THE STEAM RADIATOR.

If it Doesn't Give Enough Heat Turn the Fan on it.

There are a good many rooms where the radiator is either too small or the steam pressure is too low to maintain a comfortable temperature in severe weather. If the tenant is enjoying the station electric lighting service the matter can easily be remedied. Take an electric fan and set it where it will blow against a large part of the radiator's surface. Turn it on at a low speed or at high if necessary, and your cold room will soon be thoroughly warmed. The philosophy of the thing is that steam at a low pressure carries much less latent heat than steam at a high pressure and therefore warms the radiator so poorly that only a slight draft of air rises around the pipes, and condensation is slow. With the fan in operation there is a forced draft against the radiator that conducts a great deal more heat away from the iron, cooling it so that much condensation of steam occurs inside it. The heat thus snatched from the reluctant radiator is held in the circulating atmosphere of the room, which is soon changed from cool to warm at a trifling cost for electric energy.—Pittsburg Press.

The Man With the Greivance.

I suppose that there never was such a flourishing time as the present for men with a grievance. The daily and weekly journals eagerly welcome letters complaining of the increase of corruption, the pitfalls of the split infinitive, the prevalence of the red tie among the lower middle class, the carelessness of the younger generation in dotting its 's' and other equally dreadful abuses which do not matter one way or another. If one were not an incorrigible optimist one would be inclined to agree with the writers of these letters, who are for the most part men of enforced leisure and idle hands, that England is rapidly about to decline and fall.—London World.

Answered.

"Why are you yawning?" inquired the landlady of little Johnny at the table.
"I always yawn when I'm hungry," was the reply.
"But what do you do when you are sleepy?"
"Go to bed."

CORRESPONDENCE.

LOST CREEK.

Mrs. Bryant and Master Herman are visiting Mrs. Begley at Elkatawa.
Mrs. Lizzie Smith visited relatives and friends at Jackson a few days this week.
Mr. Ford is moving one of his steam mills to this place to saw up timber for some of the neighbors.

A great many people of this settlement are losing their hogs with cholera, but still they are just as firm for the Hogback ticket.

Travelers or candidates who want a square meal should stop at the Roadside Hotel and hear the future welfare of the Hogback ticket discussed by "Doc."

The funerals of old Uncle Wiley and Susan Cope will be preached at the Lick Shoal burying ground by Jasper Arrowood and Uncle "Hen" Neace on October 21 and 22. Hope all will come and show much respect to the dead.

Rev. G. E. Drushal and wife, from Ohio, have moved to this place and gone to housekeeping. Their aim is to do work for the Master. We are extremely glad to have them with us. There will be preaching and Sunday school each Sunday. Let the parents come and bring their children. Solomon says "Bring up the child in the way it should go and when it gets old it will not depart from it."
JACK FROST.

Faith Not Necessary.

You may be just as skeptical and pessimistic as you please. Kodol will digest what you eat whether you eat or not. You can put your food in a bowl, pour a little Kodol Dyspepsia Cure on it and it will digest it the same as it will in your stomach. It can't help but cure indigestion and dyspepsia. It is curing hundreds and thousands—some had faith and some didn't. Kodol will cure you if medicine can cure you, whether you have faith in it or not. Mrs. J. P. Bailey, Waugh, Va., says: "I am 81 years old. Several years I suffered extremely with indigestion and dyspepsia. My grandson, A. Bailey, Jr., a merchant at Allwood, Va., sent me a bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. The world ought to know of the supreme benefits an aged sufferer has received from this great medicine. It entirely cured me and can eat all food." Sold by Jackson Drug Co.

PLATFORM ADAPTED.

By the People of Breathitt County in Convention Assembled.

We, the citizens of Breathitt county, in convention assembled, regardless of previous political affiliations, but with a view single to the redemption of Breathitt county, hereby make the following declarations of principles:

"Resolved, First—That we approve the call, time and place for holding this convention.

"Second—That we believe in a free ballot and a fair count, an honest and economical administration of county affairs, equal rights to all and exclusive privileges to none, a fair deal to every man, and the redemption of Breathitt county from the misrule it has had for the past four years.

"Third—We believe that the power of the people should be supreme; that they should have a right to govern themselves, and that they should have a voice in the selection of their officers.

"Fourth—We believe in a wise and economical administration of the fiscal affairs of the county, that no more taxes should be collected than is necessary for the conduct of the government, economically administered; that unnecessary taxation is unjust taxation; that the present tax rate is exorbitant, outrageous and unjust, and should be reduced at least one-half.

"Fifth—We denounce the present county administration for its utter disregard for law and precedent; we have seen our leading citizens shot down on the streets of Jackson, and instead of the so-called officers of the law making any attempt to apprehend the murderers, they rushed to the defense of those accused of the crimes; and we condemn the foul assassinations of Dr. B. D. Cox, James Cockrill and James B. Marcum, and point with horror and scorn at those officials who quietly stood by while the victims were weltering in their own blood, without so much as raising a finger towards rendering them aid in their dying agonies, and level assured that the time has come and is now at hand for the citizens of this blood-stained county to call a halt and place a tight rein on the people to be voted for at the November election, which, if elected, can and will say that the law must be respected and rigidly enforced.

