RIOTERS REPULSED.

A Blood Battle Between the Soldiers and the Armed Mob at Evansville, Ind.

MORE TROOPS WERE ORDERED OUT

In the Encounter Nine Persons Were Killed, 14 Wounded and That Many More Injured.

The Riot was the Outcome of the Murder of a Policeman by a Negro and a Race War That Followed.

Evansville, Ind., July 7.—The first clash between the militia and citizens occurred Monday afternoon a few hours after the soldiers took their station in front of the jail. A man attempted to brush past one of the sentries. He was halted and turned back but advanced a second time, grabbing the soldier's gun and attempting to wrest it from his hands.

At 10:30 o'clock the members of Company A, First regiment, Indiana national guard, after a day's vigilance guarding the county jail and 100 deputy sheriffs under Sheriff Chris Kratz, fired point blank into a mob of 1,000 men gathered on Fourth, Division and Vine streets, surrounding the Vanderburg county jail and attempting its capture.

Then the leaders, with a bicycle in their front as a shield to the bayonets of the soldiers, attempted to enter the alley and storm the alleyway entrance. Capt. Blum, of the national guard, ordered a charge on the rioters. Gradually the crowd was forced back, the soldiers using their bayonets and butts of guns. Suddenly a rioter fell. A soldier tried to drag him to his feet but before he could was assaulted by a rioter. Stones and boulders began to fly through the air.

All over the street, crawling and moaning wounded rioters and onlookers tried to ease their pain and escape by getting away from the jail. On Division street, lying between her grief-stricken father and mother the little Allman girl was dead with her breast torn away with a buckshot charge. She was out driving with her parents who, attracted by the noise, stopped a few minutes to watch the excitement.

Inside the jail 43 prisoners lay terrified in the darkness, 16 of them Negroes whose lives are far from safe if the mob attacks the jail again and effects a capture. The lights were turned out when the shooting began and the prisoners moaned and cried in their cells. Telephone messages were sent from the jail to the hospitals and to physicians calling for aid and to them the response was quick. Doctors from all over Evansville drove rapidly at the call.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 7.—Gov. Durbine arrived at his office Monday night. He has ordered out the militia companies at New Albany, Terre Haute and Vincennes and is calling out Indianapolis companies to hold in reserve. He is preparing to declare martial law. He expresses indignation at the sheriff of Vanderburg county, and says if the sheriff had performed his duty instead of relying on the state the catastrophe would have been avoided.

Vincennes, Ind., July 7.—Lee Brown, the Negro murderer of Officer Louis Massey, of Evansville, who was brought to this city for safe keeping from the mob at Evansville, is slowly sinking from the wounds inflicted by Massey after the latter had been shot. Three doctors have visited Brown in his cell and pronounced him beyond medical aid.

Evansville, Ind., July 8.—Frank Lambie, the eighth victim of the battle in front of the county jail Monday night, died Tuesday evening at Gilbert's hospital. Lambie was shot through the back and suffered intense pain until his death. He was 23 years old and a stove moulder by occupation. The ninth death from the riot of Monday night occurred Tuesday night. Charles Taylor, aged 25, was shot in the small of the back. He was an on-looker and did not engage in the attack on the troops. He died in terrible agony. John Barrett and two others are dying from shot wounds received from the volley fired Monday night into the mob.

The city of Evansville is now under the control of Brig. Gen. W. J. McKee and Maj. Charles G. Covere, assisted by a committee of public safety chosen Tuesday evening at a conference. The conference was called by Gen. McKee, who inquired of the mayor what precautions had been taken to prevent a recurrence of Monday night's lawlessness.

Gen. McKee informed the mayor that the state would not assume control of the city until the municipality had exhausted its resources. After a consultation with prominent citizens who attended the meeting, Mayor Covert announced a committee of public safety which will advise him during the trouble.

There are eight companies of militia and one battery here. There are 400 soldiers, all armed with rifles, and a light battery armed with a Gatling gun. The Terre Haute company arrived Tuesday afternoon and relieved the Vincennes and Evansville companies in guarding the jail.

The committee discussed the situation with the Mayor and Gen. McKee and decided to place the guarding of the city in the hands of Chief of Police Fred Heuke, and to strengthen his regular police force 32 men, making it 100. The military force will assist the police and patrol the city. All persons found on the streets who can not furnish a satisfactory explanation of where they are going will be sent to their homes under guard. The special policemen were sworn in at 8 o'clock and posted on their beats. The plans of the committee on public safety also provided for the relief of all deputy sheriffs appointed by Sheriff Kratz. These men were relieved during the night and their places taken by special policemen. The policemen are armed with shotguns and revolvers and their instructions are to command the people to respect their authority.

The governor has in addition to the troops already here 30 additional companies of infantry and two more batteries of artillery ready to be poured into Evansville at a few hours' notice. Ten men, nine of them Negroes, were fined in police court Tuesday $100 and costs each for carrying concealed weapons. The Negro fire company has left the city under advice of the mayor and the places in the department have been filled with white men.

