millinery openings.

The most complete line of garden seeds in bulk we ever saw at R. B. Brother's.

Now is the time to plant sweet peas. You can get the best seed in bulk at R. B. Brother's.

The much talked of imported seed potato from Ireland is now on sale at Bob Brother's.

We have a nice line of latest style wall paper. T. M. Perry & Co.

I will save you money on good-bought of me. MRS. D. S. ESTILL.

Joshua Ewing had an export to die last week, it is supposed from eating stager-weed.

Notions, Corsets, Collars, Kerchiefs, braids, hair ornaments, belts, etc., cheap at Mrs. Estill's.

There was a rush of plowing and making gardens Wednesday of last week, but the next day it snowed.

Those finding a pencil mark at the label of their OUTLOOK will please know that their subscription needs looking after.

Get your fishing tackle, wall-paper, picture frames and garden seeds at J. M. Brother's drugstore. 38-4t

Elder W. T. Donaldson, of Eminence, agent of the Lexington Bible College, preached at the Christian Church Sunday night.

FOR RENT.—Store-room 20x40 ft. and cellar, corner Jefferson and Henry Sts. Call on or address John W. Honaker, Owingsville, Ky. 38-4t

NEW MILLINERY.—I have opened a millinery department in our store at Wyoming. Everything new and fresh. The public is cordially invited to call. 37-4t MRS. E. D. ANDERSON.

MEAT SHOP.—I have opened a meat shop in the cellar under the Owingsville Banking Co. Your trade is solicited. Will also deliver ice at any place in town. 38-4t L. S. FLOOD.

RE-KEEPER SUPPLIES.—J. W. Dayton, of Harrodsburg, will be in the streets of Owingsville on Tuesday, April 12, with all kinds of bee-keeping supplies for sale. His specialties are wax, etc. 38-4t J. W. DAYTON, Harrodsburg, Ky.

A PUBLIC SALE.—The residence of the late E. B. Ross, in the eastern part of Owingsville, will be sold by the Master Commissioner of the Court, at the door County Court day, April 12. The lot contains 3 and 65-100 acres of land. The house is two stories, with two rooms upstairs, a front hall and 4 rooms down stairs. It has a front and rear porch. It is a well built house and is just outside the town limits, at the forks of the Wyoming and McIntyre's Ferry turnpikes. For information call on or address John W. Honaker.

PERSONAL.

Wm. Atchison has been sick the past week.

Ray Patterson, of Winchester, visited relatives here this week.

Ruby Kincaid, of Lexington, visited home folks the past week.

Mrs. Ida Elliott returned Thursday from a visit at Mt. Sterling.

Mrs. Gay T. Shroat, of Sharpshurg, visited friends here Saturday.

Mrs. John Scott went the past week to spend a month with relatives at Paris.

L. D. Brother is in Cincinnati purchasing a stock of goods for his new business.

Alex Conner and wife went to Lexington Monday, the latter for medical treatment.

Mrs. A. T. Byron returned the past week from a visit to her parents, at Falmouth.

Mrs. Mary Metcalfe accompanied her mother, Mrs. Lane home, to Mt. Sterling, returning Friday.

Miss Grace Whaley visited the family of her grandfather James Riddle, on White Oak, the past week.

A. W. Bascom, accompanied by Dr. A. W. Walden, went to Lexington Tuesday afternoon to have a surgical operation performed.

Emil Peters, of Georgetown, was here some days last week. His brother John leaves Wednesday to take a position in his store at Georgetown.

Misses Nellie Tribou and Nannie Peed came home the past week from the Eastern Ky. Normal school at Richmond. Miss Nannie will return.

Miss Ruth Richards had her sister, Miss Era Havens, of Grange City, as a guest last week. Miss Ruth went home with Miss Era the latter part of the week.

Harry McKee, of Chicago, visited his sister, Mrs. Alex Conner, the past week, and will stay for a few days' visit at the latter's residence in Lexington.

Mark P. Att and wife, of Mt. Sterling, were guests of Mrs. Pieratt's sister Mrs. Austin Boaz Saturday and Sunday, leaving Monday to visit James Clark and family, near Reynoldsville.

