

Cash -or- Credit

Don't let an empty pocket-book or hot weather make life a burden. Some people become rich by saving money. If you have any to spend you will save some here. The difference between Cash and Credit is so plain that it stands out as rigid as the stone of the Rocky mountains. This week's specials consist of

Dry Salt Meat, per pound 7½c	Good Brown Cotton, per y'd 5c
2lb box Rolled Oats 7c	15c Bulk Roast Coffee 12c
Sorghum Molasses, per gal. 85c	Arbuckles Coffee 11c
25c box Smith's Poultry Food 10c	Hickory Shirting, per yard 7c
Curtain Poles and Fixtures 5c	Roll Window Shades 8c

K. C. B. C. Commencement.

On Thursday night of last week the first year's work of the Kentucky Classical and Business College under the present management was brought to a successful close. The work was highly satisfactory in ever respect to the faculty and to the community at large. Great credit is due to Prof. Milton Elliott and his efficient corps of teachers for their earnest efforts to make the school a success and to the friends and patrons of the college for their hearty support.

On Friday night preceding a magnificent reception was given by the students and alumni, which was charming in every detail. The parlors were beautifully decorated with flowers and palms, the parlors orange and red predominating. Smilax entwined the stairway, and in the hall in a beautiful Japanese corner frappe was served. In the dining-room brilliant with red candles and American Beauty roses, dainty refreshments were served, the ices comprising the two colors, orange and crimson.

The Winchester orchestra discoursed sweet music during the entire evening and at the "wee sma" hours two hundred or more guests after enjoying the pleasantries of the occasion were loathe to depart to their homes.

On Tuesday afternoon from 4 to 6 the art exhibit took place in the college parlors. The work in water colors, burnt wood, crayon and china on exhibition was most creditable and reflected much praise on the talented teacher, Miss Georgia Owen Boston.

On Wednesday evening the Primary and Junior music pupils gave an entertainment at the Christian Church. The program was well selected and showed careful preparation on the part of the pupils and of the teacher in charge. The Quaker Pedigree, a comic song, brought rounds of applause, and the little Gypsy Cantata deserves special mention.

On Thursday evening the final entertainment was given, in which the following young ladies, Misses Bessie Young, Florence Deck, Mera Knox, Cecil Elliott, Sarah Jones, Leona Young, Alma Rice, and the teachers, Misses Sinclair and Goslee took part. The entire program was well rendered and it was an evidence of the very creditable work done during the year by the efficient music teacher Miss Mildred Adelina Goslee.

The address was delivered by Prof. S. M. Jefferson, of Kentucky University. In his address Prof. Jefferson discussed in a very able manner the aims of an education and made a strong plea for a liberal education that will enable men and women to adapt themselves to their environments and live in the broadest sense of the word.

The enrollment during the past year was larger than it has been for several years. A number of pupils from other counties were in attendance and the boarding department will be materially increased next year. The same faculty has been retained. North Middletown, on account of its healthful location, cultured and moral people, its freedom from saloons and other temptations is an especially safe place for the education of our youth.

The record of the school during the past year will stand the test and the outlook for a largely increased patronage is very fine.

CIRCUS DAY.

The all absorbing topic of the day seems to be "are you going to the circus?" The answer on every hand was "why, certainly," and when one stops to reflect over the fact that such attractions as the Pontiac Zouaves, the finest drilled soldiers in all the world will be and the marvelous trained Seals and Sea Lions, that can sing comic songs and play musical instruments, and do things that do not seem possible, and in view of the fact that this wonderful zoologic, ethnologic, equine and hippodromic exhibition is the superior of all similar entertainments, employing as it does more cars to transport it, more people to conduct its various departments, more horses, wagons, large tents and the greatest number of performers ever amassed under one management, it is not surprising that it is to-day the world's representative show.

We suggest to out-of-town people the advisability of coming to town early so as not to miss the grand street parade that takes place daily at 10 a. m., rain or shine. It contains five bands of music, ten kinds of music in all, including the grand golden steam calliope, a band of real Scottish bagpipers, and several musical novelties absolutely new to the American people. There is a whole caravan of massive carved cages, gilded chariots, mounted knights and ladies, a score of comical clowns, herds of elephants, camels, midget ponies, and the finest collection of highly bred horses ever brought to this country. After all the parade is only preliminary to the most remarkable exhibition of arenic, hippodromic and zoological marvels ever collected by man.

Will exhibit in Mt. Sterling Friday, June 17.

Closing Exercises of Madison Institute.

The closing exercises of this excellent institution were very much enjoyed by our citizens. The first entertainment was a music and elocution recital on the night of May 21, which showed thorough training on the part of the music teachers. Sunday, the 22d, was baccalaureat day. Thesermon was delivered by Mr. W. K. Azbill, of Columbia, and it was one of the finest addresses ever heard in Richmond. The charming entertainment at the Opera House Monday night by the children of the primary and preparatory departments was a great success and was highly enjoyed by the large audience that witnessed it. Tuesday was class day and the exercises of the day were in the hands of the senior class, who gave a highly creditable entertainment; and on Tuesday night the seniors gave their reception, or "promenade," on the beautiful Institute lawn, which was brilliantly illuminated with electric lights. The music for the occasion was furnished by the Richmond Military Band. Wednesday night another music and elocution recital was given in the school chapel, and it was on the same high order as the one given Saturday night.