Lee Brown, the Negro who was in jail at Vincennes for safe-keeping, after he had killed Policeman Massey and precipitated the race riots, was Tuesday taken to the state prison at Jeffersonville by Sheriff Summitt by order of Gov. Durbine. The Negro was barely alive and had to be given stimulants and worked with for two hours before he could be taken to the train. The grand jury returned 20 indictments Tuesday against rioters in Monday night's trouble. The capias have not been served and the names of the rioters have not been made public. They are said to be against well-known citizens.

Not a Negro can be seen on the streets, they either being in hiding or having left the city clandestinely. Evansville, Ind., July 9.—Acting under orders of Judge Barch, Sheriff Kratz Wednesday night left for Jeffersonville to bring back Lee Brown, the wounded Negro who killed Policeman Massey last Friday. It was this killing and the desire of the mob to lynch Brown that precipitated the rioting in Evansville.

How Sheriff Kratz will bring the Negro, and at what hour he will arrive in Evansville will be kept secret if possible. The sheriff took with him one deputy and Dr. Gilbert, who will try to keep Brown alive until he can be tried. If the Negro is successfully placed in the Evansville jail his trial for the killing of Patrolman Massey will be rushed through and, unless a change of venue is taken, the troops will be held until the trial is over. A venire of 50 names was secretly drawn Wednesday afternoon.

The courthouse and jail are still guarded night and day by the Martinsville and Evansville companies of militia.

There was five arrests Wednesday on grand jury indictments for the rioting Sunday night. Those under arrest are Richard Grosbeck, who was socialist candidate for clerk; A. P. Cardwell, a furniture merchant; J. T. Ziegler, William Trimble and James Steele. All were released under bond.

The coroner heard evidence Wednesday on the shooting of Monday night. He has not returned a verdict. There were no more deaths Wednesday. The three persons believed to be fatally shot are in about the same condition as Tuesday. There were two funerals of mob victims Wednesday afternoon. August Jordan and Hazel Allman were buried quietly. The Allman funeral was held a day sooner than announced in order to prevent excitement.

The police say that while many of those shot by the militia were reputable persons and no doubt drawn into the crowd from curiosity, two or three of those killed were disturbers and had caused the police trouble before. A revolver found by one of the dead bodies had three empty chambers that had been recently exploded.

A hardware firm, whose store was emptied of arms by the mob Wednesday afternoon, inserted an advertisement in local newspapers asking for the return of the pistols and ammunition taken on the night of July 5. If the arms are returned at once, no questions will be asked, but if the pistols are found, the persons will be prosecuted.

A STATE BALL GIVEN.

United States Officers Entertained by King Edward.

His Majesty Had a Pleasant Word to Say to Each of the American Officers Presented to Him by Ambassador Choate.

London, July 9.—King Edward signally honored the officers of the American squadron Wednesday night at the state ball given at Buckingham palace—the climax of the visit of President Loubet. His majesty formally received Adm. Cotton, the captains of the American ships and 25 of the junior American officers, and Queen Alexandra later gave them the same distinction. The ball—the first since the accession of King Edward—was a brilliant function, 2,200 guests being present, including President Loubet and his suite, practically all the ambassadors and ministers in London, the majority of the members of the royal family, prominent representatives of the nobility and the officers of the American and French squadrons now in British waters.

Before the arrival of President Loubet, United States Ambassador Choate, with Secretary White attending, presented to his majesty the invited officers of the American squadron.

To Rr. Adm. Cotton the king expressed his gratification at the visit of the squadron and inquired if all arrangements had been made for the comfort of the American officers and sailors. Adm. Cotton replied that he had fallen among friends and every care had been taken of himself and the others. His majesty had a pleasant word to say to each of the officers presented.

The admiral, his captain and staff, Lieut. Mussey, were then presented to Queen Alexandra. During the supper several American officers were also introduced to the prince of Wales. Field Marshal Lord Roberts, Adm. Lord Chas. Beresford, Gen. Sir Redvers Buller and other distinguished Englishmen personally assisted at the welcome given the officers of the United States squadron. The scene was one of splendor which could not easily be surpassed. The gowns and uniforms were magnificent and the display of jewels wonderful.

The king and queen led the royal quadrille which opened the ball and in which participated President Loubet, the duchess of Devonshire and a number of distinguished guests. Before the ball Adm. Cotton, the American captains and staff Lieut. Mussey dined with the Earl Selbourne, first lord of the admiralty, at White Hall. The dinner was attended by naval officials, Lady Selbourne being the only woman present.

Adm. Cotton has been instructed to detach the Kearsarge from his squadron in order that she may arrive at Frenchmans Bay, Me., on July 27, when the naval maneuvers will begin. This action is regretted, as the Kearsarge is the feature of the naval representation in European waters and it will be impossible to carry out the prepared program in the manner desired. Adm. Cotton will shift his flag to the Chicago until the arrival of the Brooklyn.

I have never used it myself without gaining great benefit. A few doses restores my strength and appetite, and tones up the entire system. Your medicine has been tried and found true, hence I fully endorse it."—Mrs. R. A.
