

THE BOURBON NEWS.

SEMI-WEEKLY.

VOL. I.

PARIS, BOURBON COUNTY, KENTUCKY: FRIDAY, APRIL, 7, 1882.

NO. 10.

Jos. NEWHALL & SON have opened a machine shop near Ed. McKinney's.

Minnows for fishing bait, are quoted at fifteen cents per dozen, in this market.

The Democratic ticket for city officers, was elected without opposition, Wednesday.

The manufactured ice of Lexington, has a milky color, owing to the limestone water.

"Boss" PULLEN has gone to Frankfort to settle with Auditor Hewitt the balance of the State taxes.

BEDFORD & HEDGES have moved their entire stock of goods from Millersburg, to this place, and though not selling "at cost," are doing a pushing, thriving business.

OVER one thousand of our citizens monkeyed to the grand stand and had their savage breasts soothed with the Eolian strains of the Wizard Oil song, fiddle and bonjo band, several nights this week.

WILL ISGRIGG, a fisherman of the pure cold waterfaith caught 16 newlights which weighed 16 lbs. while a lot of boys of the Barnes faith fished all around him and couldn't get a nibble, on Tuesday last.

The Crab Orchard Spring hotel property has been sold to John Shelby, for $35,000. Prof. O. P. Moore, who was conducting a school of 66 scholars in the building, vacated and moved his school to a church.

LIKE a ram dumb before the shearer, Mary's little lamb now tumbles on his back and points his feet zenithward before the sturdy farmer, who calmly meditates the harvest at 20 cts per pound, for long, 23 for medium, and 25 for short.

Mrs. L. ASHURST, of Hutchinson's Station, has pulled the first flock of ripe Spring chickens in the county, and made a kindly spread before some guests Wednesday. She has 150 little chirpers now ranging from a "pip" to the frying pan.

The body of a floater was found on the dam at Riddles Mills, yesterday morning. It was very much decomposed, and was beyond recognition, but was supposed to have been that of the blind negro who was drowned above there some three months ago.

If you want sewing machine needles for any machine; writing paper and envelopes of rare selections; newspapers and literary periodicals of all kinds; pens, pencils, or note book; pocket-books; or anything of the notion line, call on Foster & Sanders.

The handsomest stock of chromos, the largest and most complete stock of stationery, a complete line of musical instruments and music, French harps of an unexcelled quality, base balls, and every conceivable thing in the notion line, can be found at Foster & Sanders' book and notion store.

Dick Talbott, our baggage smasher, who is one of the Barnes converts, didn't get mad at a negro whom he caught stealing something about his office the other day, but just got a piece of plank and gave him a stirring-up in the name of the Lord, and justice was satisfied, when he didn't feel revenged in the least.

The K. C. road will run an excursion from Lexington to Cynthiana, Sunday, to the Barnes meeting. The rates for the round trip will be from Lexington, $1.00; Muir, 75; Hutchinson, 75; Paris, 60; Kiser's, 30; Shawhan, 30; The train will return after the night services. Judging from the feeling here, the excursion will be a grand success.

The palace advertising car of the Sells Bro's here last week, was 67 feet long, and cost within a fraction of $10,000. It was elegantly painted all round in handsome oil subjects, which required the artist nine months' constant labor, at an expense of over $1,900. It was fitted up elegantly inside, with a parlor, paste and advertising rooms, and sleeping bunks for twenty men.

CAPT. GUS RESSESS, of the Maysville Guards, passed through our city a day or two ago. On being questioned by the News why himself and subordinate officers had all resigned their commissions, replied that the true secret of the trouble was, that they desired to retire from service—that they could not afford to be absent from business several weeks at a time like they had been recently.

The Carlisle Mercury says that M. A. Barlow, of that county, went into Bierly's restaurant the other day, and ate four pounds of cheese, one pound of sausage, one pound of crackers, four pies, four cups of coffee, one dozen of pickles, and one-half pound of sugar, after having had his dinner a short time before. The chap is but nineteen years old, and offers to store away six bushels of provender on a wagon.

In consequence of a war among the grocers of Lexington, coal oil which costs ten cents per gallon, is being retailed at eight.

Our Millersburg bundle of papers are frequently carried by that place, to Maysville, and are returned up the road the next morning. This, of course is the fault of the mail agents on that line, and not of this office, as many suppose. Also, in order that we may miss no subscriber at that office, we place several extra copies in our bundles, so when any one's name is overlooked by accident, the paper may be supplied on application to the postmaster. Subscribers will please remember this.

