BIG BALLOON RACES

European Sport For Kentucky State Fair.

RAILROAD RATES CUT IN TWO

Tickets Go On Sale Sept. 14 and Are Good Returning Until Sept. 23.

Along with the other big amusement enterprises secured for the Kentucky State Fair in Louisville the week of Sept. 16th, the State Board of Agriculture has contracted with aeronauts to put on balloon races. This is a form of sport that has been responsible for the expenditure of thousands of dollars in Europe among the aristocracy during the past few years. It is perhaps the most exciting of all kinds of races.

The balloons to be used at the Kentucky State Fair are as nearly identical as it is possible to manufacture two articles of the same kind. They are to be inflated with the same pressure of gas. Expert operators are to be in charge. Ballasts of sand weighing the same will be given to each, and the result of the races will depend upon the manipulation of this ballast almost entirely.

The balloons will leave the ground at the same time, ascend to a height that will throw them into a current of air, carrying them naturally in the same direction. If, in the mind's eye of the spectator, he could divide the balloon race into heats, the moment of reaching this air current would be called the first heat. It is here that the excitement begins. From one balloon a bag of sand is thrown out, from the other one or two. In this way one operator gets the advantage, and if he is skillful he wins the heat.

Viewed from any standpoint, the balloon races at the Kentucky State Fair must prove as great an attraction as anything that is billed for the big week which begins Sept. 16th.

TROTS, PACES, RUNNING RACES

Kentucky State Fair Will Have a Great Speed Program.

No matter in what direction the taste of the visitor may run so far as speed contests are concerned, the Kentucky State Fair at Louisville Sept. 16 to 21 will gratify his desire. There are to be trotting races, pacing races, running races, automobile races and balloon races. A trotting or pacing race has been arranged for each day as follows:

Sept. 16th, 2:20 pacing; Sept. 17th, 2:25 trotting; Sept. 18th, 2:13 pacing; Sept. 19th, 2:18 trotting; Sept. 20th, free-for-all pacing; Sept. 21st, 2:10 trotting.

A six-hundred-dollar purse is offered on each of these races. One of these will be known as the Louisville Retail Merchants' Association purse, and another as the Louisville Commercial Club purse, appropriations having been made by both of these organizations.

Running races each day for purses of $200 will be conducted, while on Wednesday, Louisville Day, automobile races, limited to Kentucky owned automobiles, will be run. The last mentioned race will follow a great automobile parade entirely around the track. The dates of the balloon races have not yet been announced.

AN IGORROTE VILLAGE

One of the Big Attractions For Kentucky State Fair Week.

In line with its policy to put on only the greatest attractions that can be secured, the Kentucky State Fair management has closed a contract to have an Igorrote Village at the coming exhibition during the week of Sept. 16th, in Louisville, which will undoubtedly prove a great attraction. This village is now located within the White City at Chicago. Its inhabitants are a horde of barbarians who have come direct from the Philippines.

This exhibition is better in fact than the one at the World's Fair in the Philippine Reservation. All of those natives were returned to the Philippines by order of the United States government and new contracts were signed with Uncle Sam to bring over a new lot of genuine dog-eating Bontoc Igorrotes. The primitive life of these barbarians will be lived every day at the State Fair, just as it is in Bontoc. Their huts are of native material, coming from the Island of Luzon. The tribe includes some of the famous head hunters of the Philippines. There are many rites and ceremonies peculiar to these people and there are constant dances and feasts. The native industries are shown in the village, which will be open to inspection all day and half the night during State Fair week at Louisville.

TRAINED WILD ANIMALS.

Mundy's Trained Wild Animal Arena, the big zoological congress that has been holding forth in the famous White City at Chicago this year, has been engaged for the Kentucky State Fair at Louisville, Sept. 16th to 21st. This is admitted to be one of the most complete trained wild animal organizations in America. There is no better collection, nor are there finer specimens of the Asiatic and African carnivora than are to be seen in this big trained wild animal show. Each and every one of them is thoroughly educated and every one is a competent actor.

