

THE BOURBON NEWS.

SEMI-WEEKLY.

VOL. I.

PARIS, BOURBON COUNTY, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, APRIL, 28, 1882.

NO. 16.

SEVERAL cows have died in Mason county, from eating frozen wheat.

CAPT. M. C. HUTCHINS has been appointed post-master of Maysville.

THERE wasn't a clown song book banger at the great circus. This should at least entitle it to great respect.

The last of the two hundred new cars for the Kentucky Central Railroad were received from the factory last week. The railroad is now very fairly equipped.

The City of Paris was fined $100 and costs Wednesday by the Commonwealth, for permitting the streets blockaded by colored folks in front of some up-town saloons.

EVERYBODY with their ready cash, are respectfully invited to attend the opening of a finely selected stock of fancy goods and notions, at Mrs. S. J. Turney's, Main Street, Paris, on to-morrow.

C. WEBLING, the butcher, will move in a few days, to the building now being repaired by John T. Hinton, on the corner near the Thurston House, opposite Hill's marble works.

The City Council convened in extra session Wednesday night, and re-elected all the saloons in the city. They contemplate adding another deputy marshal at an early date, we understand.

SOME Paris negroes had a sweet little revenge Tuesday, by whipping some Cynthia negroes who had whipped them on a recent visit to their city. Some white lads we understand, paid an odd score also.

MCCREARY, from Boyd's Station, while drunk, fell off the second porch of the Bourbon House to the pavement, Tuesday night, and was considerably bruised. He is still confined to his room.

Is going down the road Wednesday, we observed that at least half the wheat along the Licking bottoms was being plowed under: while a few other fields looked as flat as if a flock of elephants had rolled over them. All fields on high lands fared much better.

The K. C. road will sell round trip tickets from all points, to the Annual Conclave of Knights Templar at Covington, which convenes on May 2nd and continues until the 4th. From Paris to Covington and return, tickets will be sold for $3. Seven hundred Knights and ten brass bands will be in the parade Wednesday.

The residence of Wm. O. Crouch, in the edge of Bourbon county, was destroyed by fire about 12 o'clock Friday night. The family barely escaped with their lives. Besides the house and furniture about 12,000 pounds of wool were destroyed. There was $2,500 insurance on the building and $700 on the wool, in Hoffman's agency, in this city.—[Mt. Sterling Sentinel.]

Your aunt female ex-slave is a cute one. When she wants a sack of coal, she generously tenders her services to the laborer who shovels coal from the car to the cart, and while he stoops for a scoop, she throws a large lump into the cart and one on the ground; this is kept up until her confederate under the car has filled the sack and budges off. Of course a big "ligeous conversation is kept up all the while.

WEDNESDAY morning, a brakeman of a freight train on the Cincinnati Southern road left a Switch open at the Versailles pike crossing at Lexington, and the North bound passenger train with four coaches was dived, and the engineer, Dan Driscoll, killed, and his fireman James Sullivan, severely bruised. The engine was turned up side down and badly smashed, and the baggage car torn to pieces. The passengers though well shaken up, escaped uninjured.

The great circus of Sells Brothers showed to about 6,000 persons at each of their entertainments Tuesday. This is about the only circus that has ever shown in our city that has come fully up to the pictures on the walls. It's immensity cannot be excelled by anything in the show line now on the road. This company's receipts average about $5,000 per day, which leaves quite a margin for profits after deducting their expenses, which are about $1,500 per day—$500 of which is for advertising alone.

SELLS BRO'S showed to 8,000 persons at each entertainment in Covington, and 6,000 at each in Paris. Their advertising bill alone amounting to $500 per day brings them a profit of at least $3,000 per day. Had they not advertised a cents' worth in the State, of course they would have had no patronage. There are a few men too ignorant to yield to the fact that advertising pays. Of course the Sells Bros could live without advertising, but would have to saw wood or hoe corn and not depend on public patronage.

SOCIETY SCINTILLATIONS.

LON MANN is a candidate for Mayor of Carlisle again.

Yellow flowers trim dark-green and black straw bonnets. Our city doctors are reporting a poor baby crop this Spring.

The watermelon raquet, is the latest dance in colored society.

White net embroidered is used for neck-ties and chemisettes.

Joe Norvell, of Carlisle, now clerks in the Register's office at Frankfort.

Natural flowers have entirely superseded artificial ones for trimming dresses.

Mother Hubbard styles are now confined to morning wrappers and night dresses.

The newest cloth goods have round spots as large as the palm of a lady's hand.

We heard a preacher say he liked the show for just three things—the animals, clown, and circus.

The circus clown wore a sunflower calico suit; therefore all our girls are Wilde about sunflowers.

Everybody in town has an opening to-morrow. The Bourbon News will even open its books to credit subscriptions.

Harry Glenn, of Carlisle, who has been assistant clerk of the State Senate, gave us a call yesterday while en route home.

Capt. Frank Matlack, ex-conductor on the K. C., has been promoted to assistant yard-master of the Cincinnati Southern, at Dayton.

