Most of the candidates who were defeated on Saturday have taken their defeat with good grace and are already in line to meet the common enemy in November. This is simply pure Democracy. The growler who goes around telling what the result would be if it was all gone over again and saying that his successful opponent was not yet elected, is virtually admitting that he is not doing what he in honor bound himself to do, support the nominee of the primary.

All good democrats will do all in their power to see that the nominees are elected. As for the others, they are like the poor, "Ye have them always with you."