The jury in the case of Matt Lightfoot, for murder, which was tried in Carlisle last week on a change of venue from Rowan county, hung fire for near a week, but came to a decision Wednesday afternoon. They found the defendant guilty of manslaughter, and fixed his punishment at imprisonment for nine years. The council for the defense will appeal. There were several for acquitted, one or two for the death sentence, and several for imprisonment; therefore a compromise verdict was rendered.

ANSWERS:—The News is published every Tuesday and Friday, between the hours of 9 and 11 A. M., rain or shine, sleet or snow, and will continue to say what it chooses until removed by death, fire or flood. The family of the News resides in the old Porter residence near the freight depot, and the $1,200 per annum that is spent to feed and clothe that family shall be spent among those that patronize the News. (A half dozen blind men in this city would do well to remember this, too.) The News office is situated on Bank row, opposite the Court-House, and it's glaring sign can be seen from any place on Main street.

Some fellow "mited a big 'fusion among the motley crew who were monkeying around the grand stand of the Wizard Oil salvation dispensary, by hurling a cannon fire-cracker from a house-top into the crowded ranks, on Wednesday night. The grand bull-minnow of the occasion rained his back up to black cat propensities, and in his wrath, offered to divorce himself from a vast amount of wealth, in order to put the thumb-screws of the law down on the guilty perpetrator. For a moment, it seemed that a Bull Run panic was inevitable, but a little "chune" by the five grand end-men soon restored the shattered ranks to a living, breathing stone wall of free music absorbers.

THE BIG SIX-TENT, THREE-RING SHOW OF THE SELL'S BROTHERS.

This splendid popular and most honorably conducted Menagerie, Circus, Caravan and Museum, rumors of whose coming have already created much comment is, at last, positively announced to give afternoon and evening entertainments in Paris, Tuesday, April 25th. This stupendous combination of Six leading Railroad Shows is meeting, this season, with patronage so extraordinary that the management have been frequently compelled to give three exhibitions a day, in order to accommodate the immense crowds in attendance. Excursions are arranged on the different railroads, from all points within a radius of fifty miles from the place of exhibition, and the instances are rare when the trains do not come in crowded to their capacity with visitors. Their six tents, although the greatest both in number and magnitude of any show traveling, are frequently found inadequate to hold the people, and, in order to give the varied programme in detail, and without omitting any of its features, the management find three rings to be an absolute necessity.

Hours can be spent profitably passing through this wilderness of tents overflowing with the wonders of zoology, and with the curiosities of science, art and nature. Tent No. 1, a colossal structure requiring, of itself, as many folds of canvas as for the entire outfit of ordinary shows—contains the immense menagerie of caged wild beasts, catalogued, in which are many that are new to America, and none of which are other than the rarest of specimens. In tent No. 2 is the sextuple Aquarium, with its huge tanks and reservoirs of fresh and sea water, filled with living Sea Lions, Sea Elephants, Sea Tigers, Hippopotami, etc. In tent No. 3 is the largest collection of living wonders ever exhibited, while tent No. 4 is appropriated for the museum; tent No. 5 contains an immense herd of Elephants and Camels, including the smallest full-grown elephant ever known, and which is not one-half the size of the ordinary elephant newly born. In this tent are, also, a pair of Woolly Elephants from the Maylayan Archipelago, the only ones ever imported. Tent No. 6 is devoted to the grand three-ring Circus and Hippodrome, in which the most brilliant equestrians, gymnasts and athletes of the day will vie for the mastery.

A Frankfort dispatch to the Cincinnati Enquirer says: Charlie Brent, of Paris, has recovered $2,500 of the $20,000 stolen from the Citizen's Bank, which were stolen by the burglars, Cooney and Dunbar, and it is also rumored in Paris that Hazen is negotiating with some thieves for the return of the Carlisle bonds on the basis of no prosecution, and certain thieves are said to have gone to St. Louis to get the balance of the missing bonds. The Carlisle bonds are really of no value to the thieves, from the fact that a special act of the Legislature is pending to re-issue the amount of that class of bonds lost by Mr. Brent, in order to cover his loss; but, of course, if he can get the original ones back it will save the trouble and expense of the legislation. The bill has already passed one House.

"Let's take a little whiskey out of bond," is the way a man is now invited to drink in Lexington.—[Evening News.]

Prof. N. F. Smith, one of the deep-thinking hard nuts of Cynthiana, has jumped aboard of the Barnes salvation boat.

A pretty way to arrange Easter carols is to fasten them to ribbons of the same width as card, and hang the ribbon on a little easel.

