FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

FRANKFORT, FEBRUARY 14, 1891.

Granted Pensions.

Levi Berry and William Bush, of this city, were granted pensions, on Tuesday, for service in the late war.

Seeking a Nomination.

Attorney General P. W. Hardin, of this city, has announced himself as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

Next Month.

Rumor hath it that a young gentleman sojourning in the western part of the State will come to this city to claim a bride from among the young ladies of the South Side some time in March.

Lexington Sale.

Quite a number of the horse men of this county have been attending the sale of horses in Lexington this week and many of them have sold a portion of their stock at the same, fair prices being realized.

Holds On.

The ground hog winter still continues and the weather the first of the week demonstrated the wisdom of his hogship in again seeking his hole on the second of this month. As a weather prophet the shadow of the ground hog never grows less.

Cottage Sold.

Mr. J. H. Williamson has sold his new two-story cottage on Third street, between Steele and Conway, to Miss Ruth Robinson for two thousand dollars cash. Miss Robinson will take possession next week and remove there to reside.

Violated His Parole.

Russell Brown, a negro sent to the Penitentiary from Lexington upon the charge of manslaughter, who was released on parole after serving four months of his time, was returned to the Pen. on Monday, by order of the Governor, having violated the terms of his parole.

Name Wanted.

"A Friend," who sent us a communication from Polsgrove, is requested to send his name to this office and he will receive the information he desires. As we have already published one obituary of the person upon whose death he writes, we hardly think another desirable.

Suburban Residence Sold.

Mr. John C. Peden has purchased of Mr. R. W. Smith his residence on Thorn Hill for twenty-five hundred dollars. This was a great bargain as the place cost Mr. Smith over three thousand dollars and the house has been built but little more than a year. Mr. Peden took possession last week and moved in.

ENTITLED TO THE BEST.

All are entitled to the best their money will buy, so every family should have, at once, a bottle of the best family remedy, Syrup of Figs, to cleanse the system when constive or bilious. For sale in 50c and $1.00 bottles by all leading druggists. 22-m.

The Mask Hop.

The masquerade hop given by the German Benevolent Society at the Capital Hotel on Monday night was a notable event in the whole series of the winter season of gaiety, prior to the advent of the lenten season. Everything was conducted in strictly first-class style and the entire management paid assiduous attention to the vast assemblage. There were about fifty couples on the floor at one time, while the number of spectators who did not participate in the dance was very large. The music furnished was delightful and those present enjoyed themselves until near the dawn of Tuesday.

Voice From Bowling Green.

The following communication to the Louisville Times of Tuesday afternoon, was headed "Kenelm's Kick." As the writer displays a great deal of "horse sense," he has a perfect right to kick, and we hope he will continue to do so vigorously.

It strikes me—as it must strike every citizen of the State not personally and privately interested in the matter—that it is a piece of the merest absurdity in that "august body," the Constitutional Convention, to consume one moment of its time considering the removal of the State Capital. For all practicable and legitimate purposes; for all purposes for which the Capital was made to serve, there is no better place in the State for its location than where it now is. This is a proposition so open, so simple and plain, that all argument on the point appears the utmost superfluity and ridiculousness.

If, harkening to the alleged reasons of the Lexington or the Louisville lobby, the Constitutional Convention should decide to move the Capital to either one of these cities, then with a parity of logic the Capital might be moved back to Frankfort or to any other point in the State. For as sound reasons can be given for a perpetual removal of the Capital as are now being urged for its removal from Frankfort.

To these "Commercial Clubs," which send out their lobbies from the different cities wanting the Capital, I would say: "What is your motive for wanting the Capital moved? Is it the interest of the State you have at heart? Or do you really look over the interest of the State and only have in view the commercial and real estate interest of your own particular city? If the former be your motive, then your patriotism is far more to be praised than your sagacity. If the latter be your motive, then your sagacity is far more to be praised than your patriotism."

The smaller, the more quiet, the more of a rural air a town may breathe, the better suited it is a location for the State Capital; for such a location is, in the greatest degree possible, accessible to the various seductive and vitiating agencies, which, for one purpose and another, should continually gather about and beset a Capital situated in a large city. Surely we can not be too solicitous in seeing to the wholesomeness and purity of the social and moral environment of the fountain of State Government, that thereby all things possible may conduce to the purity of the waters that issue therefrom. Yet this fact is overlooked by those who, for private and individual ends, are striving to have the Capital moved from Frankfort to some larger city.

