ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce Dan. Bowden, of the Headquarters precinct, a candidate for Assessor of Nicholas County—subject to the action of the Democracy in Primary Election.

Wm. O. Hite is a candidate for Councilman of the 2nd Ward, subject to action of the Primary Election, Mar. 25th.

It is generally conceded by the country at large, that the Garfield-Rosecrans letter was generally misinterpreted and that the head of his promotion over...

DAVE COOPER, of Ysleta, Texas, thanks for a copy of the "Progressive" published at Paso del Norte, Sabado, Marzo 11, de 1882. We put in the stove with a alacrity, "Praise the Lord!"

A WASHINGTON dispatch to the Louisville Post says: "The letter of Wm. Brown, of the Seventh Kentucky district, admitting that he is author of the 'Justice' letter in the Post, reduces materially the interest in the letter. Brown is recognized here as smart, but his utterances are not looked upon with so much interest as would those of Chauncey I. Pillely, or others, against whom suspicion of the letter was held. He says he would have borne Garfield's secret to the grave but for the publication of the Garfield-Rosecrans letter. He says frankly that Blaine, Conkling, Rosecrans, or Arthur had nothing to do with his letter, though he was a Blaine man in that convention. Brown is a resident of Jessamine county, but has been here several years as a claim agent."

The New York Sun recently published a letter written by Gen. Garfield, while chief of staff of Gen. Rosecrans, sharply criticising his bearing as an officer, to Secretary Chase, which was, it is alleged, the cause of his removal from the command of the Army of the Cumberland. The letter, of course, created a general howl over the North, by its showing up Garfield as a traitor to one whom he avowed his best friend—in fact, counter letters from him were published. In the midst of all of this howling, a very interesting letter ever the Non de plume of "Justice," was published in the Washington Post, which fully substantiated the genuineness of the Garfield-Chase letter, and added some new and thrilling features to it, showing up Garfield in a very unenviable light—so as to drown out all of his glory of being the statesman, President, getting shot, and being prayed for by millions, &c., &c.

Wm. Brown, of Nicholasville, Kentucky, who was once a candidate for Congress against Beck, has published a letter in the Washington Post, in which he claims the authorship of the "Justice" letter, and goes on to say that there were several other letters still more damaging the character of General Rosecrans, all showing how Garfield, while professing friendship for Rosecrans, was trying to undermine and disgrace him, for Mr. Chase was all-powerful at that time, and could make or unmake any man. "Much of my own correspondence is mixed with all these papers, and I hope is destroyed; for if all these letters ever come to light I could not easily explain, with a knowledge of their existence, how I canvassed for Gen. Garfield. President Garfield's friends, instead of censuring me, should also be gratified that I bore his secret in my bosom for fifteen years, and would have borne it to my grave, but for that unfortunate letter Mr. Dana published. If I formed an unjust opinion of Garfield, it was the work of Mr. Chase. He is dead, and I shall never reveal several conversations we had on this street," says Mr. Brown.

Millersburg Department.

Mack Miller is the happy possessor of a $250 trotter.

It is claimed that there will be but a small peach crop this year.

Hinkston is doing all in her power to augment the boom of the Ohio.

Judge Bryan's painter has arrived and new scenery will soon grace the hall.

It would be something like old times to have the pulpits of all four churches occupied.

The Rev. L. H. Blanton will commence a protracted meeting at the Presbyterian church to-night.

All young ladies who are visiting in other cities, will please return home. Maysville papers will copy.

Eld. W. G. Sweeney having been employed by the Christian church, will commence his services Sunday morning next.

Charlie Miller went up to hear Mr. Barnes preach, ate too much of some friends' dinner and is now destroying medicine.

Alex. Butler has moved to town and resides in the Vimont property on Pleasant street nearly opposite the Methodist church.

Rev. Blanton, of Richmond, known and honored by all, will begin a series of meetings at the Presbyterian church, Friday evening.

Craddock must have been joking when he spoke of giving Mr. Barnes his editorial influence. Certainly no one has accused Craddock of possessing such a thing.

Mrs. Dr. Smith has a collection of 23 canaries, and two red birds. One old mother canary picked the feathers from her brood which are just six weeks old, to line the nest for an anticipated new flock.

Something is going to happen before long—say six months, and 'twill distinctly produce a stillness heard around the next block. Only a few friends will be present and congratulations will not be in order.

