OBITUARY.

Prof. Andrew Mozart Gutzeit, of this city, aged 45 years, died at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Lexington, Friday night.

The deceased had been a long and patient sufferer from rheumatism, but it was only during the past week that the disease took such a hold upon him as to cause his friends uneasiness. His wife, nee Miss Ida Muir, of Lexington, was with him during his last hours. The deceased was a member of Paris Lodge, No. 2, F. & A. M., Paris Lodge No. 373, B. P. O. E., and Phantom Lodge, No. 15, K. of P., of Lexington. His funeral was conducted at the Christian Church, in this city, of which he had been organist for several years, on Sunday afternoon, and was attended by one of the largest crowds ever in the building. Elder J. S. Sweeney and Eld. Lloyd Darsie both paid high tributes to his many noble traits of character. Paris lodge of Elks also conducted their funeral ceremony over the remains. The burial took place at the Paris cemetery.

Prof. Gutzeit was one of the most gifted musicians in Kentucky. He had been organist at the Christian church for a number of years, and the most touching incident of his funeral was the draping of the large pipe organ in mourning, which was silent at a funeral for the first time since it was placed in the church.

Mr. Thomas J. Jones, aged 72, died in Cynthiana on Sunday last, from the effects of burns received two weeks previous.

Wm. Luxon, Sr., died at his home in Richmond on last Thursday, aged 98. A year ago he made the trip from Richmond to Lexington, a distance of 26 miles on horseback.

Gen. James Slaughter, who commanded the Confederate forces in the last fight of the civil war at Bonas San Jaco, Texas, died in the City of Mexico last week. He was formerly a resident of Mobile, Ala.

Two shares Opera House stock will be sold Saturday at 2 o'clock, at the Court House.

ANTISEPTICINE is for sale by all druggists.

BIRTHS.

In Cynthiana, on New Year's day, to the wife of Dr. J. T. Ware, a son. Mrs. Ware was formerly Miss Pearl Craig.

There's Danger

In buying Shoes if you trust entirely to your own judgment. Not many people are judges of value in footwear, and, unless you are, you had better buy where you can have confidence in the dealer and trust to him to give you your money's worth. In buying

THE J. & M. SHOE.

You run no risk. There's $5 worth of Shoe leather and workmanship in every pair. If you don't want to pay quite so much for a Shoe, then at $3.50 and $4.00 will give you equally as much style at $1.00 to $1.50 less. We have plenty of Men's $3.00 Shoes too—as good as you ever wore. We invite you to look these lines over before you buy.

MATTERS MATRIMONIAL.

The Wedding Bells, Announcements, Cupid's Mischief

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Henry Clay entertained Saturday evening at The Heights, their handsome home in this county, with a dinner party which was a very important occasion, as it celebrated the announcement of the engagement of the daughter of the house, Miss Nannine Williams Clay, and Mr. Frederick Alfred Wallis. The marriage will take place in the spring. The couple will make their home in Lexington, residing at the Witherspoon house on West Third street, which was lately purchased by Mr. Wallis. Miss Clay is a great favorite in Blue Grass society, a noble representative of the prominent family to which she belongs and beloved wherever she is known.

Mr. Wallis is General Manager for the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company with headquarters at Lexington. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen N. Wallis, of Hopkinsville, the latter a well known Journalist of the State and the kinsmen of ex-Vice President Adlai Stevenson. Not only prominent in business and social circles, Mr. Wallis is a leader in philanthropic work, having been appointed at the world's meeting in London recently the Kentucky President of the Christian Endeavor Union.

The dinner Saturday evening was notable in the social history of the Blue Grass country for elegance and beauty of detail. A Lexington caterer furnished the elaborate menu, the music was by a Cincinnati orchestra, and lavish and lovely floral decorations came from Louisville. The colors were red and white, an effect of gorgeousness given to the table with American Beauty roses, many red candles burning, and the beautiful gowns of the company.

The announcement of the engagement of the handsome young couple was made by Miss Kate Alexander, a beautiful cousin of Miss Clay and the chosen maid of honor, and immediately Mr. Chapman Young, toastmaster for the dinner, proposed a toast to the prospective bride and groom and the responses were bright, eloquent and full of loving sentiment for the fortunate and happy young couple.

The name cards were works of art and treasured by the company as souvenirs. They were decorated with copies of Gibson girls, the queen of the feast being a fair type of the American girl we all love so well.

Following is a list of those present at the dinner:

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Henry Clay, Miss Clay, Mr. Wallis, Mr. and Mrs. George Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. John Woodford, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Pendleton of Winchester, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Henry Clay, Jr., Misses Kate Alexander, Nannine Clay, Elizabeth Woodford, Amelia Clay, Laura Estill of Lexington, Miss Little Williams, Chapman Young of Louisville, John Brennan, Samuel Clay, Ford Brent, George Williams Clay, Dr. John Sweeney, Duncan Bell, Buckner Clay, Aylette Beckner.

David Lipscomb, of Nashville, and Miss Nettie Wynn, of Mt. Sterling, will wed on the 16th inst.

The engagement is announced of Mr. Chas. F. Higgins and Miss Lizzie Turley, of Richmond. The marriage will occur on Wednesday, Jan. 16, at Hamilton college, Lexington.