The New Judge's Notes.

Chief Justice Falconbridge of Ontario, Mr. Justice Britton and Mr. Justice Riddell, a newly appointed judge, were sitting together as a court in Toronto. According to some legalists who were present, the presentation of argument on behalf of one of the clients was rather prolix and not very much to the point, to put it mildly. Mr. Justice Riddell, who, by the way, was not to the same extent inured against the tediousness of the proceedings as were his colleagues, was observed to pass one of them a slip of paper, on which presumably were written some notes on the case. Immediately the "notes" were read, however, by his colleagues there was a subdued suggestion of mirth apparent on their part. It turned out that the "notes" read after this fashion:

THE "NOTES."
 (With apologies to Mr. Rudyard Kipling.)
 "Oo is it makes that bloomin' noise?"
 "Asked Flies-on-Parade."
 "It's counsel's openin' argument."
 The color sergeant said.
 "'Oo 'as to 'ear the bally stuff?"
 "Asked Flies-on-Parade."
 "The chief and his two hired men."
 The color sergeant said.
 "For he doesn't know his law, he misrepresents the facts;
 His logic is so rotten you can see through all the cracks,
 And he's pretty sure to get it where the chicken got the ax,
 When the court delivers judgment in the morning."
 —Cleveland Leader.

A Boomerang Contract.

The author of "A Temperance Town" and "A Texas Steer" spent much of his time in his country home, but one day he appeared unexpectedly in New York at the Lambs' club. Going straight to the cafe, he made one large, inclusive gesture, which brought every man present about him. "It's on me," said Mr. Hoyt. Then he told his story.

It was before the days of electric and gasoline motors, and he had bought a little steam yacht. He engaged as his engineer one of his Yankee neighbors and offered him liberal wages, with the provision that the engineer should find his own coal. It was a long way to the nearest coal yard, and Mr. Hoyt had all the trouble he was looking for to keep his own furnace fed.

"But where shall I get the coal?" the new engineer asked.
 "I don't care," said the foremost of American stage humorists. "Steal it."
 So the bargain was struck. All went well until in the early autumn Mr. Hoyt went into his cellar to see how much more coal he would have to purchase for the winter. Of several tons on hand in the spring only two or three scuttles remained. The theft was speedily traced to the engineer.—Saturday Evening Post.

The Sun and the Telescope.

The popular notion is that the astronomer points his telescope directly at the sun and fires his vision point blank across the chasm of millions of miles. Instead, says a writer in the Ohio Magazine, the errant sun rays are lassoed by a coelostat—a great circular mirror driven by clockwork in such a manner that it throws its light into another mirror above, and this in turn sends the long, concentrated beam far into the interior of the telescope house. The two mirrors prove in automatic adjustment to each other, so that the solar beams may be shot into the building, no matter in what portion of the sky the sun may be situated. At the farther end of the building the reflected sunbeam strikes a concave mirror which catches the light and, flashing it back toward the opening whence it first entered, focuses it into a perfect image of the sun.

Female Diamonds.

The jeweler held a magnifying glass to a superb white diamond.
 "Do you see those little diamonds on the farther edge?" he said. "They are invisible to the naked eye, but the glass shows them quite plainly, doesn't it? Well, they are the proof that this diamond is a female; hence we say that there are male and female diamonds, the males, of course, being those that don't produce these growths."
 "Female diamonds are always the finest. In fact, nearly all the diamonds of wide world fame are females."—New York Press.

Society of the Cincinnati.

The Society of the Cincinnati was an order established by the officers of the Revolutionary army in 1783 to perpetuate their friendship and to raise funds for the relief of the widows and orphans of those who had fallen during the war. It was so named because it included patriots headed by Washington, between whom and the old Roman farmer-general, Cincinnatus, there were supposed to be many resemblances.

