JOE NEWHALL has gone to Stanford, where he has been engaged to run an engine for a flouring mill.

M. C. CRUMP, grocery man at Carlisle, has been ordered by Sheriff Brown. Assets, $150; liabilities, $300.

OLIVER REDMOND, col'd, was held over with a bond of $100, Wednesday, to keep the peace. Doe Reffitt swore out the warrant.

A PRISONER in the Nicholasville jail set free to one of the cells with a view of escape, Wednesday, but the scheme didn't work.

Wednesday night Read & Pearsall's big steam tannery in Mt. Sterling was completely destroyed by fire. Loss about $15,000; insured.

T. M. E. are men in this town who are marked No. 1 in the little book, who could not get a nickle's worth of credit at a mosque to bar.

MR. FOGG'S Ferry came in very good play when the winds and floods came and took the roof from Eolian Hall at Cynthiana, Wednesday.

THE Mt. Sterling Sentinel says: Fogg's Band will probably furnish music at the Re-union of Hanson's Brigade, at Lexington, September 5th.

THE drought is supposed to be ended between Millersburg, judging from the heavy, dark clouds which hung over that section Wednesday afternoon.

THE extra train to the Cynthiana fair, leaving here at 1:25, is having only a small run of passengers, from the fact that but few knew that it was running.

W. A. DICKEY has rented from Geo. Ingels, one of the store rooms in front of his livery stable. We understand that Mr. Dickey will only run a branch store there.

OLIVIAN HALL, at Cynthiana, was unroofed by a storm Wednesday, and a regular flood of rain fell. That portion of the country was very dry, and the rain was hailed with joy.

DON'T forget that excursion rates will be given from all points on the K. C. during the fair, and also, that the special train between Paris and the fair grounds will stop in rear of the Bourbon House.

JOHN WILSON, the lad who was cut and wounded at Marshall Station a few days ago, by young Farrow, died of his injuries on Monday night. Farrow was acquitted on the ground of self defense.

Coming Pleasurable Events.

Lexington fair, next Tuesday. Barnum's circus at Lexington, Sept. 1st. Bourbon fair, Sept. 4th, continuing 5 days. Tuesday, Sept. 4th, excursion to Old Point Comfort—fare $11, for round trip—special train passing here at 7 p. m. from Covington. Round trip to Washington, $12.50. Cincinnati Industrial Exposition opens Sept. 5, and closes Oct. 6. Louisville Exposition will continue 100 days from 1st of August. Lexington running races begin Sept. 5th and continue six or seven days. Re-union of the "Orphan Brigade" of Infantry (C. S. A.) at Lexington, Sept. 5th. Falmouth fair, Sept. 11th, 4 days. Maysville fair, Sept. 18th, 5 days. Germantown fair, Oct. 10th, 5 days. Methodist Conference at Cynthiana, September 12th. State meeting of Christian Church at Cynthiana Sept. Excursion rates can be had over the K. C. road from all points, to attend the above pleasurable events.

A PECULIAR freak of nature took out one-third of Oscar Taylor's moustache one night this week—all out at one place, and not a pipple or any cause can be discerned. He had to shave off the balance to keep from looking odd.

TUESDAY afternoon a severe hall storm swept over Athens precinct, Fayette county, and severely injured the tobacco crops. During the storm the lightning struck a tree which Geo. B. Kincaid had just left, tearing the tree to pieces and exploding both barrels of the gun. He was a dove hunting, and left the tree through fear of lightning, setting the gun up against it.

NEXT Tuesday night the various companies of the First Battalion of the Second Regiment of the Kentucky State Guards will meet at their respective armories, for the purpose of electing a new Major. Captain B. Verner Johnson of the Lexington Guards, and Capt. L. M. Fitzgerald of the Emmet Rifles, Maysville, are the candidates for the position.

THE Cynthiana fair now going on is the best that the Association has had for years. The attendance being good, the premiums liberal, and the trotting and running races perhaps better than any fair in State, so far. The chances are that this successful meeting will bring the Association out of debt. Yet, with all due respect to the officers, we are still of the opinion that a two-days' exhibition would have made it a greater success and proven more satisfactory to the people.

THE Cynthiana Fair Association permitted a highway robbery wheel of misfortune the privilege of robbing their unsuspecting neighbors for the benefit of adding $1,000 to the funds of the corporation. To tamper with one of those wheels is to get robbed dead sure shot every time. For instance, there was a wad of $1,000 in the pockets of a group playing around it—every whirl of the wheel took in ten per cent; it would only take a few whirls until the wheel owners would be in possession of the entire wad. We go upon the plan that the ignorant ought to be protected, notwithstanding they never profit by experience. The Bourbon Association once refused $1,400 for the privilege of one of those robbery wheels operating on their grounds.

THIS office is in receipt of a scrap book filled with memoirs of the late re-union of Morgan's men at Lexington, the handiwork of Charles Herbst, Librarian of the Historical Society at Macon, Georgia. Besides containing all the published notes of the re-union, the book contains quite a number of relics of the Lost Cause, including pieces of the battle flags of the 2d and 4th Kentucky Infantry, a piece of the battle flag of the 1st South Carolina regiment (the first equipped regiment for the war), a piece of one of the overcoats presented to the 2d Kentucky; a copy of the Richmond Examiner-dated Oct. 12, 1863, and quite a collection of Confederate money, stamps, and some very select poems appropriate to the Lost Cause. On the front fly-leaf is a photograph of Gen. John Morgan, taken early in the war, which is a good picture, though much colored by age.

THE book is neatly gotten up, and is a good start for a rare collection of Confederate relics, to which we will add memoirs of the Orphan Brigade, and keep in sacred remembrance of the dark and stormy days, and our old fire-fried friend Herbst, formerly of the 2d regiment.

A FEW words explanatory to the public, concerning my connection with the Merchant's Exchange Directory, will not be amiss, since it is fashionable now to force explanations on the public.

About one year ago, I was requested to meet with the merchants of Paris, to form a protective union, to protect the merchants against dead beats and imposters, as I thought, and I attended but the one meeting—the first. Nothing was done that night but an organization perfected by electing officers. Since that I knew nothing of what was done until called on to pay for a little book. I paid for it, opened and examined it closely, and saw that it was sold. Others had shown their books, therefore I felt at liberty to show mine, I at once condemned the work for its inaccuracy, and soon it was bought from me by one of the compilers at the original cost of $10.

I never marked a man graded in it, and am thankful that I did not, for it was not my conception of the work to be turned out by the association—it was only the dead beats that I desired to guard against.

My idea of business always has been and is now, that a man who pays his debts promptly, who is not worth a dollar of real estate, is just as much entitled to credit as though he were worth a million. Individually, I grade men from a standpoint of honor.

Hoping that this explanation may be satisfactory to the public, I am, sirs, Yours Truly, W. F. SPEARS.

SEE advertisement of Dr. Davis' new drug store. Everything new, bright and particular as a daddy dollar. Call and see him, one door above the post-office.

Young Widow 'Oman Wanted!

A widow woman (not a widow man,) rich in diamonds, diamonds in the glow of beauty, and ripe in matrimonial aspirations. Call on or address me immediately. JOHN SMITH, Atty-at-Law, Paris, Ky.

'Nother Precinct Heard From. MR. EDITOR—Allow us space in yo' justly poplar 'papa' to say to de general public dat we are in no manna whiteba connected wid de Store Keeper's Gib away. 'Thankin' yo' fo' past congratulations we are most reverently. Yo's &c. COL. TOM BROWN, LAWYER JOHN JONES, BRO. ENOCH HAWKINS.

WHILE waiting for a train we spent a few minutes in Paris last Thursday. On entering the NEWS office we discovered Bro. Champ dancing and whistling, the happiest man alive. The new "Mercantile Directory" had put him down A No. 1 (which he is) and cash was rolling in from the people who "tore up" about the Directory, and the newspapers are reaping a harvest printing complaints, excuses, &c.—[Mt. Sterling Sentinel.

O'Brien's Circus at Louisville. The first circus of the season, (O'Brien's) pitched its tents at Sixth and Kentucky streets yesterday. A sickly procession passed through some of the streets, and there was but a scant audience, as such usually go. In the afternoon several writs and attachments were gotten, an attachment for $100, was served by Constable Parker, while Dick Burk arrested Wm. Dale, a performer, on a bail-writ for $10, which was sworn out by Lillie Birdell. Another debt of $30 was collected by the L. & N. railroad, and besides these there were one or two others, all of which the proprietors settled. In addition to this, they had to pay out about $200 for city and county licenses, and as the attendance was light, it is not probable that much money was made.—[Courier-Journal.

A Pointer for Lexington Merchants. A majority of the Paris merchants have recently organized themselves into a Board-street Committee, and published a book in which they undertook to give the commercial standing of themselves and the community in general. They rated themselves all A No. 1, when it is a well known fact that many of them are broke, and constantly being sued—and stand very bad in the regular commercial reports. These fellows have rated all the citizens of Paris and Bourbon county as Nos. 1, 2, 3, No. 1 being good and a man who patronizes the ring. All others, including farmers who own unnumbered farms of from 1,000 to 3,000 acres of Bourbon land are rated No. 2 and 3 on a credit and poorer pay. Now is a good time for our merchants to put in an appearance in Paris and Bourbon county. Many of these people so arrogantly treated will visit our Fair next week, when a judicious advertisement in the Daily Press will direct them and their patronage to your place of business.—[Lexington Press.

The Orphan Brigade. THE Executive Committee of the First Kentucky Confederate Brigade met last night to arrange for the Brigade Reunion to be held in this city on the 6th of September. After discussing the situation the Committee addressed a letter to Col. Harvey McDowell of Cynthiana, Chairman of the Reunion Association, in which they stated that in arranging for the reunion they had met with many and serious obstacles which they had not anticipated, and most of them are in such financial condition as to be unable to bear the expenses which must necessarily attend the reunion. The Committee stated in very positive terms their repugnance to soliciting pecuniary aid from the people at large, and appealed to Col. McDowell for advice in the premises.

The veterans have great faith in Col. McDowell's ability to pull the matter through to a successful issue. The Reunion will certainly be held, and will also be a success. Many prominent Ex-Confederates will be present.—[Lexington Press.

Hinda Rose couldn't be interested at Cynthiana yesterday. Drake Carter, now one of the best racers in America, is to go to England soon. Robt. Overby, of Nicholas county, made sales of tobacco in Cincinnati, last week, at $0, 12, 14, 75, 15, and 21.50.

B. J. Treacy's fine stallion Abdallah West, who broke his leg last Saturday, has been killed.—[Lexington Press.

At the Cynthiana trotting races Tuesday, Mystery and O. F. C. were the winners, and Etie H. in the running race. At Kidd's combined sale Tuesday, eighty-two head of horses brought an aggregate of $12,000, an average of about $155 per head.

Lorillard is pursuing the only plan of being a certain winner in all the races, and that is by buying every horse which defeats his own.

The following eminent turfmen left Bourbon yesterday for Saratoga and Monmouth: Col. E. F. Clay, J. E. Clay, Catesby Woodford Cash Clay and Dr. Ed. Ingels.]

At the Cynthiana fair Tuesday, the following Bourbons took premiums: stallion one year old, J. L. Fry; gelding 4 years old, W. H. Kerr; gelding three and under four, Charles Redmon.

Tatto, Gleaner, Little Fred and Bonnie Bird won the Saratoga races Tuesday. At Brighton Beach, Olive, Early Bird, Stringent, Miss Brewster, Clara A. and Swift were the winners.

Drake Carter won the Omnibus Stakes at Saratoga Saturday in a canter, beating Pizarro and several others. He was purchased by Pierre, Lorillard immediately after the race for $17,500.

The Double-Team Race of our fair having failed to fill, the Society offers the following additional races for the last day of the Fair, Saturday, Sept. 8. $200 purse for green pacers, $120 to 1st, $80 to 2d, $20 to 3d. Five to fill three to start, to close Sept. 1st. 10 per cent entrance. Stake for mules, running half mile, best 3 in 5. $5 entrance, $25 added. Entrance fee to accompany nominations. Close Sept. 6th.

SCIENTIFICATIONS.

—Mrs. H. H. Long, of this city, has been very ill in Cincinnati.
