Slightly Used Pianos

of standard makes are better than new ones of low grade and occasionally can be bought for less money. We have now a few unusual bargains in High Grade Pianos used so little as to be practically good as new—indeed not one person in a hundred could detect the difference, as they are in perfect condition throughout. We invite you to call early and investigate. Full particulars cheerfully furnished out-of-town buyers.

We are sole representatives for the celebrated STEINWAY PIANOS.

CHINS AND THE MAN.

Does Your Jaw Give You Away Before You Speak? Protruding chins characterize men and women of the get there type. Successful people usually carry their chins thrust forward, with compressed lips. This chin, if heavy, with broad rami and swelling masseters, indicates fighting blood.

A retreating chin shows lack of force, mentally, morally and physically; usually of the yielding sort; soon discouraged; desires protection; small executive force. The development of other faculties often makes up for this defect.

A small, well rounded chin, with mobile and red cushion of flesh upon it, indicates a pleasure loving owner; if dimpled, all the more so, for dimpled chins belong to coquettes. People with dimples love to be petted and loved; like admiration and praise; generally fickle. Usually this chin is healthy, recuperative and long lived.

Broad chins signify nobleness and large dignity, unless vertically thin, when, if with it there be thin lips of bloodless kind, you find cruelty.

Square chins with little flesh denote firmness and executive ability. These make good haters. Drunkards usually have a circular line about their chins. Slovens have wrinkles about their chins.

Long, thin chins are poetical, unstable and delicate in constitution. Such people are subject to bowel derangements. If thin through the angles of the mouth, too, they are prone to tuberculosis; generally short lived.

Medium chins with a suggestive bifurcation in the center, with small mounds of flesh on either side, characterize generosity, impulsiveness, cheery natures. The same sized chins, with a dab of flesh just under the center of the lower lip, indicate meanness, selfishness, brutality.

N. B.—No one feature can be taken in judging character. Often development of other faculties of mind or feature entirely governs. In each case take the "totality of indications" before judging.—St. Louis Clinique.

SHIP CUSHIONS.

Measuring Vessels For Their Outfit—What Ship Cushions Are Made Of. When a new vessel is ready to be fitted out with her cushions, she is measured for them, not as a church would be, for a certain number of cushions of a specified size to supply a certain number of pews, but every space in which a cushion is to be placed separately. On a large vessel there might be a number of cushions of the same dimensions, but marine architecture is such that cushions may be required on the same vessel in a great variety of forms, and of varying dimensions even within given lines, narrower at one end, for instance, than at the other. And cushions are made to fit around masts, and around the rounded ends of cabins, and in other spaces where they must be made in the form of an arc of a circle, and ship cushions are made V shaped and in other shapes to fit into various nooks and jogs.

All cushions are made with a vertical front edge, and most of them are made with a vertical rear edge, but ship cushions are often made with a rounded or beveled rear edge to fit handsomely against the side of the vessel, which serves as a back to the seat, but may slope away at a sharper angle than seat backs commonly do.

Practically every boat that is set afloat, whatever she may be, big or little, is individually measured throughout for her cushions. The same materials for stuffing cushions that are used on land are used on the water—hair, moss, cotton and so on—and ship cushions are sometimes stuffed with cork clippings for their buoyant properties. The materials most commonly used in covering church cushions are damasks and reps, the damasks more generally. The material most commonly used in covering ship cushions is mohair plush, which is made in various colors and qualities. Leather is also used in covering rooms and chartrooms and aboard yachts, and it costs little, if any, more than a fine quality of mohair plush.—New York Sun.

Modern Awnings. "Scarcely any object is more conspicuous in the summer season than the awning," said Mr. Biffleton. "In none is our progress in civilization more apparent. Awning stripes are made now in a great variety of styles and in various colors and shades of color. It is quite possible to get an awning to match a building, or one that shall contrast with it agreeably. I have seen lately a large brownstone building equipped with awnings having alternate stripes in two shades of brown, shading admirably with the stone, the whole producing a massive, harmonious and pleasing effect. I have seen buildings of light colored bricks with light stone or terra cotta trimmings equipped with awnings in stripes of darker colors and of somewhat fanciful design as to the width and grouping of the stripes, giving an effect somewhat striking perhaps, but decidedly picturesque.

"The fact is that in the hands of a competent person the awning may now easily be made a great embellishment of the building, and properly put up, as indeed most of them are nowadays, it becomes a thing of beauty and a joy, if not forever, at least for the summer months."—Exchange.

The process of scouring needles bright takes about a week. They are mixed with oil, soft soap and empty powder, wrapped in loose canvas and placed in a kind of mangle worked by mechanical power. This scouring process done, the needles are washed in hot water and dried in sawdust.

'The First Battle'

OSCAR W. MILLER has received the exclusive agency for this and adjoining counties, for the sale of Bryan's new book, entitled "The First Battle." It is written in Mr. Bryan's best style—clear, concise and logical. His inspiring language, full of keen satire and brilliant rhetoric will, charm, interest and instruct, not only those who were his most devoted followers but also his most ardent opponents. The book contains about 600 pages printed from large, clear type, with 32 full page illustrations; a magnificent colored presentation plate and an autograph preface; handsomely bound in cloth, half-morocco or full morocco, at $1.75, $2.25 and $2.75 each. Mail orders will receive prompt attention. Address, OSCAR W. MILLER, Hutchison, Ky.
