THE NORTH STAR.—Everyone who has a North Star Refrigerator pronounces it the best on the market. It saves you money in ice and keeps butter beautifully. J. T. HINTON.

ANOTHER PUZZLER.—A successor to "How Old Is Ann?" has arisen in Louisville. Here it is: "A bottle and a cork together cost $1.05 and the bottle costs $1 more than the cork. How much did each cost?"

HISTORIC FARM SOLD.—Paul Lansing, of Versailles, purchased from Withrow Brothers their farm, containing 385 acres, one and one-half miles east of Midway, near the Midway and Craig's Mill turnpike, for $37,000 cash. This is one of the historic places of Woodford county. It was originally settled by Judge Caleb Wallace, one of the first judges of the Kentucky Court of Appeals, and the building on the farm that was used by Justice Wallace as his law office and in which the first court of Woodford county was organized, in 1789, is still standing and is in a good state of preservation.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce Claude M. Thomas, of Bourbon, as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congressman from the Seventh District, subject to the action of the District Convention to be held in the city of Lexington, on Thursday, May 12, 1904.

"Boodler Buster" Wins.

Joseph W. Folk, the "boodler" prosecutor, has won his fight for the Democratic nomination for Governor in Missouri. Although opposed by the entire State machine, which has controlled all elections in Missouri for many years, Mr. Folk has won his fight fairly. His campaign for Governor, just as his career as Circuit Attorney of St. Louis, has been based on his attitude of antagonism to "boodling" and "boodlers." Over in Saline county, last week, where the politicians, hoping to defeat him, had framed up a pledge to be required of every candidate going on their primary tickets, asked Mr. Folk to sign his name to a promise to support the Democratic nominees from Governor down. Mr. Folk smilingly penned his name, then added: "It must be distinctly understood that I will vote against any Democratic nominee whom I know to be a boodler."

Mr. Folk has fought Governor Dockery, United States Senator Stone, Secretary of State Cook, State Auditor Allen, Police Commissioner Hawes, Mayor Reed, Judge Cantt, Ed Butler, and a whole list of minor politicians, and has whipped them every one.

He has 285 uncontested delegates to the State Nominating Convention, having carried ten out of eleven counties choosing their delegates Saturday. Three hundred and fifty-six delegates are necessary to nominate Harry B. Hawes has 111 delegates, all in St. Louis.

Failing to carry a single county, Hawes has withdrawn from the contest. Mayor Reed has only 41 delegates. The field, to all intents and purposes, is finished.

By direct appeals to the people, by strenuous advocacy of a mighty principle, and an entirely novel issue, the young "boodler" prosecutor has wiped out the machine and will be nominated for Governor of Missouri. That he will be elected goes without saying. Prominent Republicans assert that forty thousand of their party will vote for Folk.

Let Clark Name Him.

There are now four candidates mentioned for the Democratic nomination for State Senate from this Senatorial District, composed of Bourbon, Clark and Montgomery. By an understanding for a number of years these counties take turn about in choosing the Senator. It is now Clark county's time and all of the candidates named are from Clark. Would it not be the best for the candidates, a saving to them of money and time, to let their own county select which one of them shall be the standard-bearer? A primary should just be held in Clark county for this race, and the same rule should always be observed in regard to selecting a man for this office by each of the counties of the district. Let the county whose time it is to furnish a Senator select the man without the interference of the other two. This is our notion about the matter, and we think it would be for the best of all concerned.

FOUND.—Door key. Owner can have same by calling at News office. 2t

THE BEST SHOE.—All well-dressed men wear the famous Walk-Over Shoe. Right in style, right in quality and right in price. FREEMAN & FREEMAN, Sole Agents. 10-1f

LOW ESTIMATE ON LIFE.—It may or may not, be gratifying to Kentuckians to know that the 1,300 prisoners in the Frankfort penitentiary 215 are there for murder, and that Frankfort has more life-term prisoners than any prison in the United States. These statistics prove that life is held too cheaply in Kentucky.

NON-EXPLOSIVE GASOLINE.—Don't burn yourself and property up with gasoline and coal oil when we can make it non-explosive. Come and ask for demonstration. 10-2t C. P. COOK & Co.

NARROW ESCAPE.—A Jack Gatewood, the well-known insurance man of Mt. Sterling, narrowly escaped being killed by his horse running away. He was thrown against a fence, his leg horribly torn and his body badly bruised. He is, however, not dangerously hurt.

FOR LUNCH.—All kinds of package crackers and cakes at J. HARRISON DAVIS, Opp. Windsor Hotel. 10-2t

FASHIONABLE FOOTWEAR.—Freeman & Freeman Furnish Fine, Fashionable Footwear For Fastidious Females. 10-1f

HIGH PRICES TO RULE.—The best informed men in the tobacco trade say that high prices will rule on all tobacco that can be grown this year. Even with a large crop and increased acreage the demand will more than equal the supply. The foreign trade is increasing at a rapid rate, and every pound that can be raised is assured a ready market at a good price.

SAY!—Talk to T Porter Smith about the insurance. (13nv-1f)

REFRESHING.—The beer at the Hotel Windsor Bar is at all times cold and refreshing.

FATAL FALL.—Daniel Duncan, a Lexington politician, one of the defendants in the election fraud cases set for trial in the Federal Court at London this week, fell from a third-story window of the Catchings Hotel and died about 12 o'clock Wednesday. He was found lying on the brick and stone pavement, about fifty feet below his window in the hotel, in an unconscious condition. His door was locked and the bed was turned down, giving the impression that he had gone to bed and had got up to lower the window and fell out.
