AMUSEMENTS.

—Probably the most fanciful as well as laughable monarch the stage has ever had in the long line of rulers which have come from time to time is jolly old "King Dodo," who is the central figure in the Pixley and Luders' successful comic opera of that title. King Dodo is a far cry from the conventional monarch of theapies. Everything he does and everything he says is absolutely original. The poor old chap is looking for the fountain of youth and in order to regain his lost years he resorts to all kinds of doings. Finally, however, he does find it, not of his own free will but through an accident; but, once that he is young again, he discovers that youth too has its drawbacks, for becoming a boy again he has lost the love of a regal queen upon whose possessions he happens to be at the time, and to whom he has taken a violent liking.
Fortunately it all comes out as it should for another "accident" gives him back the years. The e is but one opinion of this comic opera and it has been voiced from one end of the country to the other—"There is no king but Dodo."

—Manager Porter having heard that the attraction he has booked for thanksgiving day, M. B. Curtis, in "Sam'l of Posen," was not up to the standard, promptly canceled them, and the opera house will be dark until Friday night.

"CHRIS AND LENA."

A broad grin has overspread the faces of our Tentonic citizens ever since it has been announced that the Eminent German dialect comedian, Peter Baker, was to visit our city. The engagement is looked forward to with much anxiety by the amusement public. "Chris and Lena" is the play, one that has been a big success not only with one class of theatre-goers but with all, and with the equipment attached to the production this season in way of scenery and cast much more can be expected. It is also promised that Mr. Baker will have a full budget of new songs and warbles.
This excellent organization will appear at the Grand on Friday night, November 28. Prices, 25 to 75 cents.
