There is the Record.

Referring to the Democratic campaign text book for 1908 the New York World says:

"The Democrats have stout rods in pickle for the Republicans this year, as is proved by their campaign book of three hundred pages, but they apply none of them to the Republican President. They are opposed to jingoism, militarism and imperialism, and yet the most warlike of presidents escapes criticism. They denounce extravagance and waste at Washington and yet the man who is largely responsible for this reckless expenditure finds no accuser. They make war upon the privileged plutocrats of the tariff, the combines and the trusts, and yet the only president who ever sent for a Harriman and arranged for the collection of a campaign corruption fund is nowhere condemned. They demand publicity in campaign expenditures, and yet a President who neglected at a critical time to insist upon that policy is held blameless. They reproach the Republican party for its failure to enforce the laws against the pirates of interstate commerce, and yet the President, who holds that the laws are too drastic and that they must be modified, goes free of censure."

Harsh words are not necessary. The Democratic text book shows up the Republican record, and nothing could be gained by bitter denunciation. The facts as to jingoism, militarism, imperialism, extravagance and waste at Washington, tariff privileges enjoyed by combines and trusts, Harriman's contribution to the Republican campaign fund, the Republican party's failure to enforce the law, and the Republican record generally—these things are all presented in compact form.

There is the record. The people may apply it—we believe they will apply it, so as to defeat the political party that is responsible for that record.

The People See It.

Hon. William J. Bryan, in a brief paragraph, Thursday, exposed the whole effort put forth by William R. Hurst in this campaign. Asked by the reporters if he had anything to say about the Hearst speech of Labor Day in which the Democratic candidate was bitterly assailed, Mr. Bryan said:

"I am fighting Mr. Taft. Mr. Taft or I will be elected. If Mr. Hurst will declare he is endeavoring to help elect Mr. Taft and Mr. Taft will endorse Mr. Hearst as a representative of Republican ideas and Mr. Hearst's method of campaigning I will answer Mr. Hearst."

Mr. Hearst is endeavoring to elect Mr. Taft. That is his purpose in putting a ticket in the field. Neither Mr. Hearst nor Mr. Taft will acknowledge so disgraceful a bargain, but the people recognize it and Mr. Hearst will realize that fact fully on election day.

Maybe You Overlooked These Facts.

Senator Fulton went to Oregon, and asked for re-election, and the people said:

"We want a change!"
 Senator Hansbrought went to North Dakota for re election, and the people said:

"We want a change!"
 Senator Kittredge heard it in South Dakota, from the people:

"We want a change!"
 Senator Long asked the people of Kansas for re-election, and the people shouted:

"We want a change!"
 Senator Hopkins went to Illinois and asked for re-election, and two-thirds of the Republicans of Illinois announced:

"We want a change!"

Almost one-half of the Republicans of Iowa, even when asked by their distinguished Senator Allison, replied:

"We want a change!"
 The voice of the people is unmistakable. Wherever they have had a chance to speak, they have earnestly lifted their voices, saying:

"We want a change!"
 That sentiment is sweeping the whole country:

The Labor Vote for Bryan.

That the vote of organized labor will be cast practically as a unit this year for Bryan and Kern, because of the satisfactory labor planks in the Democratic national platform, is the opinion of Frank B. Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, emphatically expressed. Mr. Morrison is the one man specially qualified to estimate the effect of the appeal to all labor organizations, issued in behalf of the Democratic national ticket by President Samuel Gompers, and all the members of the executive council of the federation. As secretary he handles the correspondence in reply to the appeal. "There are about six hundred central labor organizations representing the affiliated unions in various cities and sections of the country," said Mr. Morrison. "In the majority of cases these central bodies have endorsed the political stand taken by the executive council. In no instance has the appeal of the executive council been repudiated. The effect is an endorsement of the position of the executive council by every central body in the country. I do not mean to say that several small unions have not protested against our course. But their number does not exceed six or seven, and in each instance the union is one dominated by the socialist. Therefore, I believe that the great bulk of the labor vote will endorse the Democratic national platform, which met the demands of labor and will punish the party that agreed to a platform ignoring labor."

Bad Times Here and Abroad.

Owing to the moving of the crops over 30,000 freight cars have returned to work in the United States and Canada during the last three weeks. There was still a surplus of 222,632 idle cars on Sept. 10, according to the report of the American Railway Association, but on April 29, when railroad traffic was at its lowest ebb since the panic, there were 413,605 idle cars. Since then the total decrease has been 49 per cent., and as the crop movement gains volume a further reduction may be expected.

But in other directions improvement is still painfully slow. In the manufacturing centres, aside from the laborers who have moved away in search of jobs or emigrated, there are hundreds of thousands who are unemployed or working on reduced time. As wage-earners are the most numerous and reliable class of consumers, business everywhere languishes in proportion as their purchasing capacity dwindles.

In the same way good or bad times in Europe react upon this country. Just as the severe industrial depression in the United States has produced disastrous consequences abroad. The fact that thousands of artisans in London are reported to be out of work, and that Glasgow is filled with unemployed demanding public support, augurs no good for the producers of this country. Great Britain will be less able to buy what we have to sell. As our best customer her prosperity is of immediate importance to us.

The notion that one country must thrive on the adversity of another is the greatest of absurdities. It is like saying that the merchant is benefited by the poverty of the people upon whom he depends for his sales.
