

THE BOURBON NEWS.

SEMI-WEEKLY.

PARIS, BOURBON COUNTY, KENTUCKY: TUESDAY, JUNE 19, 1883.

NO. 137.

VOL. II.

ANTHONY BROCK has been sentenced to prison for ten years, for horse-stealing, Lexington.

WANTED—A situation as governess. Address "Miss J. E. W.," lock box 20, Nicholasville, Ky. je19-2t

THERE will be a field trial to-day on the farm of James Clay, near Lexington, eleven twine-binders.

DR. ED. RAY says if there is but one soldier left next year, he is in favor of his meeting and having a reunion.

"COL." CRAWFORD, who murdered Pentons in Lewis county last winter, has been captured at Bloomington, Illinois.

The ladies of the Baptist church will have a strawberry supper in Ingel's new very stable Thursday and Friday nights.

It rained cat-fish down in Fleming county last week. Two suckers were found on dry land in the same vicinity.

The Kentucky Hiredling Association met in Louisville the 28th, to further their methods of robbing and making slaves of the people.

AT PUNCH, in command of ten mounted militiamen, has gone to Menifee county to capture five more of the Barnett gang, now fortified in a cave.

The 4th of July will be celebrated in Lexington, by laying the corner stone of the new Court House and everybody getting drunk out at Woodland Park.

FICKLEN, Bashford & Forsyth. How does that strike you as an auctioneering combination? Somebody second the motion, and lets pass the resolution.

TOWN MARSHAL George Freeman was shot and killed at Versailles Saturday night, by Ollie Brown. He received two shots in the breast and one in the leg.

W. B. SMITH, F. H. Wintemote and Hunter Brothers, of Versailles, rode down here on bicycles Sunday morning, a distance of thirty miles, in three hours.

COL. SWOFF'S enemies are asking for an investigation, charging that he discharged one subordinate and refused to sign others because they were supporters of Goodloe for Governor.

NEAL and Craft have been telegraphed from a Wheeling firm asking if they will sign a contract to lecture when they are released. They answered that they could make no definite reply at present.

THE School Board re-elected the same corps of teachers for the City School, excepting Miss Malinda Chinn. Miss Mary Dennis, formerly a teacher in the Bourbon Female College, superseded her.

THREE magnificent wild cherry trees on Frank Colcord's place are connected by a ligament eight inches in thickness, ten feet above the ground. Dr. Keller thinks them a greater wonder than the Siamese twins.

JOHN T. HINTON desires to state to a certain class of customers who have been waiting for months on the weather to settle before buying carpets, that the weather is now settled, and he still has a few carpets.

LEBANON Standard and Times: A alley found a combined hen and partidge nest last week, with fourteen partidge eggs and three hen eggs in it, and the hen and partidge were on the nest together laying at the same nest.

REV. ELISHA GREEN has sued the Rev. T. T. Gould and professors Bristow and Corrington for $1,000 damages, in the Common Pleas Court. The case is set for the third day of the court, which convenes on the first Monday in July.

W. W. GILL has opened up the black-berry market by selling berries from Chattanooga, at 15 cents per quart. Gill says that in three weeks he will sell Nicholas county berries at 30 cents per bucket. Strawberries are growing scarce, and have gone up to 12 1/2 cents again.

Mrs. A. GILMAN is running two brigades of bluegrass strippers. One brigade of twelve machines is under the command of constable James Taylor, and the other numbering about that many under Geo. W. Judy. The two brigades are gathering an average of 200 bushels to the machine, aggregating 4,800 bushels per day; which, at the market price of 50 cents per bushel, brings in an income of $2,400.

WHEN leaving the Latonia races Friday afternoon for the junction at South Covington, Judge Matt Turney and the News had a spirited argument about what species of wood a certain large forest tree was, in whose forks and branches about thirty men and boys were perched, overlooking the race course free of charge. To settle the matter, Judge called out in a loud tone: "Boys, what kind of a tree is that?" An immediate answer came from a wag: "It's a bully good one—it's a regular grand stand."

