STAGE STORIES.

Amusement Announcements, Lobby Chat—Odd Bits of Gossip.

Stuart Robson has announced his intention of making an elaborate revival of the "Henrietta" next season.

The Grand Opera House opened last night as a stock theatre, at stock prices and with a recognized stock company, and will be open every evening this week. 10, 20 and 30 cents has proven the keynote to success for the best theatres of all our large cities, and Messrs. Ramsey & Porter secured the Chicago Stock Company to stop off in our city on their way North for a week's engagement, which will be played at these prices, which is sure to crowd the theatre every night. The bill last evening was "The Australian," a sensational comedy, which drew forth much applause and a universal verdict of satisfaction. Special scenery and effects brightened every act and new vaudeville specialties were introduced which were also heartily received. Tonight they will present the American comedy drama, "A True Kentuckian," and in order to accommodate those unable to secure seats last evening, ladies will be admitted free again to-night. Wednesday night the most famous play the world has ever known, "Que Vadis," will be the bill and seats are already being ordered for the special production.

"The Fatal Card" will be the bill for the Grand Opera House Thursday night and as many have read the book and most every one has heard of the famous production, a large crowd is expected.

Cincinnati telephone girls received a Christmas present in the shape of a dividend computed on the amount of their yearly salary. The male employees each received a turkey and a can of oysters.

The 1,500 striking stemmers of the Continental Tobacco Company did not return to work Saturday morning. It is now said that the employees of the American Tobacco Company will quit work unless their wages are raised.

Milton H. Kendall, of Lexington has brought suit against the L. & N. R. R. for $25,000 for the death of his son Amos, who was killed by the cars at Bowling Green, and afterwards brought here for burial. It will be remembered that Mr. Kendall and sons were charged with killing Eugene Cassell near Nicholasville. Amos at the time left home and the first news of his whereabouts was a telegram announcing his injuries, which resulted fatally.

WHEN you go to a barber shop you go to get your hair cut or to get shaved—not to be talked to death. My shop is the place to come. I also have a new warm bath room attached to my shop.