One of the strongest reasons why certain persons profess to hate the Bible is that the Bible hates what they are doing all the time.

If a young fool can only be got to listen to a recital of the failures of an old one, and has sense enough to profit thereby, his fortune is half made.

It may be scouted as fulsome flattery for you to tell a young lady that she is winsome and fair, but she will think it, whether you tell her so not.

The last words of Wm. Hite, Sr., were "It's all right." How much better were these words than those of the great Napoleon, "To the head of the army?"

Mrs. J. W. Holliday announces that she is located next door to Philip Nipper's, and that she has a full line of beautiful flowers now ready for market.

Oscar Wilde wishes to shake hands with the author of the "Beautiful Snow." The poor fellow had better put on buck gloves, for he'll have an all summer's job.

Genius is a great thing, without doubt; but if you have the capacity for hard work you have so good a substitute for genius that you can't tell the difference between the two.

The Rev. Ernest McMillan, of the Presbyterian Church Assembly, will hold services every night this week. Rev. J. Alderson, from Maysville, will assist. All are invited to attend.

Life is short, but many of us live quite long enough to strew the wayside with seeds that will spring into noxious plants to curse, or perfumed flowers to bless those that come after us.

Adam Alecock and Miss Addie Hendren, of Lexington, created quite a ripple in the society of that dead city, by buzzing around to Nicholasville and Lexington in a buggy to get married when there was no particular need of running.

Passengers on the great Barnes boat at Cynthiana, examine with great care the gang plank before stepping aboard. They are satisfied that one end rests on the ground, but have their doubts about the other resting upon a boat "in their minds."

A woman never quite forgets the fellow who was hopelessly in love with her when she was young. She would give the world to possess his scalp, just to exhibit to her granddaughters.

Persons desiring to keep the run of the 500 "visiting" young ladies of Bourbon, will do well to not subscribe for the BOURBON NEWS, for our columns are not open for that class of silliness.

A Cynthiana lady compared Mr. Barnes to Christ the other day. That must have been when he drove down the street by the side of Morey, for Christ came into Jerusalem with just such an animal.

Mr. Barnes says that the commercial drummers are all big-hearted, clever men, but are very ungodly. Most of them know him, and gladly greet him and give him a good send-off at all new points.

Buckwheat cakes are now out of fashion, and jowl and greens, after having had a fair run among the Spring styles, are about to be superseded by Kentucky hockeak and butter-milk for roughness, and bird songs and sunshine for dessert.

Our druggists are finding an overwhelming run on paints and powders this season, and from indication, they will have to order by the car loads in the future, for the girls will be pretty, no matter how fatal the results.

The Rev. Mr. Alderson, of Maysville, has commenced a protracted meeting at the Southern Presbyterian Church, on Wednesday night. The Rev. J. C. Morris, of Louisville, is also conducting a meeting at the Methodist Church.

The Cynthiana News says that "Miss Maria Barnes possesses a sweet face full of expression, a modest dignified demeanor, and sings as though her heart was melting in sacred melody and flowing from her lips."

We understand that the friends of Frank Hall, have been dragging Stoner in certain places below town, in search of his body. The last heard from him, was that he had been discharged from the Lexington work-house.

When Mr. Barnes first started to preach his new doctrine, he preached at Lebanon three weeks, and only made one convert. He next struck Danville, his old home, and pegged away for three more weeks before he made convert; but before he left there, he had 1,500 confessions.

Major Morey, of the Cynthiana News, has gotten lamb-like enough to take a buggy ride with Mr. Barnes. It is highly probable that the great aurora-borealis, phantasmagoria, or grand head-light of that wicked little city will reap unto himself the shallow glory of being the last one to confess his Jesus on the Barnes plan.

Bishop Dudley told his nephew, of the Episcopal church, that he availed himself of every favorable opportunity of hearing Mr. Barnes preach, and further remarked that he thought every preacher could learn something from him; and that the world would never be converted until the plain, simple gospel was preached as Barnes preached it.

Bro. Barnes, your ear a moment confidentially: It would suit your hearers—especially the ladies—a great deal better if you would use less vulgarity in your discourses. We give you this as a "pointer."—[Cynthiana News.]

In the same column, and just a little above this pious suggestion, appears the following Godly and highly flavored remark: "Before he leaves this community we venture the assertion that Bro. Barnes will knock things H. W. and C." The initials meaning "Hell West and Crooked," originated by gutter snipes, and more recently thrown out to the public as a sweet morsel in the head-lines of the religious Cincinnati Enquirer. There is nothing like a religious consistency as well as originality.
