Chronic Dyspepsia Cured.

After suffering for nearly thirty years from dyspepsia, Mrs. H. E. Dugdale, wife of a prominent business man of Warsaw, N. Y., writes: "For 23 years, I was a constant sufferer from dyspepsia and a weak stomach. The lightest food produced distress, causing severe pain and the formation of gas. No matter how careful of my diet I suffered agonizing pain after eating. I was treated by many physicians and tried numerous remedies without permanent help. Two years ago I began taking Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills and Nervine. Within a week I commenced improving, and persisting in the treatment I was soon able to eat what I liked, with no evil effects. I keep them at hand and a single dose dispels any old symptoms."

Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee, first bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on diseases of the heart and nerves free. Address, DR. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

A SCENE ON THE SOO.

The King of France Took Possession of the Land Two Hundred Years Ago. In St. Nicholas there is an article on "The Great Lakes" by W. S. Harwood. Mr. Harwood says: While waiting for my steamer to be carried through canal locks of the Soo, I stood one summer day near a hill on which now stands Fort Brady, overlooking the rapids of the Soo as they flow from Lake Superior down into the St. Mary's river and so on to join at last the waters of Huron. On the top of this hill, as nearly as I could decide from the topography of the country, was witnessed two centuries and a quarter ago one of the most remarkable, one of the most significant, scenes in the history of the new world. It has been brilliantly described, and I may but mention it.

On June 14, 1671, a strange body of men was assembled on this hill. It was composed of four classes—the official representatives of the king of France, the Catholic missionaries, the voyageurs and the Indians. Weeks before word had been sent out to the chiefs of 14 of the different tribes of Indians in the region to meet at the Soo on the date mentioned. An immense cross of wood was made and carried to the top of the hill overlooking the swift flowing rapids. A stout timber with an engraved plate on it was set up near the deep hole in the ground which was to hold the foot of the cross.

When all had assembled, St. Lusson, the representative of the king, lifted in one hand a clod of earth and in the other his naked sword and in the name of his most Christian majesty the king of France took possession of the land, embracing in his assumption "all the region from the north to the south sea and extending to the ocean on the west." The cross was then raised before the motley throng—the representatives of the government in their most gorgeous suits, the priests in their rich vestments, the voyageurs in their hunting garb of skins, the Indians in their most fantastic feathers and paint. As the cross assumed position the priests intoned a stately chant of the seventeenth century. Then the French exclaimed "Vive le roi!" while, as one historian puts it, "the Indians howled in concert."

The plate upon the smaller timber bore an engraved inscription denoting the king's possession of the land.

A SCENE IN SALONICA.

The Jews and Jewesses That Inhabit the Heart of the Town.

In the true ghetto, in the noisome heart of the town, where the cobbled streets run slimy and the people chaffer with the butchers for the refuse of the slaughter house and chicken block, you see the unchanged Jew of the middle ages. He bearded grandire or tiny boy, he wears a long loose gabadine to his heels and the fez of his masters. If he is well to do, the garment may be fur bordered or it may be of silk, but it could not more surely be soiled and greasy if the law required it so. With marriage this survivor of the dark ages grows a beard full and thick and grizzled in the old men, wiry and black and very sparse in the younger heads of families. This is as it is in East Broadway and Chicago and Berlin, but when you look upon the wives and daughters in Salonica's ghetto you see mediæval characters who have staid in the east, but sent no representatives abroad.

These Jewesses love display and court admiration. They are much fairer than the men, milky skinned, with a pale pink flush, as if they were hotheose bred. Their clothes are gay, red, green and blue being their favorite colors, and the married women all wear delectable bodices fashioned very low in front and showing a fancy shirt of embroidery and lace, which either reveals the mold of their forms or makes startling exposures of the forms themselves. Their chests are always quite bare. This in a land where the other women expose nothing but their eyes is all the more astonishing. On their crowns the Jewish matrons wear very showy, often beautiful, headresses, composed of a cap of red, green and yellow silk or cloth, that is carried down the back of the head in a bag that envelops their tresses. Often these bags are finished at the bottom with heavy gold braid. "In the Wake of a War," by Julian Ralph, in Harper's Magazine.

Equal to the Occasion.

