

ADVANCE FASHION HINTS.

Some of the Headgear That Will Appear Later.

Favored with a view of some of the very latest importations in the way of hats for early fall, I may say that there is small difference from those of early summer. The new hats are of silk, straw, velvet and felt, and one can choose for herself from all those materials; but to my personal fancy the thick straws are the prettiest, although perhaps the weather influences me a trifle. The soft and very felt, either white or some very light shade, is beautiful. The faded shades in all the velvet and satin flowers provided for autumn are very artistic and in the main beautiful when not put on in too heavy masses. One or two large roses of shaded brown with a tinge of red and yellow, with a little silk ribbon or velvet, make abundant trimming. The shapes vary little from those of today, and the particular angle at which they are worn depends upon the woman's own taste and the shape of her face.

Some women look best with the hat tilted backward, like the one with the bow of tan ribbon with narrow velvet ribbon upon the ends. Another has the front brought down closely over the hair, with trimming of shirred brown silk which becomes a shirred bow at the back. Under the brim, which is much wider at the back than in front, there is a bunch of dark green silk velvet leaves and one large shaded brown rose. The center one at the back is of thick white straw.

Feathers of every description will be as well liked as ever. Vernal green plumes cover fully half of the center hat below, and the rest is shades of green satin ribbon and two large pink roses, but the pink is shaded and faded so that it seems to blend with the other garnishing on the hat.

The enthusiastic girl has a hat of white velvet felt, bent down all around in an exaggerated mushroom shape, with absolutely no trimming on it but a draped band of rich dark green velvet. The last one is a flat shape in leather colored felt, with ribbons of velvet, a short tuft of shaded brown feathers and a very large brown rose in front.

The importer told me that he did not anticipate any radical change in shape, but he expected that very many elegant hats would be made of rich black and brown velvet shirred to a frame. With a fine metal ornament or two and the addition of superb plumes such a hat could not be surpassed for beauty and fitness. He added that this season was expected to be a notable one for the best qualities of velvet and velveteen, its nearest and best imitation.

Black silk in a heavy and very rich quality is, I find, among the materials now being made up for hand-some fall gowns and coats to match. There is a decided movement in favor of tight waists for all woolen outdoor suits. The waists have basques or there is a tight fitting three-quarter coat to match. When this is made of the taffeta it is lined, and if for late fall it is interlined. The coats of wool and silk, as well as those of velvet, will be lavishly trimmed with the beautiful new braids. The heavy dresses and coats will have the thick ribbed hercules, or the heavy titan or the fancy silk, after castle braid. This last is in various colors, some having metal threads to make them brighter. They are worn with flowers on a white ground, with tiny buttons or rosettes all around following the design. There is scarcely a coat or waist that has not some of this braid along the front, while the dark and heavier braids are placed upon the skirt. These braids are considered quite suitable for velvet garments, for which it has always been difficult to find a suitable trimming.

Among the dress goods for early fall there are some chevrons entirely novel in weave. It would seem impossible to invent anything new in chevron, but it has been done. The weave is finer and firmer, and there is a new gloss to it that brings it to absolute perfection. I saw some pretty fancy in weaves of different designs not to be seen except under changing lights. These goods make up well, are universally becoming, and they are practically indestructible. Black is really the most elegant and is the garb of the gentleman, but there are many colors, among them a deep blue color, a daisy, a dark green, a navy and several shades in gray and brown. If tailor finished, chevron needs very little trimming; but, on the other hand, it will carry any amount one may wish to put on it. Mohair goods are pretty nearly out of fashion now, which is a pity.

Eastern Rugs.

Eastern rugs challenge machinery to imitate them. The Persian shah's proscriptive of aniline dyes, which were at one time ruling the industry, is well known. Curiously, excellent Asiatic rugs are now made in the heart of Europe. The Austrian government has in Serajevo a school of oriental carpet making for Christian women, whose reproductions of old rugs are bought by Baron Rothschild and other collectors.

THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

IT IS NOT DENIED

1. We approve the policies and commend the ability, integrity and courage of President Roosevelt and his administration, and without expressing a preference for any candidate, favor the selection by the next national convention for president of one in full accord with these policies and who will energetically carry them out in the interests of all the people.