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday a large number of persons visited the art studio to see the splendid work in China, water colors, oil, etc., done by the art class under the instruction of the talented Miss Peppard.

Thursday at 10 a. m. the Commencement exercises were held in the Christian Church. A very fine address was delivered by Mr. W. J. Loos, after which President McGarvey, in a brief and appropriate speech, delivered the diplomas to the eight graduates, whose names are as follows: Elizabeth Tribble, Matilda Douglas, Rose May Mob-erley, Blanche Vanderveer, Lila Deatherage, Maude Martin, Elizabeth Embry and Margaret Rice—a fine looking class. The gold medal for proficiency in spelling was given to Miss Lila Deatherage. The delightful music which was furnished by the school orchestra was highly praised by everybody. The full orchestra now numbers fourteen members. The entire series of closing exercises were a great treat to our people. President McGarvey announced that if the people will give Madison Institute their full and hearty support during the next session he will give them even better entertainments next year than they had this year, and it is to be hoped that our people will show their appreciation of this, the best institution of the kind in the State, by patronizing it most heartily. It is the only female college in the State that keeps a faculty composed of graduates of such institutions as the University of Chicago, the University of Michigan (Ann Arbor), the greatest American and European schools of music and art, and others of the world's greatest schools.—Richmond Climax.

Headless people bear needless pain.

Some Democratic Folks are Barely Democratic by Name.

The Baltimore Democrats, and, as a matter of fact, the Democrats of the State, are playing in a hard streak of luck. After a desperate fight they elected their Mayor and Governor, and thought they were in clover for at least four years, but it seems that their troubles had just begun. It turned out that Mayor McLane and Gov. Warfield were in their own estimation better than their party, and inaugurated mugwump policies by ignoring the party organization that had elected them. The result of this was the usual bad feeling, and on top of this Mayor McLane blows out his brains and a Republican succeeds him to the office and the entire city Government passes into the control of the Republicans. This would not be so bad, only that under a recent election the city voted to spend about $10,000,000 in public improvements, so that the Republicans have the dispensation of this large amount of money with the enormous patronage it bestows. As a Baltimore Democrat expressed it today, "It's pretty tough."

A Good Joke.

Mrs. W. A. Young has for her guests four of Mt. Sterling's most cultured women. Last week Mrs. Young gave the writer a hint that four young girls from Mt. Sterling would visit her, and it was promptly reported through this department of The Independent. Morehead's gallant young men began to plan for their entertainment, and to conjecture who was coming—whether or not the girls were some of those who had visited here before. While the boys were in the midst of their plans, the four fair ones arrived, in the persons of four elegant, dignified ladies, slightly past the age for such frivolity, as our young men generally consider entertainment. Whether Mrs. Young carried the joke so far as to make engagements for them all, we did not learn, but it is said that messenger boys were kept busy on that square for a few days.—The Independent, Morehead.

Agreement Reached.

It has been practically agreed by the local Democratic leaders that John W. Vreeland and Biscoe Hindman shall continue to represent the Fifth district on the State committees and that Charles F. Grainger and either Congressman Swager Sherley or Judge Thomas R. Gordon shall go as delegates to the National Convention.

Will You Celebrate

The Fourth of July? If so, be sure to have a bottle of Paracamp handy. You will need it for a Burn, Cut or Bruise, because it heals quicker and better than any other known remedy. Prevents Blood Poisoning, relieves pain instantly and heals without leaving ugly scars. 46-5t.

Peaky Cows May Knock Roanoke, Va., Out of A $100,000 Depot.

President Johnson, of the Norfolk & Western Railroad, states that his road is ready to begin at once the erection of a new $100,000 depot in Roanoke, Va., if the city will pass an ordinance keeping keeping cows off the street. The cow question has been a very vexing one in Roanoke. 46-5t.

Figures On Big Wheat Deal.

Figures on Waterman's remarkable wheat corner:
He had 7,000,000 of May wheat.
He could have made from 25 to 30 cents on each bushel.
His total profits would then have been about $2,000,000.
He really made about 10 to 12 cents a bushel.
His total profits amount to about $750,000.
He thus gave up profits of $1,250,000.

Was Wasting Away.

The following letter from Robt. R. Watts, of Salem, Mo., is instructive. "I have been troubled with kidney disease for the last five years. I lost flesh and never felt well and doctored with leading physicians and tried all remedies suggested without relief. Finally I tried Foley's Kidney Cure and less than two bottles completely cured me and I am now sound and well." For sale by W. S. Lloyd. 46-5t.

"I Have Nothing To Say."

Congressman Nicholas Longworth has returned has returned from St. Louis, where he spent a week at the exposition. He refuses to discuss social affairs. When reference was made to the gossip in St. Louis that he is engaged to Miss Alice Roosevelt, and that he was her devoted attendant while in St. Louis, he said: "I have nothing to say."