They tell this story in London about the Countess Waldegrave, who was married four times: One evening she appeared at the opera in Dublin during her fourth husband's occupancy of the post of chief secretary for Ireland. An audacious Celt, catching sight of her ladyship in one of the boxes, shouted out with real Irish temerity, "Lady Waldegrave, which of the four did you like best?"

The countess was equal to the occasion. Without a moment's hesitation she rose from her seat and exclaimed enthusiastically, "Why, the Irishman, of course"—a remark which naturally "brought down the house."

A New Road Found.

"Oh, John, dear, isn't your Uncle George dreadful?" "What's up now?" "Why, I called at his office today, and he was talking to one of his clerks up stairs."

"Nothing unusual in that." "And, John, he told the poor man to go to—you know where—through the speaking tube."—Pick Me Up.

In the markets of Brazil one often sees live snakes—a species of boa—from 10 to 15 feet long. They are employed in many houses to hunt rats at night, being otherwise perfectly harmless. They become attached to a house like a cat or a dog.

BOURBON CIRCUIT COURT.

Agricultural Bank of Paris, Plaintiff, vs. John W. Turner, Defendant.

By virtue of a judgment of the Bourbon Circuit Court rendered in the above styled cause on the 2d day of April, 1898, I will sell publicly at the Court House door in Paris, Kentucky, on at about the hour of noon, to the highest and best bidder, the following described real estate, to-wit:

All of the right, title and interest of the said John W. Turner in and to a tract of about 240 or 245 acres of land lying in Bourbon county, Kentucky, bounded by the lands of Mrs. Lucinda Ireland on the E., by the Kentucky Midland Railway Company on the S., by the lands of Blake and Simpson on the W. and being the same land devised to the said John W. Turner for life by his father, Chas. Turner, except a small portion thereof conveyed to W. H. Clay; but there is included in the above boundary of 240 or 245 acres a tract of about 10 or 11 acres con- eyed to said Turner by W. H. Clay, by deed of record in the office of the Clerk of Bourbon County Court, to which reference is made for a particular description.

Also, one lot of ground in Lexington, Kentucky, being in Block No. 12 of London property of the Belt Line Company, 50 feet on the W. side of Jackson street and running back 175 feet parallel to 7th Street.

Also, one lot of ground located in Lexington, Kentucky, being lot No. 17 in Block No. 12 of London Park property of the Belt Line Company, fronting on the E. side of Magoffin Avenue 55 feet and running back 175 feet.

Also, one lot of ground located in Lexington, Kentucky, being lot No. 18 in Block No. 12 of London Park property of the Belt Line Company, fronting on the W. side of Jackson street and running back 175 feet.

Or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the plaintiff's debt, interest and costs as hereinafter stated.

Said sale will be made upon credits of six and two-lve months for equal parts of the purchase money, for which the purchaser will be required to execute bonds with good surety to be approved by the undersigned Master Commissioner, payable to himself and bearing interest from date until paid at the rate of six per cent. having the force and effect of judgments.

Said sale is made to satisfy a judgment in favor of the plaintiff against the defendant herein for the sum of $3,825.02, with interest thereon from February 26th, 1898, until paid at the rate of six per cent. per annum, amounting, principal and interest, on the day of sale to the sum of $3,889.34 and the costs of this suit $127.45, making the sum total to be raised on the day of sale the sum of $4,016.79

MRS. LAURA WEISHAUF.

Of Murry, Ind., Recommends Wright's Celery Capsules. Murry, Ind., Sept 17, 1896. THE WRIGHT MEDICAL CO., Columbus, Ohio.

DEAR SIR:—Last spring I purchased a box of Wright's Celery Capsules from L. C. Davenport, druggist, Bluffton, Ind., and used them for stomach trouble with which I had been afflicted for more than 15 years. Since taking your capsules I have lost all trace of pain and my stomach is entirely well. I can eat anything and can truthfully say that I have not felt better in years.

Yours Respectfully, MRS. LAURA WEISHAUF. Sold by W. T. Brooks at 50c. and $1.00 per box. Send address on postal to the Wright Med. Co., Columbus, Ohio, for trial size, free.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet both sent free by mail, upon receipt of three two-cent stamps to cover cost of postage on the bottle. Mention THE PARIS (Ky.) News and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer. (2isp-imo)