2. We demand that all elections shall be honestly conducted and declare that the cause of good government and the future happiness and welfare of the people of Kentucky is inseparably bound up in the suppression of all abuses and crimes against an honest ballot, that have so unfortunately disgraced our state under Democratic rule, depriving the people of their rightful heritage—representative government.

The law for registration certificates imposed on the state by the Democratic party for immoral political purposes, whereby votes in Kentucky have become negotiable instruments, passing by delivery, ought to be repealed.

3. The judiciary of the state, in both the circuit and appellate courts, should be chosen on non-partisan grounds and the continuance in office of faithful judicial public servants should be determined by no other qualification than fitness.

4. There should be complete publicity concerning the expenditure of money for political campaigns and a law should be passed providing for an accounting by candidates and campaign managers of all sums of money collected for political purposes.

5. We demand the redistricting of Kentucky in legislative, senatorial, congressional and judicial districts, which shall give equal representation and equal voting power to every citizen of every district in conformity with the plain requirements of the Constitution, and not as at present, in flagrant violation thereof.

6. There should be prompt and efficient enforcement of the criminal laws of every kind, and at all times, but especially at this time we call for the rigid enforcement of the law against those forms of crimes which, under the recent administration of justice, in many communities, have gone practically unpunished. Election thieves, gamblers, pool-room operators and others who commit crimes in the interest of those controlling the local administration of some of our cities and counties, should be punished, and the juries should be so selected as to prevent the packing of juries for the purpose of securing verdicts in accordance with the wishes of those in whose hands the selection of the juries is placed, or under whose control and direction they are selected.

7. We demand that the books, vouchers and accounts of all municipalities, all public officers and public institutions, and of all corporations in which a city of the state owns the majority interest, either directly or through subordinate corporations, trustees or commissioners, shall be open to inspection and investigation at all times by any citizen and shall be regularly audited and the results published by an independent accountant, who shall not be eligible to re-examine such books, vouchers or accounts twice in succession.

8. We demand a reform in the management of our public eleemosynary and penal institutions, to the end that they shall be operated by bi-partisan boards, upon proper business principles, and their inmates treated humanely.

9. We favor the enactment and enforcement of a uniform local option law with the county as the governing unit.

10. We demand that the public schools of the state shall be taken and kept entirely out of politics and that the interests and welfare of the children shall have first consideration in all public school matters.

We call for better schools and school houses, for longer school terms and for the county and better pay for the teachers, and that elections for school trustees be had on different days from other elections.

11. We favor amendments to state laws permitting and encouraging joint nomination of the same candidate by the different parties.

12. We condemn the law, passed for immoral political purposes, creating the racing commission in Kentucky and demand its repeal.

13. We condemn the enactment by the Democratic party of a large number of obnoxious tax laws and the creation of useless offices as the reward of partisan service, and we promise, if given power, to repeal all such laws and reduce the taxes to the lowest possible rate consistent with an efficient administration of the state government.

Conclusion.

For years past the legislation enacted by the Democratic party and dictated by certain of its leaders, has not been for the benefit of the citizen, but of the officeholder. The chief aim of such legislation has been the continued holding of office, and the creation of new offices to be traded in as rewards for party service.

The citizen is at least realizing, as never before, that the administration of public affairs is a business that comes close home to him; that such business must be honestly and efficiently conducted and that his ballot should not be cast as a matter of sentiment, but for that candidate or that party which shows the highest capacity for properly conducting the affairs of the state on strict business principles.

We ask the support of all patriotic citizens, regardless of their party affiliation, for the state ticket selected by this convention, and for the policies and principles above stated, believing that it will insure better days for Kentucky.

The Poor Squirrel.
An Irishman stood in front of an electric fan which was going at full speed, with no end of a buzz. After a minute or two he scratched his head and said, "Bedad, I wadn't want to be that squirrel!"

It is not denied that nearly every member of the state committee held a fat job under the Beckham-Hager administration. It is not denied that they manipulated members of the last senatorial caucus to vote against the will of their constituents by trading them jobs in the public service of the state. It is not denied that Percy Hays and Milton Board have been placed at the head of the board of control, which has the expenditure of all the money for the purchase of supplies of the charitable institutions and reformatories of the state; therefore, the machine adherents cannot abuse Gen. Hays because these things are true and the good people are inquiring into them. It cannot be denied that the machine acted corruptly in giving these jobs to state committeemen for the purpose of controlling the action of the committees of the party; that it acted corruptly in trading jobs for votes against Blackburn; that nothing less than corrupt purpose could be behind the appointment of such men as Hays and Board on the board of control. Gen. Hays cannot stop things as attorney general, but as governor he could and would.—Henderson Gleaner (Dem.)