Old Soldiers' Banquet.

The thirteenth annual banquet given by the Mayor and City Council of Paris, to the old soldiers of 1812, took place here yesterday. There were but eight in attendance this year as against thirteen last year. Their names, ages and residence are as follows:

Thos. Jones, Paris, aged 91;
Dr. C. C. Graham, Louisville, aged 90;
R. M. Berry, Mt. Sterling, aged 90;
Gilead Evans, Nicholas county, 88;
Moore Johnson, Mt. Sterling, aged 87;
Dr. Geo. Ferrin, Cynthiana, aged 89;
S. M. Berry, Scott county, aged 87;
J. G. Chinn, Lexington, aged 86.

Emmett M. Dickson delivered the welcome address, and Doctors Graham and Chinn responded with short speeches. Rev. Mr. Fréché opened the exercises with prayer, and pronounced the benediction at the close. Prof. A. Sanders and several young ladies of the city formed an impromptu choir and interlarded the exercises with music and songs, among which were the thrilling old songs of Yankee Doodle and Hail Columbia.

The banquet spread at the Bourbon House was represented in attendance by the old soldiers, city officers, city newspaper men and fifty or sixty friends of the city officers. The menu was all that could be desired, and ample justice was rendered it by every one present.

Mayor Purnell and the city officers honored the few gallant old veterans in grand style, and the feeble and stooped forms bowed heads with snowy locks in acknowledgement of the fact with hearts beaming over with gratitude.

A vote was taken on the question of another reunion next year, four voting for, four against, and the city officers deciding in the affirmative. Therefore a few, yea, very few of the remaining ones may hope to attend one more reunion ere the last "tattoo" bids them "break ranks" and "rest."

NOTES.

"Shiner" Hite carried the big flag as usual.

Dr. Chinn's wife, aged 86, was a guest at the banquet.

'Uncle' Tommie White being quite ill, could not attend the banquet.

Albert Adair said that there was nothing new about the exercises but the dinner.

The same old base drum used at the battle of River Raisen furnished music for the parade.

Geo. Shlawhan didn't like the proceedings in the Court-house, because the choir sang Yankee Doodle.

ALONZO BECRAFT, another of the Barnett gang, has been sent up for life by the Montgomery Circuit Court.

The drum corps should have been merciful, and not have punished the old soldiers and other guests while at dinner.

From the way that editor McChesney figured around the stand, the audience was afraid that he would make a speech.

TOM RICHARDSON was fined $10 and costs in police court yesterday, on the charge of raising sublime iniquity in the neighborhood of "Liger" Baker. Col. Richardson was captured Sunday in the old graveyard, he having been dodging the marshal for two weeks. There is also an old charge against the Colonel—forfeited bail bond of $100 with costs, which will probably induce him to forego the pleasure of a seaside visit this summer, and compromise on a long visit to castle de McCarney.

MISS SALLIE WILSON, a pupil of Mrs. Hattie Hill's art class, has an exhibition in the window of Davis & Davis, an elegant landscape and seaside view in oil colors. Besides being a perfect copy of one of the finest views extant, the artistic touches show the result of great care and skill of the pupil. There is a noticeable absence of that general roughness characteristic of most work in oil, and one has to look with a discerning eye to distinguish it from a very fine chromo.

At Victoria Hall, Sutherland, England, several thousand children attended an exhibition given by a conjurer. After all in the lower hall had gotten out after the exhibition, about 1,200 in the gallery started down, when one little girl fell down in the narrow doorway, and others stumbled, fell and were walked over until 178 were killed. This is but another instance illustrating that large masses of people loose their reason without cause, and rush headlong into death.

A row occurred at a school exhibition in Metcalfe county, and twelve or fifteen shots were fired promiscuously by the participants in the fight. A bystander named McFarland was shot through the heart. Marshal Beauchamp was shot twice, one ball entering his abdomen. A number of persons, including a young lady, received slight wounds.

