

Banquet in Honor of President Crossfield.

Among the numerous social affairs tendered Elder R. H. Crossfield, the newly elected President of Transylvania University, formerly Kentucky University, was the informal banquet given by former students and alumni Saturday evening at Crossfield's Cafe.

After the invocation by Elder Carey E. Morgan, President Crossfield responded to the toast: "Transylvania—Her Present and Future Aims and Needs." In a very happy manner he detailed the improvements being made, the new science building, etc., and told of the new professors and their attainments.

He expressed the belief that Transylvania would be put on the Carnegie foundation, thus assuring good teachers and their retirement on a pension when incapacitated and in addition guaranteeing that the university would be truly non-sectarian, that being one of the requirements of the Scottish founder.

Frank P. Walker, of the class of '94, responded to the toast "Transylvania and Fraternities," and incidentally paid tribute to his old professor of Latin, Alexander B. Mulligan.

Thomas E. Moore, Jr., of the class of '92, spoke eloquently and feelingly of days spent within the historic walls of Morris Chapel and again pledged his fealty.

W. H. McMillan, of the class of '70, recited "Ancient History" and very feelingly referred to Transylvania at that time truly "across the woods" when she was the second university in point of origin, the first West of the Alleghenies and when she had the first medical department both in standing and point of institution in this region. Very impressively he named in the faculty of law and medicine such men as Dr. Benjamin Dudley, (a noted ancestor of our fellow townspeople and of a well known local physician,) Dr. Bush, Dr. Drake, Matthew Johnson, et al.

After a violin solo by Prof. Surgis, Mr. Chas. A. McMillan, of the class of '89, was heard and recounted the happy days spent at K. U., saying that he almost regretted the change back to the original name of Transylvania, for no longer can we sing:

"K. U.; K. U.;
We love thy crimson glory,
K. U.; K. U.;
Sing in song and story," etc.

Wm. O. Hinton, ex. class of '80, spoke of the need of clearly informing the public that Transylvania was non-sectarian and while Christianity was everywhere desired, a theology was not necessary to be thrust upon those not desiring it. He also spoke of the need of organization in all counties of Kentucky of societies of membership similar to that present that evening for the promotion of social intercourse of the welfare of their alma mater.

C. W. Turner, manager of Athletics while a student of K. U., related his experience with baseball and football teams and told of the influence of athletics upon attendance at the university.

Incidentally in introducing the speakers, the toastmaster, Dr. C. G. Daugherty paid tribute to his old teacher of Science, Prof. A. Fairhurst and stated his belief that Transylvania offered to the student availing himself of his opportunities, the chance to acquire as good a literary and classical education as is offered almost anywhere. Elder Carey E. Morgan in short remarks stated, while an alumnus of Butler, his confidence was in old Transylvania.

Those present of former student of K. U. and Transylvania besides the curators, Elder Carey E. Morgan and John T. Hinton, were:

W. H. McMillan, '70; Prof. M. G. Thomson, '74; Elder R. H. Crossfield, '89; F. P. Walker, '94; John Yerkes, '02; Thos. E. Moore, Jr., '92; Dr. C. G. Daugherty, '96; C. A. McMillan, '88; W. O. Hinton, Ex. '84; Ed. Hinton, Ex. '87; C. K. Thoams, Ex. '98; Buckner Woodford, Jr., Ex. '00; John Davis, Ex. '09; Withers Davis, Ex. '05; Chas. P. Cook, Ex. '96; Thomas Cook, Ex. '04; B. F. Adecock, Ex. '04; C. W. Turner, Ex. '01.

No Extra Session.

Gov. Willson, Saturday, gave out the following statement:—"Somebody asks me every day, and sometimes twice a day, whether I am going to call an extra session, and this question was again prompted today by a publication indicating that petitions had been gotten up asking the Governor to call an extra session about the county unit bill.

"I have no idea of calling an extra session. I do not know of an emergency that requires it. The law provides for regular sessions to attend the measures which are usually brought up for legislation and that does not contemplate calling an extra session except in an emergency.

"The consideration of questions like the county unit bill is not an emergency, but is a question of the character that is usually and properly considered at the regular sessions. The desire for legislation on such questions, no matter how strong, does not constitute an emergency."

James Pays Booe's Shortage.

Auditor Frank P. James Saturday squared himself with the state for the full amount of the shortage of former claim clerk, Judge C. E. Booe, incurred during the first ten months of James administration.

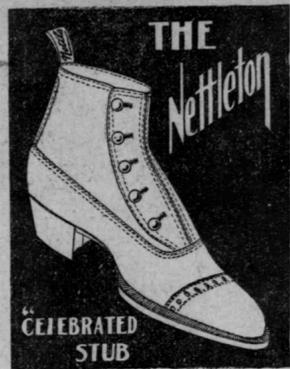

The completed examination of Judge Booe's accounts for the period beginning the 6th day of January this year, when James took charge, and ending with the disclosures of Booe's operations, show that he had obtained the sum of $2,017.04 from the State treasury.

As Auditor James was unprotected by a bond from Judge Booe he was personally liable to the State, and Saturday morning turned that amount of cash into the State treasury.

Auditor James holds a considerable amount of securities which were turned over by Judge Booe when the disclosure of his peculations were made. These securities have not been transferred from Judge Booe's name, however, and can not be realized upon yet.

Congress Will Adjourn this Week.

Both Houses of Congress are counting on concluding the ante-Christmas holiday work of the session during the present week. The date of the adjournment for the holidays has not yet been definitely determined, but most probably it will fall a week from today.

In that event it is not expected any business will be done on Monday week, because when the date becomes known members will leave for their homes in such numbers that it will be impossible to maintain a quorum.

The Senate will take another adjournment Thursday until the following Monday without expectation of doing any business on Monday beyond providing definitely for the Christmas recess. The House will continue its work until Friday or Saturday, but will then adjourn until Monday, unless another plan of adjournment is pursued. Some members who reside in far distant States are urging that the adjournment should begin on Saturday, and the leaders are not turning a deaf ear to their pleading. When taken the holiday adjournment will be until January 4.

OPEN OF NIGHTS.

Our store will be open every night until after Christmas for the benefit of Holiday shoppers. A. F. Wheeler & Co.

Kentucky Iron.

Although the Kentucky River from the mouth of the Red River to the Ohio River, is strewn with pig iron from the mines and furnaces in Estill county, there is talk now of resuming operations at the furnaces which have not been operated for more than forty years.

Fifty years ago Congressman "Pig Iron" Kelley, of Pennsylvania, visited the mines and pronounced the ore the best he had ever seen. Transportation was the only difficulty, as the iron had to be floated from the furnaces on barges. There were only five locks in the Kentucky River on those days, but there are now, and the river is kept in much better condition.

Uncle Sam Withdraws from Cuba

At the War Department Friday the first details regarding the withdrawal from Cuba of the America army of Pacification, which has been on duty there since the fall of 1906, were made known. The movements of the troops will begin on January and will be completed by April.

The officers and civilians on duty in connection with the provisional government will sail from Havana the day after the inauguration of President Gomez, and the troops remaining in the island after that date will be withdrawn as rapid as transportation facilities will permit. Three army transports will be used in bringing the troops home, and all the troops will be landed at Newport News. The details of the movements of the troops as given are only tentative.