And this same Beckham-Hager combine is asking to be endorsed by the people of the state. With the record before them, will they do it?

A Democratic campaign circular says: "It is under Democratic administration that a new Kentucky capital is being erected, and without imposing any additional burden upon the taxpayers of the state."

But the circular fails to state that the capital is being built with the $1,200,000 fund collected from the national government on an old war claim that ought to have been collected long ago. And it is true that the tax rate has not been increased, but the new system of license adds a tremendous burden to the citizen and increases the state's income, which is being disbursed with such prodigality by the Democratic administration.

We defy anyone to show where anything has ever been done by the Democratic administration to enforce the Sunday closing law, with the exception of the recent spasm in Louisville, which was done for political effect. And yet the law has been on the statute books for years.

The Democratic platform, as promulgated by Candidate Hager, does not contain a single reference to the "emergency question." Was this an oversight or was it done deliberately?

BRUNER'S REPORT

To the Question Put by Ollie James Knocks Center.

At Benton, Marshall county, Monday, Sept. 2, a joint debate was held between Congressman Ollie James and Dr. Ben H. Bruner, Republican candidate for secretary of state. Following the plan laid down by the Democrats to stir up prejudice by keeping the Goebel assassination ever in view, Congressman James inquired:

"Would you, if governor of Kentucky, pardon Calish Powers and others, or would you advise Willson to pardon them?"

Dr. Bruner's reply was so straightforward and sensible, and covered the case so completely, that the vast audience, irrespective of party, arose and cheered to the echo, a fitting rebuke to the Democratic style of campaign. Dr. Bruner said:

"If I were governor of Kentucky, or were asked for advice by the governor, I would first demand a fair and impartial trial for these or any other men charged with a political crime, whether he be Democrat, Republican, Prohibitionist or Populist, white or black, and if the courts of the state persistently refused to grant him such fair and impartial trial, as is attested by the court of Appeals, I would then feel disposed to either pardon or advise such pardon."

This reply should be endorsed by every honest man in the commonwealth. Give every man a square deal. No more, no less. That is the Republican doctrine at all times and under all circumstances.

The Democrats of Kentucky have placed a tax on everything, from a lemonade stand to a dog. And yet they claim that taxes have been reduced.

In charging the Democratic administration with graft and mismanagement, we have only to look to Democracy for the proof.

At the Station.
A. J. Cassatt, the late president of the Pennsylvania railroad, once told the following railroad story:

A western broker moved from the city into the country. He moved far out, since the railroad was small, and the main service poor, he traveled to and from town by carriage or automobile exclusively.

Deciding, after a time, to keep chickens, he ordered a patent chicken coop and on the day it was expected set out in a dray to fetch it home from the freight office.

He reached the railroad station, which he had never seen before, after an hour's drive. No one was in sight, but there was his chicken coop, and with his man's help, he soon had it on the dray and set off homeward again.

A hundred yards or so down the road he met a chap in a blue uniform with the title of "station master" in gold letters on his blue cap.

"Hey, there," exclaimed this chap excitedly. "What the dickens have you got on that dray?"

"My new chicken coop," the broker hastily answered.

"Chicken coop be hanged!" shouted the station master. "That's Muddy Junction."

"What did Newrich say when you told him you wanted to marry his daughter?"

"He didn't absolutely refuse, but he imposed a very serious condition."

"What was it?"

"He said he would see me hanged first."

THE NEAT GIRL.

She Scores a Big Hit With the Average Man.

Men like dainty women, oh, yes! They love trailing ribbons and ruffles and frilled parasols, but these must be immaculate.

You will excuse me for mentioning it, but lots of women don't realize this.

Yes, I know it takes a lot of money to dress that way and be immaculate. It means that one's fripperies have to be renewed every other time. It really means that one ought not to walk or go downtown, but just roll around in ease to carry out the idea of the type.