The dog tax of $2 per head in Nicholas, has caused a prominent farmer to loan out a favorite nine-years-old pup to a Millersburg man. Thus it will be all along the line of Bourbon—a refuge for Nicholas sheep-raiders.

Jeff. M. Vimont has purchased to place at the head of Hickory Hill Flock, the imported cotswold ram, Royal Standard, of Robt. Collocutt, of Tyrone, Canada. The ram was bred by Robt. Lane, of England, and is a perfect daisy among daisies.

Nature was very thoughtful when she made rocks non-combustible. Had it been otherwise the "old stone factory" would have been destroyed long ago. Poor, but dishonest, individuals have torn away the flooring during the past winter.

Tom Savage says he don't know whether to put a fence round the public square, or a square fence round the public, or a public square, or a square fence around the public, or, to collect a hard-some sum and call it square. Any way he is willing to do the square thing.

Some three years since Rev. Alex. Redd delivered a discourse from the Methodist pulpit on the subject of "prayer." The sermon was eligible in premises, novel in conception, rich in imagery and replete in pathos. If the gentleman will repeat it he will gratify many.

Mike Thornton having sold three new buggies and a rockaway to parties beyond Lexington, is becoming imbued with the spirit of enterprise. He has employed a first-class carriage painter and rented the Warren & Ingles depository, besides having bought out the stock of tools and paints from S. D. Dodson. He will allow no man in Kentucky to cut his prices, or excel the neatness or durability of his work.

Rev. J. J. Dickey has undertaken the Herculean task of raising a subscription of $25,000 for the benefit of the Kentucky Wesleyan College. Certainly the Methodists throughout the state will rally to the support of an institution which has done so much to promote the interests of their church. It is the only surviving college in Kentucky controlled by the conference. Are all of the prayers and labors to be expended upon it in vain? Upon the hands of such men of pluck and energy, as Mr. Dickey, the fortune and life of the institution have devolved.

AROUND THE CIRCLE.

Winchester is pining for a good fiddler.

Boonesboro, the oldest place in the West, never had a post-office.

Plymouth Rock hen eggs sell at $1.50 per dozen at Princetown.

There are newspapers run by negroes in Louisville.—[Muhlenburg Echo.

A catamount has been killed near Germantown, but what does one catamount to?

Dave Badger, of Owingsville, has purchased the Sharpsburg flouring mills.

The house of John Bean, of Mt. Sterling, was unroofed by the storm Saturday night.

The Court of Appeals will give Craft, one of the Ashland murderers, a new hearing on April 10th.

Over three hundred names are entered on the State College register, about seventy-five of whom are ladies.

McLean county has a young man who is twenty-three years old, four feet high, and weighs sixty-five pounds.

If it were not for the dogs and tins cans, the Flemingsburg papers would have nothing to laugh at.

In order to evade the fraud of a milkmaid and get the unadulterated juice, a Mt. Sterling hog sucks a cow.

A female lunatic was received at the Lexington Asylum the other day, who had a loaded revolver hid in her bosom.

Victor McManama, for plugging Tice Hall with a leaden sinker at Georgetown, was released and told to do so no more.

Lightning destroyed a barn and 100 barrels of corn, and a cow, belonging to Thos. Gaines, near Winchester, Sunday night.

A prisoner kicked a hole in the jail at Vanceburg, and walked out. This is the third jail delivery there within a few weeks.

Owingsville can have no more snake stands, according to a late law. Now the jug business will pint to lively times in other quarters.

C. C. Michael, the conductor who got struck in the eye with a pistol by a drunken man in Lexington last week, has been taken to Louisville for treatment.

A one armed man and his two-legged wife, begged all the money they could at Flemingsburg, got drunk and celebrated the 17th of March in a regular old 4th of July style.

Judge Postwell, now both City Judge and Postmaster of Harrodsburg, fined a fellow $10 and costs for standing his horse to "stake hay" for twenty-four hours without water.

The Bourbon News says "mumps have made their appearance in Paris." How many Bro. Champ?—[Hopkinsville New Era.

Why one mump and another one, of course.

An exchange comes to us bearing the remarkable news that "it snowed yesterday." He might have added with the same propriety that it blowed the day before, or that the sun shone also.