Mrs. W. H. Fisher, pupil of Mrs. Hill, has completed an oil painting 6x4 feet, which has not its equal in beauty in the county. Admirers of the beautiful should call at Hinton's and see it.

SCINTILLATIONS.

—A colored woman in Chicago got a verdict of $10,000 damages in a breach of promise suit against a white man.

—Mrs. W. P. Ardery, who was hopelessly ill a few days ago, is rapidly improving now.

—The greatest pleasure we know is to do a good action by stealth, and to have it find it out by accident.

—The marriage of Miss Mattie Arnold, of Eminence, to Ed. M. Cochran, of Ills., will take place to-morrow.

—Bob Ingersoll has taken a cottage at Long Branch for the summer, and says it is as good a heaven as he wants.

—A Georgia man let a black calf chase him up a tree and keep him there all night. When he observed next morning that the calf was not a bear he brained it.

—Out in Denver five young ladies ride the bicycle "man fashion," clad in black velvet knee-breeches, woolen high stockings, a pole cap, and a sack coat, with low-cut bicycle shoes.

—Chepeta, the Widow of Ouray, the Indian chief, has become the bride of a young Ute. She was married in buckskin leggings, and on the blankets "U. S." was woven in large black letters.

—Miss Kitty Ford Davie returned home from St. Louis, last Friday, where she has been attending school. She attained the highest rank in her class of twenty-seven—having an average of 99 per cent.

—There is no better test of purity and true goodness than reluctance to think evil of one's neighbor, and absolute incapacity to believe an evil report about good men, except upon the most trustworthy evidence.

—Wm. Tarr, Major Flowers, Will Current and others from this county, got on the Louisville Short-Line train at the Latonia races and were taken over into Newport before they discovered that they were on the wrong train.

—Some weeks ago a woman eloped from Portland, Me., with a young man. Her husband took it calmly and did not try to find her. Monday he received a letter from her, dated at Boston, in which she said: "So far God has blessed us with health, but John has no regular work yet."

The Lexington correspondent of the Courier-Journal, in commenting on the orations of the graduates of Kentucky University, says: "These addresses were altogether of more than average merit as graduates' orations commonly go. Particularly full of meat for reflection was that of Mr. Shipp, of Millersburg Ky., who graduated from both the Arts and Bible College of the University."

—The Lexington Gazette tells of the following fine opening for a young lady: There is a school-house in the edge of Jessamine that can't keep a teacher. Every young lady who goes there stays but a short time, and then gets married and goes off. If there is a lady qualified to teach, mortally ugly and too old to marry, she can get a permanent situation by applying to the Trustees of that school.

—Mrs. Langtry has arrived in New York from Halifax. Her share of profits for the last five weeks was $13,000, and she has now in bank $100,000, and she has now in bank $100,000 as net proceeds of her American tour. Mrs. Langtry will travel next season in a new parlor car called the "Jerome Marble," which it is claimed will be the finest on wheels. It will have plate glass windows from the floor to the roof, an elegant bed in the middle, and will be highly decorated.

On top of a thousand other sins, it is now said that the little English sparrows break out with and spread the small-pox. If some sharp detective will look into the case from this standpoint, we would not be surprised but what it can be shown that these little birds created the Ashland tragedy in place of Neal and Craft and the negroes.

JOHN LAKE climbed a bee tree Sunday and got a bucket of honey and four young coons out of the same hole. He put the coons in his shirt bosom, and while climbing down they barked up the skin all over his body while climbing around trying to escape.

At McKee's nursery farm near Cynthiana, last week, thirty strawberry picking hands struck for an increase of thirty cents additional wages per day. Their terms were not acceded to, and new hands were employed.

TOWN TALK says that there will be a grand free excursion to Richmond, on July 4th. The track on the extension will be completed to the main line at the fair grounds to-morrow.

