Here's a Chance to Make Ten Dollars Easy.

All You Have to Do Is to Pick the Winners In the Coming Primary.

Just for the interest attached to a guessing contest and to put a little more interest into the coming campaign for County officers, THE NEWS will give its readers a chance to make ten dollars and have a little fun at guessing on the side.

To the person making the first correct guess of the winners in the Democratic Primary Election which will be held in this county on Saturday, June 1st, 1901. The News will present a ten dollar gold piece. The conditions of the contest are simple. Old subscribers and new subscribers who pay $2 on their subscriptions will each be entitled to a guess, and to as many guesses as they pay year's subscription. If no one guesses correctly, the first one who guesses the closest to all the winners will receive the ten dollars.

Peculiarities of Crime.

One of the strangest peculiarities of human nature is its inclination to imitate the misdeeds of others. Crime is epidemic. A particularly dreadful murder, the details of which are set forth in all the newspapers, often has the effect of inducing similar crimes. One of the reasons, and probably the chief reason, why public executions were abolished in England, was that instead of acting as a deterrent the execution had the contrary effect of inciting to murder.

In 1885 a woman of Geneva, named Lombardi, killed her four children. She admitted that she had been reading of a woman who killed her husband, and the very circumstantial account had made her wish to imitate the crime, but as her husband was dead she killed the children. This is only one instance out of hundreds which have come to our notice.

Some Nice Royal Jobs. "One of the most desirable posts at Windsor castle," says a correspondent of the Chicago Record, "is that of 'the king's linner,' who in ancient times decorated books and manuscripts with initial letters and who now prepares the royal commissions when his majesty is pleased to confer knighthood or some other honor upon one of his subjects. The man who now fills the post has extraordinary skill with the pen and brush, and his diplomas and certificates were greatly admired for their exquisite taste and skillful execution. He receives a salary of $2,500 a year. The clockmaker at Windsor castle receives the same compensation, and it is his business to keep all the timepieces in repair. The historiographer, who is supposed to keep a record of the events which transpire in the office, with a salary of $2,500 a year. The master of music receives $1,500 and arranges concerts for his majesty's diversion. The surveyor of pictures is paid $1,500, the librarian receives $2,500, the examiner of plays $1,000, the keeper of the royal wardrobe $1,000, and the bargemaster, who looks after the boats used by the royal family at Windsor, has a similar compensation."

Something Which He Learned. A soft answer has not only the effect of turning away wrath, it may serve to avenge an injury. Years ago the Rev. J. H. Jones was making a visit in Boston and attended a biweekly conference at Divinity Hall. Just at that time he was out of sorts with the east, and doubtless reflected an angry mood. Especially did he insist that "they didn't know everything down in Judea or even in Cambridge."

POACHING IN LONDON PARKS. Nearly all the London parks are well stocked with eatable birds, and it is the easiest thing in the world for Londoners to kill them, clean them and carry them off to the nearest hot plate for roasting. A story is told by Londoners of a couple of impetuous Scotch black and white artists who took a garret in Lincoln's Inn Fields and lived for a week on Law court pigeons, which are plump, lively, plentiful and tame and would doubtless make a good meal. In addition to poaching in the parks, there is also good reason to believe that many of the rare birds sold to shady bird dealers are snared there.—Glasgow News.

The Deer's Eyes.

A Canadian hunter tells this incident of how he once came face to face with his quarry and hadn't the heart to fire: "It wasn't a case of 'buck fever,' such as a novice might experience, for I had been a hunter for many years, and had killed a good many deer. This was a particularly fine buck that I had followed for three days. A strong man can run any deer to earth in time, and at last I had my prey tired out. From the top of a hill I sighted him a few miles away. He had given up the fight and had stretched himself out on the snow. As I stalked him, he changed his position and took shelter behind a boulder, and using the same boulder for a shelter, I came suddenly face to face with him. He didn't attempt to run away, but stood there looking at me with the most pitiful pair of eyes I ever saw. "Shoot? I could have no more shot him than I could have shot a child. Had the chance come from a distance of 100 yards, I would have shot him through and carried his antlers home in triumph, but not having looked into those eyes it would have been nothing less than murder. I have hunted deer since then, but I find the sport affords me little pleasure. Whenever I draw a bead, the picture of those mute, appealing eyes comes before me, and though it has not prevented me from pulling the trigger, I have always felt glad somehow when my bullet failed to find its mark."—Washington Post.

How Lithuanians Play Dice. A peculiar dice game is indulged in by the gambling element of Lithuanians in Baltimore. Gathering about the dice tables in the saloons kept by their fellow countrymen they quickly lose all interest in everything outside of that which is transpiring upon the cloth before them. As they sit or stand about the tables the crowfoot features of old men contrast strongly with the ruddy faces of the youths. The eagerness with which the players seek the numbers upon the falling pieces is wolfish in its intensity. Comparatively small sums are placed upon the game, and side bets run from 5 cents to $1.

A Gentle Hint. In our style of climate, with its sudden changes of temperature—rain, cold, and sunshine often intermingled in a single day—it is no wonder that our children, friends and relatives are so frequently taken from us by neglected colds, half the deaths resulting directly from this cause. A bottle of Bosche's German Syrup kept about your home for immediate use will prevent serious sickness, a large doctor's bill, and perhaps death, by the use of three or four doses. For curing Consumption, Hemorrhages, Pneumonia, Severe Coughs, Croup, and every disease of the Throat or Lungs, its success is simply wonderful, as your druggist will tell you. Get a sample bottle free from W. T. Brooks, Paris, Ky. Regular size, 75 cts. Get Green's Prize Almanac.

I finally bought a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar and after using two-thirds of it, I was entirely cured." Clark & Kenney Remembered Whole Books. Walter Savage Landor carried his library in his head. When he had read a book, he always gave it away on principle, having, as he said, observed that with such a purpose in his mind he was sure to retain of a book all that was worth keeping. In his old age Landor was furious if he did not at once remember any passage of a book or any name or date.

Wise Elephants.

The baby elephants, members of the Famous Hunter Dog and Pony Show this season, are said to be the brightest specimens of their sort ever exhibited. In fact, it is said, they are capable of going through their performance without one word of command from the ring master. Their part of the programme lasts nearly fifteen minutes, and comprises some of the most difficult tasks ever attempted by dumb animals. In addition to their brightness they are the most docile specimens ever seen. Very fond of children and as playful as cats. They play many jokes upon the dog and pony members of the company, such as stealing their food, pulling the dogs' tails, and things of that sort. They were imported direct from India by Prof. Gentry, and nursed on bottles at his farm in Indiana, until they were strong enough to go on the road with the Show. This excellent organization will exhibit at Paris on Friday afternoon an evening, April 26. You cannot enjoy perfect health, rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes if your liver is sluggish and your bowels clogged. DeWitt's Little Early Risers cleanse the whole system. They never gripe. W. T. Brooks.

Last winter I was confined to my bed with a very bad cold on the lungs. Nothing gave me relief. Finally my wife bought a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure that effected a speedy cure. I can not speak too highly of that excellent remedy." Mr. T. K. Houseman, Manatawney, Pa. W. T. Brooks.