"Woman is an idol that man worships, until he throws it down," says a philosopher, but some women are to utterly idle to ever be worshipped.

Dr. Joseph Young, formerly of the K. W. College, at Millersburg, has been elected to the Chair of Natural Sciences, of Kentucky Military Institute.

The Mayor of Hamilton, Ohio, is named Puthoff. The boys say that he doesn't Puthoff 'till to-morrow that which should be done to-day.

It is about time for the fashion notes editor of some Missouri paper to tell the world something about Mrs. Jesse James' mourning outfit—particularly the bonnet.

Dr. W. H. Anderson, pastor of the Methodist church at Nicholasville, delivered the anniversary address Wednesday night for the Odd Fellows at Butler's Station.

Miss Jennie Wright, a highly accomplished teacher and contributor to the local press, has been added to the corps of teachers in Mrs. Tarrants school at Lexington.

A Nicholas county man at the circus Tuesday, remarked "the reason this show didn't go to Carlisle, was that there wasn't level ground enough there to set the big tents on."

Cynthiana and Carlisle only sent four or five representatives to the great Barnes revival, but sent large delegations to the circus. There's nothing like taste, you know.

Judge Garret Wall and a delegation of magistrates from Maysville, passed through here Tuesday, en route for Winchester, and will go from there to Covington, to examine the plans for a new jail.

John Avritt, son of Mrs. Avritt of this city, has charge of a sheep ranch near Tombstone, Arizona. He writes back that sheep are sold as low as 25 cents each, and chickens as high as $1.25.

Midway has a firm run by a couple of Baer brothers. Well, this is better than a firm of bare sisters, or bare bears, for it would be barely possible for a generous public to bear with anything more bare than the Baer brothers.

Ever thoughtful of the public's wants, and for the thorough diffusion of the valuable information, we stop the press a moment to announce that Dr. Charlie Fithian, Billy Shaw, Jr. and Milled Kennedy didn't usher any at the circus.

The young lady who, after boarding around in Massachusetts as a school-marm, went to Minnesota and was expelled because she whipped the children with pieces of plank from the side of a house, out to have been excused, for she was only hoarding round.

Miss Lida Avritt has returned from a short recess in this city, to her studies in the College of Music in Cincinnati, where she will continue her duties for at least three years longer, after which she will join her old tutor, Miss Jennie V. Robinson, formerly of Millersburg College, but now a student at Frankfort on the Main, in Germany.

Yesterday evening as the Maysville passenger train was backing up to the junction, Rudolph Davis, a twelve-year-old son of Geo. W. Davis, of this city, jumped from the train when passing the freight depot, struck a clearing post which threw him down. In the fall, one arm fell under the wheels, which cut the hand off near the wrist.

BOURBON LODGE, 23

The 63d anniversary of Odd Fellowship was celebrated by Bourbon Lodge, No. 23, Wednesday night at their hall in this city, at which a fair crowd listened to the exercises of the evening. An impromptu choir composed of a score of young ladies and gentlemen of the city, kindly favored the exercises with sweet music. Emmet Dickson, a talented member of the order, and a shining light of the Paris bar, delivered the welcome address in a few well-timed remarks appropriate for the occasion, after which Prof. H. R. Blaisdell, Principal of the City School, read the following condensed

HISTORY OF BOURBON LODGE:

Forty years ago in the little town of Lancaster a young man was conversing with an Odd Fellow. His soul was filled with admiration of the Order because of the working of it he had witnessed in Louisville. He expressed an ardent desire to become one. "Why do you not?" "Because there is no lodge accessible." "Then, get up one." "There are no Odd Fellows here." "Yes, there are two," naming the individuals, who chanced to be among the best friends of the young man. At that time there were only six lodges in the State. As a result of the above conversation, Franklin Lodge, No. 7 was organized. Shortly after, by the influence of that same individual, a lodge was organized at Danville. Removing to Paris not long afterwards, animated by a burning zeal to see the good work go on, it was not long before a beginning was made.

Nov. 29, 1845, was the day which saw Bourbon Lodge, No. 23, I. O. O. F. brought into existence, a healthy, useful life, which has progressed with increasing vigor to the present moment, and which bids fair to continue an enduring monument of the benevolence of man until Time shall be no more. P. G. John V. Lovely, as the leading spirit, together with George Stoll, Joseph B. Cooper, R. P. Timberlake and W. S. Simpson assembled on that day under a dispensation granted by John B. Hinkle, their Grand Master of Ky. The first officers of the young Lodge were J. V. Lovely, N. G., L. B. Allison, V. G., J. T. Davis, Treas., and W. W. Fothergill, Sec'y.

They first met in a room over the present store of Charles Stevens, opposite the Court House. After holding their meetings there for a few months, they removed to the upper story of a new building erected by Herr & Thompson, fronting Main street, now Speaks' stable. Energetic and managing, the lodge felt the need of larger and more convenient quarters, and some funds having accumulated they put up the building on the corner of Pleasant and Cross streets, the money they invested to be taken out in rent. Here they spent several years, until waxing strong and well to do, they determined, like thrifty housekeepers, to have a home of their own, and measures were incepted which led to the acquirement of the handsome property in which we now are assembled. They moved here about 1855, and began a career of greatly increased prosperity. Other lodges may have more costly apartments, but none are more convenient. Here has been the center, from which for more than a quarter of a century have radiated thoughts, words and deeds of kindness. Here have originated plans for soothing the pains of the sick brother, for supplying the wants of the widow and orphan, and the destitute in general.

