DEATHS.

—Mrs. Mary J. Carlisle, wife of former Secretary of the Treasury John G. Carlisle, died Friday at her country home in West Islip, Long Island, after an illness of three weeks, of a complication of diseases. The funeral was held on Sunday and the body placed in a vault in the Babylon, L. I., cemetery until October, when it will be taken to Covington, Ky., for permanent burial.

Johannie Must Show His Hand.

Mrs. John E. Madden, wife of the turfman, was granted an order by a Brooklyn court Friday requiring her husband to appear before a referee and render an account of the amount and value of his property. The purpose of the hearing is to fix a basis for determining the amount of an allowance of alimony.

County Attorneys Have Preference.

In a written opinion delivered by Attorney General Hays, it is held that Revenue Agents in instituting suits for back taxes, must employ the County Attorney of the county in which the action is instituted.

Auspicious Opening.

Parks' Hill Assembly opened Friday with four hundred and fifty campers on the ground and calls for more cottages. Rev. W. T. Bolling, of Memphis, has charge of the services. Bishop Galloway, of Mississippi, preached Sunday at both morning and afternoon services to large crowds.

The music is in charge of the Otterbein Male Quartette, of Chicago.

The program to the very last day is replete with more good things than ever presented. High grade lecturers and popular entertainers are the best to be had, and you will miss the best assembly yet held at this place if you fail to go. A train leaves Paris every evening at 5:45 and returns after evening services.

Have Troubles of Their Own.

The meeting of the Montgomery Fiscal Court, Friday, at Mt. Sterling, developed into a big row, and resulted in the dismissal of Road Supervisor W. W. Eubank. It developed before the meeting that the court had spent $24,000 for turnpike repairs, which is $15,000 more than the appropriation. The expenditure, it is said, was made in violation of the law. After Eubank's dismissal an order was passed instructing the Treasurer to refuse to pay the claims held by the bank, and ordering the County Clerk to issue no more vouchers unless authorized by the Court, County Attorney Thomas threatened to enjoin the Court in an attempt to transfer funds to the turnpike fund. Unless the vouchers are paid the bank will sue.

Government Takes Charge.

A gallant band of U. S. marine surgeons were sent to New Orleans, Sunday, to take charge of the yellow fever situation. The fever report up to Sunday night is as follows:

Colored Troops Demand Recognition.

At a meeting of the Republican County Committee of Fayette County formal notice was given the Republican party by the colored members of the committee that unless negroes were given equal prominence on the ticket selected to oppose the Democratic nominees, there would be a split in the party, the negroes going over to the opposition.

Glad He Was No Longer President.

[Success Magazine.]

"From what I know of his tastes and tendencies, I am not at all surprised that Grover Cleveland should prefer to keep out of politics," recently remarked a friend of the ex-President. "I remember that when he stepped out of the office at the end of the second term as Chief Executive he felt vastly relieved. His spirits rose with a bound. A few days after the inauguration of President McKinley, Mr. Cleveland was in New York, and I happened to walk down Broadway with him. He was beaming, and was taking note of the interesting things about him, with all the jest of a big hearty boy just out of school. The shop windows were engaging not a little of his attention. Upon a glance into one of them, that of a photographer, he stopped short. In the window was an oil painting of himself.

"Well, well," he exclaimed, with a laugh, "here is the most interesting thing we've seen yet! It's old Grover. Let's see what he looks like." Mr. Cleveland and his portrait stared at each other for a moment, and then the ex-President remarked with a chuckle:

"So this is the man we have all heard so much about; I must say that this picture makes him out a good deal better looking than some of the portraits I have seen of him in the newspapers. He looks healthy but a little worried. I would be willing to wager that he's glad he's no longer President."

Fortune and the Beggar.

[H. Fontaine Little in Life.]

One day a ragged beggar was creeping along the street. He carried in his hands an old wallet, and he asked every passerby for a few cents. As he was grumbling at his lot, he kept wondering why it was that people who had so much were never satisfied, but were always wanting more.

"If I only had enough to eat and wear, I should be satisfied," said the beggar.

Just at that moment Fortune came down the street. She saw the beggar and stopped. She said to him:

"Listen! I have long wished to help you. Hold your wallet and I will pour this gold into it. But I will pour only on this condition: All that falls into the wallet shall be pure gold; but all that fall upon the ground shall become dust. Do you understand?"

"Oh, yes, I understand," said the beggar.

"Then have a care," said Fortune. "Your wallet is old."

He opened his wallet quickly and the yellow metal was soon pouring in.

"Is that enough?" asked Fortune.

"Not yet," said the beggar.

"Isn't it cracking?" asked Fortune.

"Never fear; just a little more," said the beggar. "Add just another handful."

Another handful was added and the wallet burst from end to end.