Present Troubles.

"Ah, pretty lady," said the fortune teller, "you wish to be told about your future husband?"
 "Not much," replied Mrs. Gailey.
 "I've come to learn where my present husband is when he's absent."—Philadelphia Press.

Evolution.

"Father," said little Rollo, "what is evolution?"
 "Evolution, my son, is a sort of apology which man has invented for displaying so many of the traits of the lower animals."—Washington Star.

Royal Remedy.

Mistress—Your cold's very bad, Jane. Are you doing anything for it? Jane—Oh, yes, ma'am. The chemist 'ave giv' me some cremoniated stincture of Queen Anne.—Punch.

He is sufficiently learned that knows how to do well and has power enough to refrain from evil.—Cicero.

Bad Symptoms.

The woman who has periodical headaches, backache, sees imaginary dark spots or specks floating or dancing before her eyes, has gnawing distress or heavy full feeling in stomach, faint spells, dragging-down feeling in lower abdominal or pelvic region, easily startled or excited, irregular or painful periods, with or without pelvic catarrh, is suffering from weaknesses and derangements that should have early attention. Not all of above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Neglected or badly treated and such cases often run into maladies which demand the surgeon's knife if they do not result fatally.

No medicine extant has such a long and numerous record of cures in such cases as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. No medicine has such a strong professional endorsement of each of its several ingredients—worth more than any number of ordinary non-professional testimonials. The very best ingredients known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments enter into its composition. No alcohol, harmful, or habit-forming drug is to be found in the list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. In any condition of the female system, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can do only good—never harm. Its whole effect is to strengthen, invigorate and regulate the whole female system and especially the pelvic organs. When these are deranged in function or affected by disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically deranged, the nerves are weakened, and a long list of bad, unpleasant symptoms follow. Too much must not be expected of this "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; will not cure tumors—no medicine will. It will often prevent them, if taken in time, and thus the operating table and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.

Women suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Doctor Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address as above.

Man's Precious Rib.

A young lady having asked a surgeon why woman was made from the rib of man in preference to another bone, he gave her the following gallant answer: "She was not taken from the head lest she should rule over him, nor from his feet lest he should trample upon her; but she was taken from his side, that she might be his equal; from under his arm, that he might protect her; from near his heart, that he might cherish and love her."—Houston Chronicle

The Best Dressed Man.

Of course the best dressed man in the world is the English gentleman. If you enter the royal enclosure at Newmarket or visit the lawn at Goodwood on the day of a classic race; if you attend a fashionable orchid or horse show when some great personage presides, you will hardly see any one dressed otherwise than perfectly. But take the hurrying passengers in the city, on the street cars, trains or buses, go freely among the men in the street, and you will share the conviction I have arrived at—namely, that the American is in general dressed more stylishly and in better fitting and better cut clothes.—C. M. S. in Derrick's Trade Review.

Mme. de Stael's Reply.

Mme. de Stael is responsible for a contribution to the woman suffrage question which may interest those who have done and suffered for the cause. "I have no taste," said Napoleon in talking to her, "for women who meddle with politics." "You may perhaps be right," replied Mme. de Stael, "but since people have taken the freedom to cut off their heads on account of politics they ought at least to be allowed to understand why."—Westminster Gazette.

The Blue Jay.

There is a belief current among the negroes in the south that the blue jay visits the infernal regions every Friday. This belief varies somewhat in different parts of the south. For instance, in South Carolina it is supposed to be carrying sticks for the devil's fires, while in Mississippi and Louisiana the bird is supposed to report to his satanic majesty the status of his affairs on earth.—New York Tribune.

Just Won It.

Magistrate—You didn't steal this watch? Prisoner—No, sir. Magistrate—Then how did you get it? Prisoner—I won it on a bet. Magistrate—What was the bet? Prisoner—I bet a friend that I could take it away from the man who says I stole it.—Illustrated Bits.