"Sixth—We have seen our paupers denied the support that is due them, and the money that should have been spent for their comfort given to men in compensation for their political turpitude.

"Seventh—We have seen our voting places so changed that it is almost impossible for some of our citizens to go to the voting places to cast their ballot. We believe that the voting places should be as near the center of the voting precincts as practicable, and easily accessible to all the voters therein.

"Eighth—We believe that the Jackson Bridge should remain in the hands of the Fiscal Court, and that the money collected should be used in paying off the debt created by building it, and we are opposed to the squandering of the money on high salaries and other extravagances.

"Ninth—We believe that the jury service should be distributed among the citizens of all parts of the county, and that no political favoritism should be exercised in their selection.

"Tenth—We believe that the contracts for the public works of the county should be awarded according to law to the lowest and best bidder, and not let to certain individuals privately for pecuniary or political favors at the expense of the county.

"Eleventh—We believe that the laborer is worthy of his hire, and that the finances of Breathitt county should be put on a cash basis, and not compel claimants to wait two years or more for their money, or compel them to discount their claims in some store for merchandise at a large profit to the merchant.

"Twelfth—That we honor and applaud Henry B. Noble, the present County Superintendent, for his honest and faithful endeavor to uphold the law in the administration of his official duties, and in the brave and patriotic stand he took in protecting his office from being taken from the hands of the man the people had elected.

"Thirteenth—We pledge ourselves and our candidates to work for the reforms needed and place Breathitt county on the high plane she should occupy, so that capitalists and others can come here and invest their money and develop our mineral and timber resources and feel that they have perfect protection to their lives and property; and, further, we endorse the candidates nominated here today as the Republican nominees for the respective offices for Breathitt county, and their names be placed under the Republican device, to wit: a log cabin.

"Fourteenth—We earnestly solicit any and all of the papers of the State, regardless of their present or past political affiliations, to publish these declarations of principles.

J. B. McLIN, Chairman.
HENRY C. HURST, Secretary.

A CARD FROM TOM CENTERS

To My Friends and Fellow-Members of Breathitt County:

I stand in this county as a candidate for Jailor, and I respectfully request of the people to assist me if possible in securing the office. Owing to the circumstances the people of this county should take in consideration the way I was wrongfully confined in the jail, chiefly, because I am electioneering in the interests of myself for Jailor, and, people, don't all of you think that I have a perfect right to do so, as I am a citizen of the county. Understand, fellow-men, that the county authorities did not have all to do with it. One of my relatives was an investigator in the proposition.

While I am now in prison the people shall see sometime that I am not confined. Now, fellow-men, judge the matter according to your own feelings and give me an opportunity. Very respectfully,
THOMAS CENTERS,
Candidate for Jailor.

Last Hope Vanished.

When leading physicians said that W. M. Smithart, of Pekin, Ia., had incurable consumption, his last hope vanished; but Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and colds kept him out of his grave. He says: "This great specific completely cured me and saved my life. Since then I have used it for over 10 years, and consider it a marvelous, great and lung cure." Sifted, reliable cure for Coughs, Sore Throats or Colds; sure preventive of Pneumonia. Guaranteed, 60¢ and $1.00 bottles at Jackson Drug Co., Trial bottle free.

A Mystery About Blood.

There is something very mysterious about the color of human blood, or, rather, as to what causes its red color. The physiologists say that "the color of blood is due to the red corpuscles which are contained in the vein fluids," but this does not nearly explain the mystery. An aggregation of blood corpuscles is red, to be sure, but in small numbers they are yellow, while one or two examined separately are found to be of a very light straw color. Why a large aggregation of these tiny disks should convey the impression of red to our senses, while a few show a yellow and a single specimen of light straw color, is something we would like to see explained.—St. Louis Republic.

FOUND.

John W. Dean had a pain in his back for about five years and it finally became so great that he could not work and, in fact, could not walk at times, several physicians failed to cure him, but he found a remedy, it was Smith's Kidney and Nerve Tonic. For sale by S. H. Stidham & Son, Jackson Ky.

Slave of Custom.

On one day in the year the free and independent French citizen is a slave, the slave of custom. It is the day the shooting season opens. He may not care for sport; no matter, he must sail forth or lose caste irretrievably.—New York Herald.

Feeders of the Rhine.

A German geographer calls attention to the fact, known to few, that the Rhine gets some of its water from Italy. Some miles above the Via Mala the Rhine is augmented by a turbulent mountain torrent whose chief tributary is a brook that comes from the Val di Lei, which politically belongs to Italy, though separated from the rest of that country by glacier covered mountains over which there is a trail to Chiavenna.
