IN MEMORIAM.

An incident that recalls to mind the life of Edizbeth, daughter of Owen L. and Rapine Davis, who died December 8th, 1897, aged nine years:

When the last Springtime came with the song of the birds, and as the early flowers burst to put up their heads, this bright young girl came riding along on her wheel so gracefully with other young children, as they sped along, we thought how like the Springtime these little ones—what promise and hope for the future their cherry, childish voices rang out upon the balmy air. We said, this is indeed life, the bud-time of existence. And, as the Spring progressed, the leaves expanded and the flowers blossomed. Frequently we saw this sweet young girl putting on new life and loveliness, we said, 't'wixt how full of life she was. The Spring went and the Summer came. Time continued to ride on its wheel rolling in the seasons in due time. The grain ripened with the fruits of the year. The chill of Winter came around, and the voice of the birds was hushed. The flowers had ceased to bloom, and had perished on their parent stem. It was then that we missed our young friend. She was ill. Time still went on riding upon its remorseless wheel, and in a few short weeks our young friend passed away, teaching us all another lesson: That in the midst of life we are in death. Yet our hearts are full of hope, and we look away to the glad Springtime of the resurrection morn, when we shall meet again this happy child riding upon angel's wings.

There is a Reaper whose name is Death, and with his sickle keen, He reaps the bearded grain at a breath, And the flowers that grow betwixt.

"Shall I have naught that is fair?" saith he; "Have naught but the bearded grain?" Though the breath of these flowers is sweet to me, I will give them all back again.

He gazed at the flowers with tearful eyes, He kissed their drooping leaves; It was for the Lord of Paradise, By bound them in his sheaf.

"My Lord has need of these flowerets gay," The Reaper said, and smiled; "Dear tokens of the earth are they, Where he was once a child.

"They shall all bloom in fields of light, Transplanted by my care, And 'midst, upon their garments white, These sacred blossoms wear."

And the mother gave in tears and pain, The flowers she most did love; She knew she should find them all again In the fields of light above.

O, not so cruelly, not in wrath, The Reaper came that day; 'Twas an Angel visited the green earth And took the flowers away.

Miraculous Benefit RECEIVED FROM Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

ELLI P. BABCOCK, of Avoca, N. Y., a veteran of the 3rd N. Y. Artillery and for thirty years of the Babcock & Munsell Carriage Co., of Auburn, says: "I write to express my gratitude for the miraculous benefit received from Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I suffered for years, as result of my life, from sciatica which affected my heart in the worst form, my limbs swelled from the ankles up. I bloated until I was unable to button my clothing; had sharp pains about the heart, smothering spells and shortness of breath. For three months I was unable to lie down, and all the sleep I got was in an arm chair. I was treated by the best doctors but gradually grew worse. About a year ago I commenced taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and it saved my life as if by a miracle."

Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee, first bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on diseases of the heart and nerves free. Address, DR. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.