BORN—To the wife of Col. E. F. Clay, a daughter, the ninth heir.

MILLERSBURG.

Only a few students will remain over during summer.

"Yank" Jones is studying law and killing alligators in Arkansas.

Carlisle defeated Millersburg Saturday in a game of ball, by a score of 13 to 8.

Marshal Cargyle has so far recovered from his wounds as to be able to walk out a little.

Prof. J. W. Corrington accompanied the Texas ladies from the college, as far as St. Louis, yesterday.

Bluegrass seed is selling at 50 cents here. The seed is plump and heavy, though the crop is said to be light.

V. C. Porter shipped five loads of cattle, sheep and hogs to the Covington market the latter part of last week.

Levy Trotter has bought the "Blue Wing" bar fixtures of McCarthy, and will ask the city for saloon licenses.

Harlan Vimont's valuable Tennessee dog "Hannibal" has erred and gone astray. Some philanthropist please return him.

Tom Welch, of Nicholasville, and Will Gault, of Washington, attended the Alumni reunion of the K. W. College here last week.

Judge Cole, Will Roby, T. L. Given, Dr. Armstrong, Mrs. Teager and others from Flemingsburg, attended the exercises here last week.

Col. Morrow says that he does not believe that Joe Corrington had a revolver, but that he threw his hand behind him to his hip pocket to make believe that he had one, during the railroad fight.

The Cincinnati Enquirer of yesterday, says that H. H. Shelman and Mrs. Jennie Smart, a conductor's wife, arrived at Hunt's Hotel, and Shelman asked to be assigned to a room near Mrs. Smart's, with a knowing wink to the clerk. The clerk told him that if he went to that lady's room he would send him to the station house. The next night he was suspicious of having intruded there, and the following night a special watch was set for him and he was caught in the room, arrested and sent to the station house, but was released on account of there being no law for holding him. The woman was given the grand bounce.

P. Botts, Louisville, says that three bottles of Bawn's Iron Bitters entirely relieved him from vertigo.

Leonatus has won his sixth consecutive race this season.

Bro railroad sale of horses, mules, carts and utensils to-morrow.

The Covington Stockyards received 3,317 head of stock Saturday from the Kentucky Central Railroad.

H. M. Carpenter, of this precinct, has 40 head of 1,300 pounds weight cattle for sale.

FOR SALE.—A fine combined saddle and harness horse—a first-class walker. je5-4t Jas. Stone, Little Rock.

Vanderbilt has discharged Bair, the trainer of Mand S., and it is thought that Dan Mace has been employed in his place.

The largest bid for choice during the week at Latonia, was made Saturday by George Maidwell, who gave $700 for Gleaner, Lizzie S. selling for $135.

Stock in the Latonia Jockey Club Association sold Friday at $150. A California horseman telegraphed for $15,000 worth at $1.15, but couldn't get it.

Sam Bell, of Clintonville precinct, this county, has received a letter from W. S. T. Graham, of Fleming county, now in Spain, collecting two car loads of fine jacks for importation. He expects to return home in July.

The races at Latonia Friday were splendid. Leonatus was the only favorite that didn't get badly left. The other winners were Drake, Carter, Little Buttercup and Lord Raglan. The track was in fine condition, and the time was good.

At the Latonia races Saturday, Lizzie S., Ballard, Mattie Rapture, Katie Creel and the Mohor colt were the winners. In the hurdle race Megibben's Snowbok fell down and broke his neck in jumping a hurdle. Snowbok was valued at $2,000. The Enquirer very unjustly censures the owners of Lizzie S., as having "put up a dump." Mr. Swiney assures us that such was not the case, and that all was square. The News-Journal says: "John Swiney says he is satisfied, but he didn't make half as much as so good a fellow deserves. Young Bill Aleck, from Paris, went in too trash at the start, and the races didn't last long enough for him to get even."