The beginnings were small; the receipts during the first year were a little over $300; of the first decade were about $7,700; of the second, about $8,336; of the third about $9,800, making a grand total of receipts up to Jan. 1st, 1882 of the handsome sum of $30,459.64.

Our widow and orphans' fund is more than $4,000, of this only the income can be spent. $2,000 has been expended in the relief of widowed families, more than $3,000 in general charities, and $4,500 for sick and funeral benefits.

The Lodge has on hand in real estate, money and securities upwards of $18,000. Thus it will be seen that the Fraternity have a solid basis upon which to build present and future benefit for their fellows—a basis, too, accumulated by their own thrift and economy and all the while liberally satisfying every supplicating need, and fulfilling the engagements made with their own members. The stranger, smitten down by disease, far away from his own people, found at the hands of the brethren, kind and careful attention, and, when death came, was considerably borne back to his loved ones. Amid the clash of resounding arms in our late internecine strife, amid the alarms of devastating fire and sweeping pestilence, could be heard the voice of sympathy, and the hand going out full could be seen returning empty. But we forbear—"Let another praise thee."

Bourbon Lodge now numbers 85. The total membership has been to date, 442. 85 of our number have in these 37 years past been borne to their last home. The first born and the youngest brothers are still alive and present with us to-night. The oldest is not as good-looking as he once was, but the little fellow is handsome and industrious, and, ladies, still unmarried.

Our Lodge has ever maintained a respectable, nay, an influential position among the fraternity. Her voice is never unheeded. Our member, Brother B. F. Patten has, with dignity, filled the chair of Grand Master of the State. Bro. J. M. Daniels, for ten years as District Deputy Grand Master, has evidenced the careful study he has made of our laws and usages by a large number of accepted rulings upon divers points. We have several who are well posted and capable of filling the most exalted positions.

This slight sketch would be quite imperfect without some reference to the degree of Rebekah. We believe

"Woman is Heaven's warm heart below, This glory we accord her; To her with honors bright shall go The welcomes of our Order."

Many have availed themselves of their privilege, and all who are entitled to it are urged to present themselves at suitable times that they may discern the strength and beauty of the ties that join us to our noble fraternity.

But I forbear. Time would fail me if I attempted to portray in detail the workings of our Order. Is not the record found upon the tablets of the hearts of many sorrowing widows, helpless orphans and disease stricken brethren? Let Bourbon Lodge, No. 23, I. O. O. F. go on as she has begun and humanity will ever praise her.

Following the History of Bourbon Lodge,

W. H. HOLT, GRAND MASTER OF KY., entertained the audience in an address of one hour, on "True Odd Fellowship," which was replete with thoughts altogether foreign to the old manner of society addresses on similar occasions, which was well received by the brotherhood, and was particularly edifying to the uninitiated as well as the initiated. Members of the order present, complimented the address as being far more able than the one delivered by Schuyler Colfax, the father of the degree of Rebekah, at Butler's Station, last Spring.

The Trader, Turfman, Farmer and Sportsman.

Stock hogs in Fleming county are selling at $5 per hundred.

The Turf, Field and Farm tells of a sow that has a litter of twenty-six living pigs.

It is now thought that the Derby is between Runymede, Bengal and Gunbar.

Parties in Lincoln county are offering ninety cents per bushel for the growing wheat crop.

John Cummins, of Harlan county, has two ewes that dropped six lambs—three each, all living.

The recent stock sales in this section aggregated over one hundred thousand dollars.—[Lexington News.]

An old farmer who usually raises a good crop of corn says you oughtn't to plant corn until the dog-wood blooms.

Bush & Redmon, of Clark county, sold to A. J. Trimble 35 stock hogs, averaging about 125 pounds, at 6 cents per pound.

The time for the races next week has been changed back from 12:30 to 2 P. M. on account of the high kicking in Lexington.

Dwyer Bros. stable of racers, consisting of Hindoo, Luke Blackburn, Runymede, Charley Gorham and four others have arrived in Lexington.

A. T. Forsyth, auctioneer, sold at public sale Wednesday, the farm of the late Benjamin Bowen, of 376 acres near Kiser's Station, to H. C. Bowen, at $40 per acre.

Mr. A. J. Alexander, Woodburn Stud Farm, Woodford County, Ky., lost on April 15th, the bay filly (sister to Fox-hall) foaled April 8th, 1882, by King Alphonso, dam Jamaica, by Lexington.

W. L. Waers, of Mineral Point, Ohio, shipped from here last night two carloads of fine yearling cotswoold sheep, which averaged 140 pounds. He will clip them of their fleeces and then put them on the market.

Notice To Stockholders:
