A Wronged Woman's Despair and Suicide.

NEW YORK, December 13.—Miss R. E. Keiser, thirty years old, of Utica, N. Y., committed suicide in the Windsor Hotel to-night. Previous to the discovery of the suicide, at 6 o'clock this evening, the hotel detective heard loud voices of persons quarreling in the room of George W. Dunn, a broker, of No. 73 Broadway, staying at the Windsor Hotel with his wife. A few minutes after the report of a pistol rang through the corridor. The detective endeavored to open the door, but found it obstructed by the body of a young woman, while Mr. and Mrs. Dunn were too much overwhelmed to make any statement, except to say that Miss Keiser had shot herself. They refused afterward to say anything about the affair. The motive for suicide is said to have been disappointment in love. It is supposed of the woman was found a letter addressed to her mother, in which she curses the man who had seduced her, and adds that she has been more wronged than she could acknowledge, and God only knows how she had been deceived. It is said Miss Keiser, who was a handsome, well-dressed woman, belonged to one of the best families in Utica. Dunn is president of the Old Dominion Mining Company, and a prominent member of the mining exchange. According to the story told by Coroner Martin, Dunn had married recently and returned to the city from his wedding tour. Miss Keiser shot herself in the right temple, and death was instantaneous.

NEW ORLEANS RIOT.

Three Men Killed and Eleven Badly Wounded.

A Terrible Tragedy Enacted at the Polls in Voting for Candidates to the State Convention.

NEW ORLEANS, December 14.—Primary elections for delegates to the Democratic State nominating convention were held throughout the city. The contest in the Seventh Ward was regarded as close, and much ill feeling was shown, which culminated this afternoon in a terrible tragedy at the poll, corner of Monroe and St. Bernard streets. It appears that a man, name unknown, came up to vote and was challenged. Captain Foster and brother, it is stated, tried to get the man from in front of the poll, but the man was finally knocked down, or fell down. A shot was then fired, which seemed to be a signal, as the firing immediately became general. The greatest excitement prevailed, the police being powerless against the combatants. When the shooting ceased, it was found that Captain Michael J. Foster, a prominent Ogden champion, was mortally wounded. He was removed to his residence, where he expired in a few minutes. He leaves a wife and three children. Foster was well known as commander of a battery in the competitive drills at Nashville, Indianapolis and other points. Gus Renaud, Superintendent of the streets in the Seventh Ward under Commissioner Fitzpatrick, was picked up in an unconscious condition at the Fifth Precinct Station, where he died in a little while. Four wounds were found on his body. He leaves a wife and one child. Edward Masson, a deputy constable, received three balls in the leg, which severed an artery, and he survived but a short time. He leaves a wife and two children. The following name were wounded: Sheriff Robert Brewster, a bullet in the leg; John Brewster, shot in the side; he had given advice to the shooting Sheriff Robert Brewster and Deputies John Dominick, Dan Gious, and Mike Early, who had pistols in their hands, surrendered to the police and were locked up. They refused to make any statement. It is stated that forty or fifty shots were fired. There was a large crowd about the polls at the time.

More Swindling of Pension Applicants.

WASHINGTON, December 14.—Recently the Commissioner of Pensions caused the arrest of Dr. Axel Ames, of Boston, on a charge of defrauding pensioners. Ames was the President of the Board of Examining Surgeons, and is highly connected. His case is the first one of the kind brought to notice. The pension office has discovered thieving pension agents, dishonest clerks, and fraudulent pensioners. Ames was found to be a member of boards of examining surgeons have been above reproach. Ames is the President of a company called the Eagle Odorous Evacuating Company. Just before an application for a pension was about to receive its money, Ames would go to him and say: "I would like to have you take some stock in our company. It pays twenty per cent, and is a good investment. Smith took some stock the other day, and his pension was advanced immediately. Such inducements the unfortunate victim generally took some stock. The extent of the Eagle Odorous Company's swindling is up in the thousands. When arrested, Ames denied that his company was a fraud, and says that he had given advice to the pensioners to purchase stock, believing it to be a legitimate investment. The fallacy of this statement was discovered to-day. In looking up the records the Commissioner found that Ames had been deceiving pensioners by reason of its fraudulent character. This injunction was sustained by the Attorney General of Massachusetts, three years ago, and has never been reversed. The first prosecution was against Ames, and it is said that the rigid investigation that is to be made will involve many prominent people of the Hub.

Burning of the Steamer Josie Harry.

MEMPHIS, TENN., December 14.—The steamer Josie Harry, en route from White River to this port, burst into flames at Reeve's Landing, fifteen miles below here. Her cargo consisted of six hundred bales of cotton and a quantity of cotton seed, which, together with the steamer, were totally destroyed. The fire had its origin on the starboard side, abreast of the boilers, among some cotton bales. Captain Milt Harry at once marshaled his entire force and fought the fire, without effect, and seeing the danger which threatened the passengers and crew, ordered the steamer landed, which was done and all escaped. The boat burned to the water's edge. She was valued at $30,000, and was owned exclusively by Captain Milt Harry. The insurance is unknown. The money in the desk was saved, but the safe was lost.

Rioting Between Italians and Negroes.

PITTSBURG, December 14.—A serious riot took place last night at the Blue Mountain Tunnel, near here, between Italian and negro laborers. During the night two of the latter broke into a shanty containing provisions and were discovered. An alarm was given and about 100 Italians attacked the negroes with shotguns and pistols. The negroes being unarmed, returned the assault with clubs and stones, but were finally forced to seek shelter after four of their number were wounded, one of these fatally, and the other three quite seriously injured, but will probably recover, although their bodies are filled with shot. This morning the rioting was renewed, and the negroes driven away. Everything is now quiet, and no further trouble is apprehended.

—One of the most remarkable cases of suicide that have occurred of late years is recorded in a San Francisco paper.

Miss Dolly St. Clair, aged fourteen, preferred a young man's company to eating, and it was two hours after the regular dinner time when she made her appearance at the table. Her father first scolded her and finally thrashed her, whereupon the young miss walked to another part of the house, took a revolver from a bureau drawer and shot herself, inflicting injuries which at last accounts would undoubtedly prove fatal.—Chicago Herald.

Mr. Wilson called up his joint resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution relative to the civil rights of citizens, and moved its reference to the committee on judiciary. The resolution proposes the following article: "No Congress shall have power to enact legislation to protect citizens of the United States in the exercise and enjoyment of their rights, privileges, immunities, and assured by the Constitution of the United States." A VERY CURIOUS homicide occurred at the house of Ed. Clarke, four miles above Owensboro at 5 o'clock a few mornings ago. At the hour named a stranger entered the house, arousing the inmates and acting in a very mysterious manner. He sat down on the kitchen floor for a few moments, and then, making his way to their bed-room, attacked Clarke's daughters with a large club. A young man named Joe Bumpers, who was spending the night at the house, came to the ladies' assistance, and after wording off the blows with his arm, grasped a pistol from the mantle-piece and shot the man through the heart, killing him instantly. An inquest was held, but nothing could be learned of the man, who he was or where he came from. He was of rather good appearance, and on his person was found a watch with M. W. on the case. A small amount of money and a picture of a young woman taken at Stockholm, Sweden. From his strange actions he was evidently insane.

INVESTIGATING for the cause of a sudden failure of a fine cow to give milk, D. J. Phillips, of Warren County, discovered that a litter of pigs were sucking the cow regularly. She seemed to be devoted to the pigs, and separation from them was found to be the only method to stop this cheating of the calf.

DEPUTY SHERIFF GEO. W. McCORMICK and Ellis Dean, of Montgomery County, succeeded a few nights ago in arresting Jas. Morrison, one of the notorious Barnett gang of murderers who went to the house of Vaughn Helton, in Montgomery County one night last June, and brutally murdered him in the presence of his wife. John Barnett and seven others were arrested for the crime, and one of the party, Mark Miller, turned State's evidence and gave the whole thing away. Barnett and the other six were sentenced to the Penitentiary for life.

THE Adjutant General of Kentucky, John B. Castleman, has ordered a thorough inspection of the State Guard. Officers hitherto elected, but not examined as required by law, will be examined as the respective companies are inspected, and no one will be commissioned who is not qualified. Non-commissioned officers will also undergo a thorough examination in the School of the Soldier.

DAVID HALL and Joseph Wells, of Letcher County, a remote mountain county, became engaged in a difficulty, a short time since, when Hall drew his knife and stabbed Wells in the shoulder, breaking off the blade at the handle. Wells got his carbine, and going to Hall's house he shot him, inflicting a mortal wound. The wound inflicted on Wells is also thought to be fatal.

A BOY named Lewis was seriously wounded at Nicholasville by the accidental discharge of a pistol which he, in a fit of anger, was loading to shoot his father with. A CUTTING affair took place in Cythiana, recently, between J. M. Lowery and George Martin, in which Martin was cut several times about the face. They had been drinking together and began quarreling, when Lowery jerked out his knife and inflicted two ugly wounds on Martin's face, one across the nose, and the other on the side of his face. MR. CHARLTON MORGAN, Steward of the Eastern Kentucky Lunatic Asylum, was formally dismissed from that office by the Governor a few days ago. Mr. T. Logan Hocker, of Lexington, was appointed his successor. BENJAMIN CHANEY, aged seventy-six, was found dead in bed at Covington of apoplexy.

THE COMMONWEALTH.

Kentucky's Deaf Mutes.

The Superintendent of the Institution for the Education of Deaf Mutes in Kentucky, has sent his annual report to Governor Knott. The present attendance at the Institute is 131, of which number 74 are males and 57 are females. The total receipts during the year was $90,286, and the total disbursements was $87,911.88, leaving a deficit of $2,375.88. The Superintendent, in discussing the question as to the admission of colored mutes to the Institution, says: "These questions are frequently put to us by interested parties who seem quite anxious to obtain benefits for their children like those accorded the whites. To all such we can only reply that no provision has as yet been made, but that judging from the vote of the State placing the hearing colored children on a par with the white, we believe the time is not far distant when some action will be taken for the relief of colored mutes. Of course we cannot entertain for a moment the thought of placing them among the white children, as is the case in the States which join us on the north. This is practicable in our insane asylums, where the two races can be as much isolated as if they were in different sections of the State but not in our institutions where they would be compelled to mingle socially in every department. We might, however, follow the example of the States south of us, and establish an institution for their exclusive use, wherein though separate from the whites, they might enjoy the same privileges as to education. The institution might be put under the same Board of Commissioners and the same principal, and thus secure the benefit of the experience they have gained in managing the institution for the whites. The census returns show that there are ninety-four colored deaf mutes in the State within the school age, half of whom would most likely accept an education if it were offered. If your Excellency, upon consideration, deems it proper to recommend an appropriation for the establishment and support of an institution of this kind, it will be entirely agreeable to us to undertake its control."

Louisville Leaf Tobacco Market.

The receipts were 250 hogheads, against 690 last week and 700 in the corresponding week of last year. The action of the market has afforded but little ground for remark. There has been a healthy, steady demand for the Burley styles on offer, and prices have been fully supported. Dark and heavy styles have also been steady, with the exception that common short leaf suffered a decline early in the week, which has since been recovered from. Lugs and other grades of leaf have been quotably unchanged. We quote full-weight packages of old crop tobacco as follows:

DAVID HALL and Joseph Wells, of Letcher County, a remote mountain county, became engaged in a difficulty, a short time since, when Hall drew his knife and stabbed Wells in the shoulder, breaking off the blade at the handle. Wells got his carbine, and going to Hall's house he shot him, inflicting a mortal wound. The wound inflicted on Wells is also thought to be fatal.

A BOY named Lewis was seriously wounded at Nicholasville by the accidental discharge of a pistol which he, in a fit of anger, was loading to shoot his father with. A CUTTING affair took place in Cythiana, recently, between J. M. Lowery and George Martin, in which Martin was cut several times about the face. They had been drinking together and began quarreling, when Lowery jerked out his knife and inflicted two ugly wounds on Martin's face, one across the nose, and the other on the side of his face. MR. CHARLTON MORGAN, Steward of the Eastern Kentucky Lunatic Asylum, was formally dismissed from that office by the Governor a few days ago. Mr. T. Logan Hocker, of Lexington, was appointed his successor. BENJAMIN CHANEY, aged seventy-six, was found dead in bed at Covington of apoplexy.