That's why I leave perishable finery alone and get a neat spick and span girl. She is more attractive, I think, than the type. You have seen her many times. She wears a stiff, beautifully built hat, most scrupulously free from dust. Her hair glimmers with her thorough brushing and is carefully waved. A crisp white shirt waist and a tailor made stock show her figure while her smartly plaited, well hung skirt matches her hat and suggests an equally well tailored coat.

Her shoes and stockings are substantial, but dainty in their freshness. She fairly radiates sunshine and soap and water, and people turn around to look at her, not for her clothes, but for her self.

And I tell you that spick and span girl scores a great hit, no matter where she is.

"Aweel, Margot," the other old woman admitted, "she has got one fault. She will lay on the Lord's day."

The way to get rid of a cold, whether it be a "bad cold" or just a little one, is to get it out of your system through the bowels. Nearly all Cough Cures especially those that contain opiates, are constipating. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup contains no opiates and acts gently on the bowels. Pleasant to take. How to Remain Young.
To continue young in health and strength, do as Mrs. N. F. Rowan, Me. Donough, Ga., did. She says: "Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured me of chronic liver and stomach trouble, complicated with such an unhealthy condition of the blood that my skin turned red as flannel. I am now practically 20 years younger than before I took Electric Bitters. I can now do all my work with ease and assist in my husband's store." Guaranteed by Jackson Drug Co. Price 50c.

There are a great many people who have slight attacks of indigestion and dyspepsia nearly all the time. Their food may satisfy the appetite but it fails to nourish the body simply because the stomach is not in fit condition to do the work it is supposed to do. It can't digest the food you eat. The stomach should be given help. You ought take something that will do the work your stomach can't do. Kodol For Indigestion and Dyspepsia, a combination of natural digestants and vegetable acids, digests the food itself and give strength and health to the stomach. Pleasant to take. Sold by Jackson Drug Co.

Although there are only eighteen flags used in the international code of signals, which is used by warships and merchant ships all over the world, they can be made to represent no fewer than 20,000 distinct signals, and by use of the code something like 50,000 ships can be designated.

Occasional headache, belching, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite and slight nervousness are symptoms of indigestion which when allowed to go uncured for will develop into a case of dyspepsia that will take a long time to get rid of. Don't neglect your stomach. At the first indication of trouble take something that will help it along in its work of digesting the food you eat. Kodol For Indigestion and Dyspepsia will do this. Kodol will make your food do you good and will enable you to enjoy what you eat. Sold by Jackson Drug Co.

Dragging Down Pains

are a symptom of the most serious trouble which can attack a woman, viz: falling of the womb. With this, generally, comes irregular and painful periods, weakening drains, backache, headache, nervousness, dizziness, irritability, tired feeling, etc. The cure is that wonderful, curative, vegetable extract, which exerts such a marvelous, strengthening influence, on all female organs. Cardui relieves pain and regulates the menses. It is a sure and permanent cure for all female complaints. At all druggists and dealers in $1.00 bottles.

WINE OF Cardui

The Female Regulator

In my womb and ovaries," writes Mrs. Naomi Baker, of Webster Grove, Mo., "also in my right and left sides, and my menses were very painful and irregular. Since taking Cardui I feel like a new woman and do not suffer as I did. It is the best medicine I ever took."

The Beautiful London Air.
When in Africa, before he came over to qualify for Middlesex, Vogler would not admit the possibility of a ball swerving. "I'll see it before I believe it," said he. So he came over and found, as others have, that our air is different from that at the Cape, where the ball may be said never to swerve in the air. When I read that 4,000 tons of coal hang suspended over London the wonder to me is that the ball ever reaches the batsman. Cricket was not invented to be played in a coal mine.—Fry's London Magazine.

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold.
A. J. Nussbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed to only aggravate my case. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package, and it quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success. Jackson Drug Co.

The happiest mother in the little town of Ava, Mo., is Mrs. S. Ruppel. She writes: "One year ago my son was down with such serious lung trouble that our physician was unable to help him; when by our druggist's advice I began giving him Dr. King's New Discovery, and I soon noticed improvement. I kept this treatment up for a few weeks when he was perfectly well. He has worked steadily since at carpenter work. Dr. King's New Discovery saved his life."