Biggs Wells, Jr., of Slate Creek, rode a hundred-dollar mare to Flemingsburg Court and she died the Wednesday following of lung fever.

TOBACCO NEWS.—The A. S. of E. Tobacco News, published at Winchester, has been received by THE OUTLOOK. It is of particular interest to growers of tobacco.

$100 REWARD.—The destruction of tobacco beds in certain parts of the State has caused Gov. Willson to offer a reward of $100 for the apprehension and conviction of any person wilfully destroying the tobacco bed of another.

INCREASED STOCK.—I want the people of Bath county to inspect my stock of furniture when thinking of buying this spring. I have increased my furniture business until I can now supply any kind you want at the lowest prices, cash or credit. T. S. SHROUT. 38-3t

DIED IN MISSOURI.—Mrs. Lotie Duncan died of spinal meningitis at Camden Point, Missouri, March 19. She was the wife of Lee Duncan and a daughter of John A. Trumbo, Jr., and a niece of James W. Emmons, of this town. She is survived by her husband and five children.

MOONSHINE STILL DESTROYED.—Deputy United States Marshal Sam Jackson and posse captured and destroyed a nearly new moonshine whisky distillery together with about 400 gallons of beer and 40 gallons of whisky. The distillery was found under a ledge of rock in a range of cliffs very difficult of access, not far from the village of Wyatt, Elliott county. Andy Brown and Ben Black were arrested last Friday morning as operators of the still.

CAUGHT NAPPING.—W. C. Terhune, of Harrodsburg, State Inspector, created something of a stir last week when he called on proprietors of hack lines, boarding-houses, dealers in playing cards, cigarettes, etc., to show their license receipts granting the State's permission to do business in those lines. Town and county merchants alike were trapped and required to take out licenses. The inspector was lenient in not enforcing the penalty.

REPORTS CORRECTED.—From reports printed recently it would seem that the sale of the twenty-five per cent. of the pooled crops of 1906 and 1907 which was made by the Burley Society some time ago to the combination of independent buyers was not a success, but these reports are not vindicated by the facts in the case. From time to time we saw accounts of large quantities thrown back on the hands of the Society for being in bad condition; at other times we heard that certain independent buyers had repudiated their contracts.

The Executive Committee of the Burley Society was in session here yesterday and the day before and say that none of these things are true.

Out of a total of about thirty-six thousand hogsheads sold the independents less than two hundred and fifty were rejected on account of being fuked. This is a very small proportion, much less than one per cent. This tobacco has been re-appraised at a lower price and will be taken by the original purchasers.

One firm to which was allotted about ten per cent. of the whole amount sold to the independents found itself in a somewhat embarrassed condition financially and for a while it seemed as if this sale would have to be cancelled. Arrangement have been made, we understand, for financial assistance and it will take and pay for its allotment.

Some of the independents are a little slow about receiving and paying for their tobacco, but this is all. The Burley Tobacco Society is all right and their sales are all right.—Winchester Democrat.

IN MEMORY.—The death angel has again been in our midst and taken one of our dearest treasures, George William Jones, little son of C. G. and L. A. Jones, who was born Oct. 7, 1900, and died March 19, 1909, of the dread disease of diphtheria. The little one was six months and ten days and was a patient little sufferer. All that was in the power of medical aid was done, but to no avail.

Kind and loving friends and neighbors watched with the distressed parents to the untimely end, which came all too soon.

Oh, how they will miss the little childish voice and those little feet as they ran around with childish glee! But grieve not, dear ones, as those that have no hope. Only try to think that your loss is another's gain, and remember that Christ said: "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven." His little sister will sadly miss the close companionship of her little brother. Weep not for your beloved one, for he is not dead but sleeping.

The little one was laid to rest at the Atchison graveyard. He was aged two years, five months and twelve days. The bereaved family have the heartfelt sympathy of the community in their sad loss.

Death has robbed us of our treasure And the angels have him now Where no pain or death or sorrow Come to cloud our darling's brow. The precious one from us has gone, A voice we loved is stilled, A place is vacant in our home That never can be filled. ADA.

