

Woman's Friend

Nearly all women suffer at times from female ailments. Some women suffer more acutely and more constantly than others. But whether you have little pain or whether you suffer intensely, you should take Wine of Cardui and get relief.

Cardui is a safe, natural medicine, for women, prepared scientifically from harmless vegetable ingredients. It acts easily on the female organs and gives strength and tone to the whole system.

TAKE CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Verna Wallace, of Sanger, Tex., tried Cardui. She writes: "Cardui has done more for me than I can describe. Last spring I was taken with female inflammation and consulted a doctor, but to no avail, so I took Cardui, and inside of three days, I was able to do my housework. Since then my trouble has never returned." Try it.

The Southern Exodus.

The rush to get to Florida and Southern climes before another cold spell ensues is taxing the L. & N.'s splendid new equipment, the ride from Cincinnati through the mountains of Kentucky and Tennessee being one of beautiful picturesque scenery.

Speaks to "Sinners" Audience.

Colonel George W. Bain made a very striking appeal Monday evening of last week to the congregation of non-church going people in Lexington. Col. Bain stated that he had never before preached a sermon or called upon sinners to confess Christ, that he had spent his time delivering lectures, but that he wanted in his old age to be able to point to some one and say that he had been instrumental in leading him to the church and to Christ. Three men came forward to confess faith and apply for membership.

Barbarous English Custom.

Boys in the west of England believe that by squeezing a mole to death between the hands and touching the affected parts with the blood that oozes from the mouth of the dying animal, the mole will disappear and will not reappear. The culprits are convinced that moles, worms and other subterranean dwellers have no feelings, and, therefore, it is not cruelty to put them to death.

Meteor Falls in Iowa.

The gigantic meteor which was observed in the vicinity of Dubuque, Iowa, fell near that city. It split into two parts, one falling near Dryerville and the other near Manchester. The latter portion weighed over a ton. As the larger piece struck the ground, the houses in the vicinity were shaken. A roar like that of thunder followed its flight.

The handsome new library building at State University, the gift of Andrew Carnegie and just completed, cost $26,500. Out of this fund the building has been erected and equipped, and by the conditions of the gift $2,650 are pledged annually by the trustees for its up-keep and maintenance.

The Strong Thought of Self. The strong thought of self is inevitably insulting—it is as restrictive as human contact as a live wire.—Mary Stewart Cutting, in "The Wayfarer."

Rich Harvest--1909 Breaks All Records.

In glowing terms Secretary Wilson of the Agricultural Department in his annual report pictures the results of farmers' work for the year ended June 30 last.

"Most prosperous of all years is the place to which 1909 is entitled in agricultural pursuits," is the way the Secretary puts it. The value of farm products was $8,760,000,000.

Of great popular interest is the unique investigation conducted by the Department, which shows that in fifty cities the total retail cost charged to consumers for beef above the wholesale cost paid by the retailers averaged 38 per cent. The lower the grade of beef the greater was the percentage of gross profit.

In the upward movement of beef prices the farmer, the report says, has not shared equally with the packer, wholesaler and retailer, but as to hogs the case is different, the farmer receiving nearly his fair share of the higher prices of pork in the increased price of his unfed hogs.

Great Popularity.
Francis Xavier Leon Gambetta is named after the famous politician, who died on December 21, 1882. In the times of his intense popularity Gambetta had an experience which he would not tell against himself. In Paris admirers myriads his horses and dragged the carriage to his house. Gambetta would tolerate this with an air of pride, and he would add, with a smile: "But I never saw my horses again!"

Does Not Mean Return of Saloon to Alabama.

United States Senator Joseph F. Johnston, of Alabama, issued the following statement on the effect of defeat of the prohibition amendment in Alabama:

"The election determined that the men of Alabama did not wish to write into their constitution police measures nor surrender rights they have expressly reserved. It does not mean the return of the saloons, nor any backward step in public morals. It means that Alabama is conservative and not to be shaken off her feet by mere sentiment appeals."

