AMUSEMENTS.

Few, if any, players have gained so much prominence as that fascinating little actress, Dainty May Sargent, who will be seen at the Grand Opera House on next Friday night, and who graduated at the Rideau St. Convent, in Ottawa, Canada, where she was a student for three or four years and President of the English Girl's Dramatic Entertainments. Miss Sargent made her professional debut with Madam Modjeska, and is now scoring heavily in "Other People's Money." The following tribute was paid her by a prominent American newspaper critic on her performance in this play last season:

"To see her is to love her,
And to love her but forever,
For nature made her what she is
And ne'er made sic anither.

Doubtless the many friends and admirers of Miss Sargent will read with interest her success since she left Ottawa. She comes of an old theatrical family. Her father, Harry M. Sargent, brought Madame Rhea to America and managed her successful tours, and was afterwards a prominent lessee of a theatre in England. Her mother was an accomplished actress and appeared with Madame Modjeska several seasons. Miss Sargent appears in the role of "Tielka Van Sittam," and her gowns are said to be the epitome of her modiste's (Madame Giannie, of New York City,) skill.