The SEMI-WEEKLY BOURBON NEWS is its name, and a bright, sparkling and newsy sheet it is too. We hope it will be rewarded with the success it so richly deserves.—[Hopkinsville New Era.

A man named Harrison, of Lewis county, has learned that a cartridge will explode, by throwing one on the floor. The ball struck and seriously wounded an innocent little child. Who is responsible for the act, the Lord, devil, or a darned fool man?

Bro. Barnes, having captured Bowling Green, has moved upon the arch enemy's works in the Bourbon Nation, a land where the herd-book outranks the Bible. If he can convince the average Bourbon sinner that the rearing of short-horns is a leading occupation in Heaven he will meet with immense success. The religion to captivate the ungodly Bourbon-naise must be of the Rose of Sharon strain.—[Breckinridge News.

It is too late in the day for the Blackburns and Bourbons to attempt that old game of intimidation in Kentucky. Republican reporters and newspaper men don't scare worth a cent. We advise the aforesaid B's and B's to revive the cowardly Ku Klux Klans. Some of us to-day would like to get a chance at the sneaking devils who used to ride through the State at midnight in gangs to frighten old women and whip old colored men.—[Danville Tribune.

The Nicholasville Courier has found a man who has a violin made in 1767.

Only forty-five candidates in Caldwell county for the various county offices.

In Bath county, Dick Bigstaff's barn was burned by a colored woman living with him. Loss $800.

Miss Sue Bennet, of Madison, was frightened into spasms by a fight between two negro men at her father's house. She is dangerously ill.

Robert Woods, a colored blacksmith in Danville, gave his wife a severe beating two weeks ago, from the effects of which she died, Monday.

Fourteen convicts, whose term of service expired while they were working on the Big Sandy Railroad, are now employed as laborers on said road.

A sewing machine agent at Harrodsburg, who deserted a sick wife and ran away with a young girl, has been arrested at Chattanooga, Tenn., and brought back to face the music of having stolen $100 belonging to the machine company.

In the Senate a bill preventing intoxication of State, district, county, city and town officers of the State was rejected, and the bill preventing gaming by State, district, county, city and town officers was virtually killed, the Committee which had it under consideration having been discharged.

In the House the resolution appropriating $10,000 to the sufferers in the overflowed district, caused by the overflow of the Mississippi River, was called up, and Mr. Corbett moved to strike out $10,000 and insert $100,000, which was rejected. The original resolution was then rejected—nays, 49; yeas, 29.

If the Kentucky Legislature wants to do something to make somebody laugh, it should pass an act entitling witnesses in civil suits to $3 per day payable in advance. This would put a stop to thousands of little suits which could be compromised for a trifle.

The attention of the citizens of Bourbon and surrounding counties is respectfully called to my spring stock of

THE BEST REMEDY

FOR Diseases of the Throat and Lungs.

AYER'S

In diseases of the pulmonary organs a safe and reliable remedy is invaluable. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is such a remedy, and no other so eminently merits the confidence of the public. It is a scientific combination of the medicinal principles and curative virtues of the finest drugs, chemically united, of such power as to insure the greatest possible efficiency and uniformity of results. It strikes at the foundation of all pulmonary diseases, affording prompt relief and rapid cures, and is adapted to patients of any age or either sex. Being very palatable, the youngest children take it readily. In ordinary Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Influenza, Clergyman's Sore Throat, Asthma, Croup, and Catarrh, the effects of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL are magical, and multitudes are annually preserved from serious illness by its timely and faithful use. It should be kept at hand in every household for the protection it affords in sudden attacks. In Whooping-cough and Consumption there is no other remedy so efficacious, soothing, and helpful.

Low prices are inducements to try some of the many mixtures, or syrups, made of cheap and ineffective ingredients, now offered, which, as they contain no curative qualities, can afford only temporary relief, and are sure to deceive and disappoint the patient. Diseases of the throat and lungs demand active and effective treatment; and it is dangerous experimenting with unknown and cheap medicines, from the great liability that these diseases may, while so trifled with, become deeply seated or incurable. Use AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and you may confidently expect the best results. It is a standard medical preparation, of known and acknowledged curative power, and is as cheap as its careful preparation and fine ingredients will allow. Eminent physicians, knowing its composition, prescribe it in their practice. The test of half a century has proven its absolute certainty to cure all pulmonary complaints not already beyond the reach of human aid.