Stay of Sentence Granted.

The Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia has granted the petition of Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, of the American Federation of Labor, for a stay of execution of the mandate of the court sending them to jail. The mandate is stayed indefinitely, pending appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States.

To Be Had Without Asking. There is one thing that some mean people are always willing to give you—and that is the worst of it.

Federal Law Desired by Anti-Saloon League.

In Chicago on November 30 "On to Washington" was the slogan at the opening of the conference of State superintendents and field workers of the Anti-Saloon League of America.

William H. Anderson, National Legislative Superintendent of the nation-wide organization, said:

"In many States what could be accomplished in the local option propaganda has been accomplished. Now we are going to turn our attention to Congress in an effort to obtain legislation that will prohibit the shipping of liquor into 'dry' States."

Dr. P. A. Baker, National Superintendent, in commenting upon the defeat of the prohibition amendment in Alabama, said:

"The defeat of the prohibition amendment in Alabama is not altogether a defeat for prohibition. There are thousands of men in Alabama who believe in prohibition and will uphold it at the polls, who, nevertheless, would not vote to have it put into the Constitution of the State. But you may be sure that the prohibition statute there will never come off the books."

Must Take Responsibility.

All of the 2,500 national banks in the United States which now hold board meetings at irregular and infrequent intervals must have monthly meetings of their boards of directors, appoint examining and discount committees and all the loans and discounts of each bank must be approved by the directorate board at the monthly meeting, such approval to be recorded in permanent form.

This was the pronouncement of Comptroller of the Currency Murray.

Hereafter, when application for a national bank is approved the organizers will be told that they must submit with the organization papers a copy of their by-laws, which must provide for at least monthly meetings.

Waterproof Stinging.
Shingles are now made under a patented process from asbestos fiber and portland cement. Owing to the enormous pressure under which the shingles are manufactured, it is said that they absorb, when fresh, only about five per cent of their weight of water, and when exposed to the atmosphere for a year or two that hydration and subsequent crystallization render them absolutely impervious.

Best Work at Fifty.
In the industrial world it has become accepted that a man is too old at 40 and the laborer county council works department decided last year not to engage men above 35. How is it in the intellectual world? Despite all the evidence of productivity, the laborer refuses of a condition which gives an average of 46 for the master work of great men.—T. P. Weekly.

It Takes Nerve

Everything depends upon your nerves. It is nerve force that causes the brain to direct the motion of your body; it is nerve force that causes your heart to pulsate, and send the blood through your veins; it is nerve force that causes your stomach to digest food, your kidneys to filter the blood, and the liver to secrete bile.

In fact, nerve force is the power that runs your body, so if you feel worn-out, irritable, nervous, cannot sleep, or eat well, have pain or misery anywhere, your nerves are weak, and your system run-down. To restore this vitality take Dr. Miles' Nerve which will strengthen and build up the nerves. You cannot be healthy without strong nerves.

For eighteen years Dr. Miles' Nerve and Anti-Pain Pills have been my close companions. Early in married life, while raising children, my nerves became all worn-out—could not sleep, had no appetite, indigestion very bad, and had much awful dizzy spells. Then I began using Dr. Miles' Nerve, and at once I began to improve, and soon found myself in perfect health.

MRS. S. L. YOUNG, 224 Pittsburg St., New Castle, Pa. Dr. Miles' Nerve is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

A Child's Comment.
Even little children are amazed at the backwardness of New York. A bright youngster of five, crossing over from New Jersey and seeing the West street transportation line for the first time, asked her father's countenance nearly off, exclaiming: "Oh, papa, see the trolley cars being pulled by horses!"—A. T. Press.

REVEALS MAJESTY OF NATURE

Grandeur in the Thunderstorm as It is Seen by the Dweller in the Country.

The thunderstorm now has its day. It rumbles across the sunny face of the midsummer heavens. Sometimes it lowers the temperature and fills the air with freshness. Almost invariably it prickles the nerves of your little sister and maiden aunt. It splinters the city flag pole, it demolishes the village steeple, it burns the farmer's barn. But all this does not prevent the thunderstorm from being the most awe-inspiring phenomenon which nature ordinarily shows to man. The city dweller, scurrying impotently through canyons of masonry, does not have more than a hint of the true grandeur. One should be upon a hill-top or on a broad lake to realize the omnipotence of the storm. The air is sultry. Great white "thunder-heads" pinnacle the heaven. Dark clouds bulk upon the horizon. These are faced with lightning. The dwarfs can be heard at their bowling on distant mountain peaks. The sun is overcast. The storm rushes onward. A glowing copper tinge marks its center. A hush broods over the lake's unrippled waters. Suddenly comes a blast of wind as if from the puffing cheeks of a giant. Then like a marching white waterfall—the rain. It pelts upon the lake until the drops seem to rebound. The thunder has ceased its rumbling. Now it comes with the lightning in a treble up like the tearing of a sail. Thus the storm mounts to its crescendo, studdes, wanes, dwindles and fades—ramping away across the countryside. The sun creeps out. The heavens shine with fresher blue. The universe is purified. If all this be not majestic, there is none to nature—Ocher.

STORY FAILED TO WAKE HIT

Did Man's Lame "Yarn" Greeted with Laughter Instead of Admiration. He Expected.

"That was a lame and impotent conclusion," said Senator Aldrich of an opponent's tariff speech. "It failed of effect like old Elisha Grey's adventure story."

"At a package party one winter night in the village the guests regaled one another with weird and frightening adventures that had befallen them in lonely churchyards. They told of meetings with highwaymen in deserted lanes, encounters in lonely houses with desperate burglars, and so forth.

"Vain old Elisha Grey, after an hour or so of this, got jealous of the interest and awe that the adventure stories of the men about him stirred up. So, interrupting a burglar yarn quite rudely, he piped in his high quaver:

"I ain't never been molested, but woe'st ladies an' gent's. I was hurried to home from the ginjal store at the time. It was late at night—close on ten, I guess—and just as I was passing the doctor's—it was dark an' lonesome, I tell ye—why, a soft-spoken young feller steps up an' asks me for a match. So I up with my fist an' handed him a good one on the jaw, an' liked out of there just as fast as my legs could carry me.

"Old Elisha, looking around for a display of so-called admiration, was very much disappointed indeed. To feel the end of his story greeted with a look of laughter."

The Heaviest Ringing Bell.
Capt. James H. Hays, of the 1st Cavalry, has had a narrow escape from disaster.

It was being rung during the White Sulphur when a bolt which kept the clapper in position came out owing to the displacement of a pin. The result was that the clapper, which weighs well over two hundred pounds, also came out and fell as the bell was swinging. A good stout floor prevented the clapper from going into the ringing chamber below, where there were 15 or 16 ringers. The clapper was knocked clear by the bell itself, and beyond slight chipping of the lip, Grandison suffered no damage.

The bell is the heaviest used for ringing in the world, and has only been rung single handed through a peal, the ringer in that case being Mr. W. Pye of London. Grandison weighs 72 hundredweight, and if the stock be included, something like four tons. The bells had not been rung for a twelvemonth, owing to repairs to the tower, and the present mishap is therefore particularly unfortunate.

Miles Covered in Dancing.

Dancing is a strenuous exercise. Calculations show the distances negotiated in a night by fair enthusiasts and their partners to be worthy the performance of athletes. Thus, the average waltz turn will require a dancer to travel over 1,300 yards. Other round dances in their accomplishment involve the mazurka, 1,050 yards; the polka, a trifle under the thousand; the pas de quatre, barely 900 yards. Quadrilles, however, hold the record, since dancing one entails on each of the eight persons in the set the achievement, all unwittingly of a constitutional of a mile and a quarter long; while dancing the full card, inclusive of the cotillon, at a ball beginning say at ten o'clock at night and winding up at five o'clock the following morning, necessitates the taking of 28,000 steps, or a total distance covered of over 22 miles.
