HER FEAR

An old couple from the country wandered into a moving picture show in town. As they entered a cowboy picture was being shown. The old lady laid a restraining hand on her husband's arm. "Bill," she said, "let's not go too far down in front; the dust those horses are kicking up is something awful. My clothes'll be ruined!"

NOT DREAMED

We shall never dream ourselves into the man we would like to be—it takes hammers and blows to do that. Our characters are forged—not dreamed.

IF YOU AND I!

If you would smile a little more
And I would kinder be;
If you would stop to think before
You speak of faults you see;
If I would show more patience, too
With all with whom I'm hurled,
Then I would help—and so would you—
To make a better world!

If you would cheer your neighbor more
And I'd encourage mine;
If you would linger at his door
To say his work is fine.
And I would stop to help him when
His lips in frowns are curled,
Both you and I'd be helping then
To make a better world.

But just as long as you keep still
And plod your selfish way;
And I rush on, and heedless kill
The kind words I could say;
While you and I refuse to smile
And keep our gay flags furled;
Someone will grumble all the while
That it's a gloomy world.

JUST THE THING

"My wife has a great scheme to save coal."
"What is it."
"Spend the winter in Florida."

THE BEAUTIFUL SNOW

Where are our poets, those who in rhythmic words tell of the beautiful snow, why it reached here on Saturday evening through the chill, and not a word have we from our poets. The weather man told us of another approaching wave and that there would be more of the beautiful snow, and according to appointment, it came! Oh, where are our poets! yes it came, outdoing the former at a temperature of 8 degrees above, as compared with three degrees below and the snow, the beautiful snow, of three inches, as compared with just a skim; no poet. Days just before us are to be fair and cold.

GOOD BAIT

"After being my affianced for five years she breaks the engagement and sends back the ring."

"Well, that engagement ring has doubled in value. Wouldn't wonder if you could get a better girl with it."

120 ACRES OF BLUE GRASS LAND FOR SALE AT AUCTION On Saturday, December 20th at 10:30 O'clock A. M.

This choice acreage is situated on the Clays Mill pike, three miles from the Lexington Courthouse in the very best neighborhood and only a half mile from the County High School.

Tract No. 1 contains 91 1-2 acres, with a brand new bungalow residence, a 14-acre tobacco barn, good tenant house and plenty of necessary outbuildings.

50 acres is in old blue grass sod and is thoroughly adapted to raise a heavy and choice tobacco crop. To see it induces a desire to own it.

Tract No. 2 contains 30 acres, adjoins the above, has a 5-room cottage and a barn. This would be a nice little investment, would make a choice home and would pay for itself in two years.

These farms are sold in order to divide a partnership. For further information call on Frazer & Jackson, selling agents for E. R. and W. E. Little.