Some, when asked why they want the Capital moved, answer, saying: "Oh, Frankfort is such a quiet, dead and out-of-the-way place little place!" It is thus such people give an argument against themselves. They forget that Frankfort was not selected with a view to its commercial or social importance, but as a suitable location for the seat of State Government. If there be any State officer who finds Frankfort too quiet to suit him, then by all means, let him resign his office at once, for we take such fact as indisputable evidence of his inefficiency as a public officer-holder, be he fit for whatever other purpose he may.

Remember that the most gay, costly and gorgeous Capitols the world has ever known have been the government seat of despotism. When the Capital of a country becomes a social centre, it has become at the same time unworthy and inefficient as the seat of government.

Never mind about the comparative humbleness and unpretentiousness of the Capital building. The people are making no complaint about it. It answers its purpose very well. What the people are anxious to see is their common tax made as low as is consistent with a wise, just and economical expense of State, and thereby a little handsomer capitol builded in their pockets. What the people want to see is not a more splendid and honorably appearing capitol building, but the ability and conduct of public servants who are sent to Frankfort such as to honor the one we have. KENELM. BOWLING GREEN, KY., Feb. 9.

A Valuable Discovery.

Dr. Brown Sequard's elixir of youth may be an important discovery, but every one knows that Dr. Franklin Miles' New Heart Cure certainly is. It has given thousands afflicted with serious heart disease a new lease of life. Druggists, who can observe its effects on many customers, everywhere speak very highly of it. Mr. John Weaver, of Knightstown, Ind., says: "I have sold much of Dr. Miles' New Cure and have received many good reports." O. Monroe, of Dunkirk, N. Y., reports large sales. "And the best part of it is every bottle has given satisfaction." Sold and guaranteed by J. W. Gayle.

Rafting.

A great many rafts of logs are now passing Beattyville on their way to Ford, Frankfort and other down-river points. Let us advise all the mills at these places to make hay while the sun shines, as it is only a question of a few months until the R. N. I. & B., will be completed to this point, and the Beattyville mills will cut practically all the timber that will come out of her three rivers. With facilities for shipping timber from this point, our friends down the river will either have to move their mills to Beattyville or quit business, as they will then be unable to compete with Beattyville prices. Be warned in time, come now to Beattyville; select your mill site and get every thing in order to move with the procession.—Beattyville Enterprise.

C. H. BOGMAN, M. D.

The Eminent Specialist, formerly resident Physician of the Philadelphia General Hospital, Physician in charge of the Ohio Medical Institute, Cincinnati, Ohio, has for twenty-five years successfully devoted his time to the treatment of his specialties. He successfully treats all curable cases of Chronic and Acute Diseases. His treatment is based on the largest experience after thorough educational preparation.

Rheumatism is essentially a disease of the nervous system, and all his investigations show beyond a doubt, that upon this theory he has for years treated it with phenomenal success. The Rheumatic and Heart Affections, Rheumatoid, Gout, and other inflammatory diseases may all be avoided or cured by our treatment.

Bright's Disease of the Kidneys is the result of faulty nutrition, over stimulation, or the use of improper remedies to increase the flow of urine.

Diseases of the Digestive Organs are the most frequent causes of the general diseases. Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Constipation and Chronic Diarrhea, all result in impoverished nutrition, and render the system susceptible to the invasion of other diseases.

Young Men, who are really approaching the end of their life, and who are suffering from the effects of a long and dissipated life, will do well to consult us at once. These habits are the result of disease, and will not cure such cases without aid. We invite your fatherly confidence and promise you relief.

Middle-Aged Men who observe certain irritations of a bladder and urethra or water passing with sediment in the urine, should call to mind the possibility of such symptoms as indications of serious diseases which admit of no delay.

Every person consulting us should bring or send four to six ounces of his urine, which we will submit to a thorough microscopical examination and chemical analysis, a certificate and chart of which will be furnished the patient.

We cure old cases which have baffled the skill of other physicians—Why? Because our extensive experience enables us to recognize the causes of disease.

We invite all who have failed to obtain relief elsewhere to consult us. All curable cases are guaranteed.

Patients treated by mail and express. Where possible personal consultation is preferable. List of questions sent free on application.

All cases and correspondence strictly confidential. Treatment sent C. O. D. to any part of the United States and Canada. Address with stamp for reply.
