A couple of daisies one male and female from Maysville, on the way to Sharpshurg took our town in on their route as well as a couple of half pints, drove around town, and attracted the attention of the boys, and by way of appreciation of them threw them some apples and onions into the buggy. They not knowing what was in the minds of the boys found business out of town in a hurry.
Amity Lodge No. 40 met at it's hall on Saturday night, and conferred the Master Masons degree upon Doughtman after which the society—with it's distinguished visitors from neighboring lodges, formed in line in the street and marched in broken step to the Purnell House, and enjoyed a supper such as the famed proprietress is in the habit of getting up on like occasions. After supplying the inner man to it's entire satisfaction a toast was drank by Amity Lodge to the visiting Lodges. Paris Lodge No. 2, responded in a few very appropriate and interesting remarks, showed the institution to be the most ancient in existence. Then Hiram Bassett—Grand Master of the State—captured the attention of the audience for a while with his eloquence, and statements of the good, accomplished by the Masons of the state. And yet another, and not by any means the least was a splendid speech and one that brought the house down more than once by Jas. Rogers of Hope Lodge, at Little Rock, (formerly Flat Rock,) whose remarks took us away back into antebellum days, when he was a boy, to find one honest man, to redeem the disgraceful act of another. Indeed upon the whole it was a real sociable affair.