UP WITH THE TIMES.—T. S. Shroat is always up with the times and, therefore, is ever ready with the latest up-to-date things that can be bought. He added to his undertaking business this spring a new silver-gray funeral car, rubber-tired; a new closed covered glass, rubber-tired carriage which he furnishes with his hearse free of cost; a new undertakers' buggy and a new undertakers' wagon. With all these nice vehicles added to what he already used in his undertaking business he is as well fixed as the undertakers of most large cities, which the people of this county do appreciate very much, for nothing is too nice or too good to use when our loved ones are called to their rest.

SUED FOR DIVORCE.—Mrs. Mary Miller Ayers is now at the home of her parents, Geo. E. Coleman and wife, at Mt. Sterling, and has brought suit for divorce against her husband, Col. Mott Ayers, of Falmouth, who was State Fire Marshal under Beckham's administration. Col. Ayers and his wife eloped from the Olympian Springs and got married in the summer of 1904.

Rainy, snowy, sunshiny, wintry, summery, springlike, describes the weather now.

RAILROAD-BOND TROUBLES.—The old trouble about collecting a tax to pay off the bonds issued by Carter and Boyd counties in 1853 in aid of the Elizabethtown, Lexington and Big Sandy railroad is acute again in those counties, Elliott also being involved because of its territory originally belonging to Carter county, partly at least.

The bonds were sold, the road was never built, and the Federal Court gave judgment for the holders of the bonds on the ground that they were innocent purchasers.

It is quite likely that there was a swindle of the people of those counties and they now believing that at least are resisting the payment to their utmost.

J. W. Peck, a former newspaper man of Falmouth, has had the appointment as collector on the part of the bondholders for several years.

Bath county issued $150,000 in bonds for the same purpose and had to pay with accrued interest in the eighties. Some four hundred thousand dollars was Bath's payment.

There was a call by Peck on Gov. Wilson for troops to aid in the collection.

CHARGED WITH SEDUCTION.—Floyd Alexander was arrested at Hagerstown, Ind., by Deputy Sheriff A. N. Crooks and brought here Friday.

Sheriff Crooks secured a requisition from the Governor of Kentucky, which was honored by the Governor of Indiana. Alexander was arrested on charge of seducing Flora Myers, the 16-year-old daughter of Ed Myers, of the eastern part of the county. Alexander gave $500 bail and was released.

The father of the girl has also brought suit against Alexander for $5,000 damages.

NEW CASH STORE.—Having secured part of the store-room occupied by S. P. Atchison (the old Richard store) I will open an April 1st, a well-stocked store consisting of clothing, hats and shoes; ladies' and children's.

Dealing strictly for cash and going the work myself I can save you money in your purchases of this line. Any patronage given me will be duly appreciated. Very truly, L. D. BROTHER.

AT REDUCED PRICES.—I have already got in thirty-five new buggies since March 1, and have fifteen new buggies I carried over from last fall. In order to make room for a car-load to be shipped April 20 I will sell these fifteen buggies at from $10 to $15 off what they sold at last season. So if you want to save money come in and get one before they are gone. I have plenty of Ratterman & Luth, Columbus Buggy Co. and Kauffman buggies to select from at the lowest prices, cash or credit. T. S. SHROUT. 38-3t

CITY SCHOOL TAX.—Owingsville City School tax is past due, and all owing this tax must call and pay same to S. D. Thompson, Treasurer, at once.

Positively a six per cent. penalty will be added May 1st, and we will proceed to advertise and collect by law. 38-4t By order of School Board, S. D. THOMPSON, Treas.

TWO COLORED CITIZENS DIED.—Two well-known old colored men of town died the past week: John Conner on Friday night, and Henry Vaughan on Saturday night. They were both well-behaved and industrious men and had the respect of the community.

WHALEY-BARBER.—John Whaley, son of Tolliver Whaley and wife, of this town, and Miss Fannie J. Barber, daughter of James Landon Barber and wife, of Naylor's Branch, were married Wednesday, March 24, by Elder Geo. W. Mills.

