Dynamite Exploded.

William Florence, a lineman in the employ of the East Tennessee Telephone Company, while working on the Bethlehem pike near this city, Friday afternoon, was killed and his body terribly mangled by the explosion of a stick of dynamite which he carried in his pocket.

Florence was working with a party of hands planting posts and stretching wires. None of the fellow workmen were near when the explosion occurred. It is supposed that the dynamite was in some way struck by a tool which caused it to explode. The unfortunate man lived at Kenney Station, was about 23 years of age and unmarried.

He was a brother of Manley Florence, who was killed in an explosion near Paris something over a year ago. It will be remembered that a party of hands were blasting out a hole in which to plant a post. The blast failed to go off, and Florence went to see what the trouble was. While he was looking into the hole, the blast went off and he was instantly killed.

The necessary amount of money has been raised with which to carry on the fair and it is now an assured fact. Now, let our merchants and wide awake citizens get together and make a great success of the undertaking.

Mr. Randall, advance agent and advertising manager is in the city advertising things and boosting the fair to the skies. Mr. Randall is a thorough business man, and if the rest of the employees of the Carnival Company bring up their end as well as Mr. Randall, there is no doubt of the fair being a hummer.

The meetings will be held in the old Christian church property, on Main street. The New Elks' Building.

The building committee of the Elks lodge met in J. M. Brennan's office yesterday afternoon and let out bids for the building of the new Elks' home in this city.

The contract for the building was let to Clark & Howard, of Lexington. Their bid was not accepted as a whole, however.

The cost of the new building will be $21,495.88, and when completed will be one of the handsomest lodge edifices in the state.

Woods Bros. will do the foundation. Lowry & Talbot will do the galvanizing and tin work.

The painting and glazing was awarded to C. A. Daugherty. Work on the new building will not probably be commenced just yet, owing to a question arising in regard to the wall on the West side, which is claimed by both Judge Mann and the Elks. It is to be hoped, however, that this matter will be amicably adjusted, and that the work will soon be commenced. W. A. HILL.
