WAIVED EXAMINING TRIAL.—James Cooper, who shot and killed Charlton Hulet at Lexington last Thursday, was arraigned before Judge Bullock Wednesday for examining trial, and, on motion of his attorney, who waived examination, he was sent to jail to await the action of the Fayette county grand jury.

KILLED A COW.—On Tuesday evening, during the electrical storm, lightning struck a big buckeye tree in the yard of Mr. Wm. H. Mitchell, in East Paris, shattering the tree and killing a number one milk cow for Mr. Mitchell. There were several planks torn from his residence. Mike Murphy, who lives next door, says he thought the world had come to an end.

CARRARA PAINT.—Why do some painters abuse "Carrara" Paint? For the same reason that the little boy got angry because another boy stepped on his sore toe, "Cause it hurts." Painter make money mixing their own paints out of cheap ingredients, and they know when a property owner uses "Carrara" he can never be induced to use any other paint. "Carrara" Paint is guaranteed to look better in eight years than any other paint will in two years, and if not as recommended the Power Grocery Company will make it right. It

Pearce Thaxton Asphyxiated.

A telegram was received by Mrs. Ella Thaxton, of Millersburg, stating that her son, Pearce Thaxton, had been found dead in bed at a hotel at Atlantic City. He left Millersburg last Friday with an excursion party for Atlantic City. When he arrived at that city he registered, with five other friends, at a prominent hotel, and told the bell boy that this was his first trip away from home and asked him to show him how the gas was used. When he failed to rise next morning the door was forced and he was found dead in bed. He had evidently blown out the gas.

Pearce Thaxton was 18 years of age, and son of the late H. C. Thaxton, who moved to Millersburg some years ago from Mason county. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Ella Thaxton, and a younger brother, who is 13 years of age. He resided with his mother on a farm near Millersburg, and had arrived at the age when he was of great assistance to his mother in the management of the farm. He was just entering society and was highly regarded for many attractive qualities.

Mr. W. V. Shaw, one of the party, is expected home to-day with the remains.

THOMSON'S summer shoes are just the thing for this weather.

The Powers Trial.

When court opened Wednesday morning, the one hundred veniremen who were summoned from Bourbon county for the Caleb Powers case, were marched into the court room and ranged in tiers of benches behind the bar. A number of them were excused for having formed opinions, for sickness and other causes. After all day had been consumed in examining the veniremen, the following jury of twelve was accepted, subject to fifteen challenges of the defense: W. Scott Williams, John H. Wilson, J. Frank Hazelwood, George Estes, Alfred Mitchell, Clay Estes, Thomas Padgett, George Falconer, John Doty, Leslie Hagan, Jack Howard and George Wyatt. They are all well known Bourbon county farmers except Williams and Howard, who are respectively a carpenter and blacksmith.

Mr. Dennis Daudon has been added to the list of attorneys for prosecution, and Judge H. C. Howard to list for defense.

The defense is claiming that there are too many Democrats on the jury, and it is expected that they will excuse all of them. The Commonwealth has accepted the jury named.

Judge Robbins Thursday overruled the motion of the defense in the Caleb Powers case, challenging the entire jury panel which was provisionally accepted.

The motion was accompanied by affidavits of Caleb Powers and Thomas C. Whalley alleging that of the 65 jurors summoned only two were Republicans. The ground for overruling the motion was that political affiliation is not a qualification for jury service at law.

On peremptory challenge the defense excused J. C. Howard, Thomas Padgett, J. F. Hazelwood, J. W. Doty, J. W. Falconer, Q. W. Hagan and W. S. Williams, who were temporarily accepted. LATER.—Jury completed and accepted as follows: G. W. Wyatt, Albert Mitchell, W. N. Rion, Perry Rice, Denis Hanley, S. H. Booth, Ed. Ingels, Clay Estis, Geo. Estis, D. D. Wilson, J. T. Hill and E. V. Layson.

Bourbon County Teachers Institute.

Col. Geo. M. Edgar will conduct the Bourbon County Teachers Institute at the Paris High School building August 17-21.

Prof. C. C. Monroe will conduct the colored Teachers Institute, at colored City School building, August 24-28. There has been an unusually interesting program prepared for this meeting. All who are interested in education are invited to attend.

A CHANCE WORTH TAKING.—Reduced prices in shoes and slippers. HARRY SIMON.

Gov. Beckham Entertained.

The old fashioned hospitality that has made Kentucky famous the world round was marked in the elegant reception tendered Governor Beckham and a large number of friends by Col. Milton Young at his famous "McGrathiana" Wednesday. Present to do the occasion honor were many of the kindred spirits of Lexington, Fayette county and the surrounding counties. The occasion was the birthday of Kentucky's Governor.

The feature of the luncheon was the Hon. W. P. Thorne's indorsement of Col. W. O. P. Breckinridge for the Democratic nomination for Congress from the Seventh district. The luncheon had been advertised as being purely a social gathering, and as having no political significance whatever. So it was, save for Mr. Thorne's speech.

Col. Breckinridge had previously spoken, and said that, forgetting the past, he was looking toward the future. His remarks were greeted with great applause, and all said he had made the effort of his life. Mr. Thorne followed: "I am glad to know," said he, "that Col. Breckinridge has returned to the Democratic fold. I have always been his friend, and he has been my friend, and I hope that I shall have the pleasure of voting for him for Congress. I am for him for the Democratic nomination, and my people are for him."

Give It to Our Home Merchant.

The building committee late yesterday afternoon opened and considered the bids on the wood furniture for the new court house, there being four contending bidders—A. H. Andrews & Co., of Chicago; Robt. Mitchell Co., of Cincinnati; Ohmer & Sons, of Dayton, and J. T. Hinton, our home merchant. We understand that the committee has narrowed the bids down to those of Ohmer & Sons and Mr. Hinton.

It certainly speaks well for Mr. Hinton to be able to out-bid two such strong bidders as the two left out, and he should by all means be awarded the contract.

Mr. Hinton is not only one of our most enterprising merchants, but is also a public spirited man and one of our largest tax payers, with his investments all made at home, and the home interest always at heart.

Mr. Hinton will also bid on the steel filing cabinets and vault fixtures.

With a man of Mr. Hinton's large experience in handling such contracts and so deserving of consideration the committee should see that he receives both orders.