HE KNEW THE REASON.—A rather pompous looking deacon in a certain city church was asked to take charge of a class of boys during the absence of the regular teacher. While endeavoring to impress upon the young men the importance of living a Christian life the following question was propounded:

"Why do people call me a Christian, boys?" the worthy dignitary asked, standing very erect and smiling down upon them.

"Because they don't know you," was the ready answer of a bright-eyed little boy, responding to the ingratiating smile with one equally guileless and winning. —Lippincott's Magazine.

SURPRISED THE MINISTER.—The new minister was making his first call and was waiting in the drawing room for mamma. Little sister and her elder were holding an earnest confab in the hall.

"You wasn't," said the elder in tense, small tones.

"You just see," said little sister proudly. And she danced off into the drawing room, an angelic figure in daintiest white, her big blue eyes innocent and confiding.

When mamma appeared, just as little sister danced out of the drawing room door again she thought the expression of the minister seemed rather curious and that he seemed to be making an effort to control it; also his manner seemed embarrassed and his call was very brief. The little maiden was immediately summoned and asked what she had talked about with the new minister.

"Nothing much," she faltered. "Tell me exactly what you said to him," demanded mamma.

"It wasn't anything much, just a little story Edith and I had made up to tell the janitor's little girls. They were down there in the yard when you made us come up yesterday, and they told us such yarns, mamma. You never heard such things. So we made up a story to tell them, and Edith dared me to tell it to the minister, and I did."

"And what was it? Tell me what you said."

"It wasn't any anything—much," the small voice faltered. "I just told him that my papa came home last night as drunk as he could be and kicked my mamma over and jumped up and down on her stummick. And, mamma, the minister did look so funny and s'prised!"

THE SPIRIT MOVED HIM.—An old negro preacher approached a southern physician and offered a scap of paper.

"Please, sah, read dat," he said.

The physician found it to be an advertisement in which it was asserted that whosoever was the only genuine and reliable specific for malaria.

"But you haven't any malaria, uncle, none of it around here at all," he assured the old man.

"Whar do dey hab it de wust, Mars' Jeems?" the other then asked curiously.

"It's pretty bad down on Cypress river," the physician told him, naming a locality some twenty miles away.

A few days later the physician was passing the old fellow's cabin and observed him climbing up on a rickety wagon piled high with household goods.

"Moving, Uncle Ned? Where are you going?" he asked.

"Mars' Jeems," the old man said solemnly. "Ah done had a call. De spirit done move me to go wuck in de Lord's vineyard on de banks ob Cypress river!" —Harper's Weekly.

A WARM RECEPTION.—A member of Congress was going home late one night when he met a young man who was satisfactorily "loaded." The Congressman happened to know where the young man lived and kindly guided him home. The Congressman had no sooner pulled the bell than the door was thrown wide open and a tall, husky woman made her appearance. She never said a word, but grabbed the young man by the collar and shook him until she fairly loosened his teeth; then into the hall she took him and slammed the door.

The door was suddenly thrown open a second time, and his friend flew out of it as if thrown by a catapult. At the foot of the stairs he landed and the Congressman picked him up. Very much frightened and considerably sobered, the young man gasped:

"We don't live here; we moved last week."

WHY THEY DON'T SPEAK.—A young lady whose beauty is equal to her bluntness in conversation was visiting a house where other guests were assembled, among them the eldest son of a rich manufacturer. The talk turned on matrimonial squabbles. Said the eligible "parti": "I hold that the correct thing for the husband is to begin as he intends to go on. Say that the question was one of smoking. Almost immediately I would show my intentions by lighting a cigar and settling the question forever."

"And I would knock the thing out of your mouth!" cried the imperious beauty.

"Do you know," rejoined the young man, "I don't think you would be there!"

DEATH IN VARIOUS FORMS.—A crank came running into the office and said a man had swallowed a two-foot rule and died by inches. The editor started out at once to learn further particulars of the death and, meeting Dr. Martin, told him about the case. He said that was nothing; that he had a patient once who swallowed a thermometer and died by degrees. A couple of bystanders just then chipped in. One of them said it reminded him of a fellow in Kansas who swallowed a pistol and went off easy. The other one said he had a friend who took a quart of applejack and died in good spirits.—Exchange.
