An Old Doctrine.

The doctrine of government by consent of the governed is not a new one, even if it is now disputed by imperialists. In 1800 Grattan, the Irish patriot, said: "I will trust the people with the custody of their own liberty, but I will trust no people with the custody of any liberty other than their own, whether that people be Rome, Athens or Britain."

Grattan was right, no people can be trusted with the liberty of another people. Liberty does not mean the right to live according to conditions prescribed by some alien power, but the right of men to a voice in their own government.

Same Thing Everywhere.

A little effusion from the Mounds (Okla.) Enterprise, going to show that journalistic conditions in the new state are much the same as elsewhere: "Who weeps with you when you are sad, and laughs with you when you are glad, and smiles with you when you are mad?"—The Editor. Who has to be both kind and wise, and never (hardly ever) lies, and when he does creates surprise?—The Editor. Who owns a heart as well as cheek; possessed of spirit proud yet meek, and lives on 40 cents a week?—The Editor.

Familiar.

Once upon a time Theodore Roosevelt wrote the "Life of Oliver Cromwell," and now some of Mr. Roosevelt's Republican friends are quoting from that publication these significant words: Had Cromwell not become cursed with the love of power, had he not acquired a dictatorial habit of mind and the fatal incapacity to acknowledge that there might be righteousness in other methods than his own, he would certainly have avoided a break with this parliament."

Works the Wrong Way.

If a wealthy banker or trust magnate is convicted of embezzlement or other crime and is sentenced to prison, persistent efforts are sure to be made to have him pardoned after he has served but a few months, and for some reason or other the attempt usually succeeds. We fail to see why this should be. Why should a man who defrauds hundreds of his fellow men, and who by his wrong-doing reduces families to poverty and perhaps causes some wretched victim to commit suicide, receive greater consideration than a poor man who is sentenced to a long term of imprisonment because, perhaps of his necessity, he stole something? If anything it should work the other way for the higher the position and the responsibility the graver the offense when it is committed.

A Fool Law.

Of the many fool laws of the Kentucky statute books, one of the most assinine is the clause in the dog and sheep law which makes it unlawful for a farmer or anyone to kill a dog caught in the act of killing sheep. The law says let the dogs kill the sheep, and then very amiably go and notify a magistrate in the same precinct, who will appoint appraisers to determine the amount of the loss. It appears to us that if there is an killing to be done it should begin with the man or men who made such a fool law.

Famous Calamities.

Only three calamities in the world's history have ever approached the earthquake in Italy, not counting Noah's flood. In 1611 the plague in Constantinople carried off 200,000 people. In 1421 the flood at Dort, destroyed 100,000 and in 1530 the inundation of Holland, the greatest recorded horror, drowned 400,000 people. The earthquake at Lisbon killed 60,000 and that at Calabria and Sicily has destroyed from 115,000 to 300,000 lives, from different estimates. It is estimated that 13,000,000 people have perished from earthquakes in the world's history.

A Lesson.

Just about the time people become so pessimistic as to believe the world has grown cold and selfish, along comes something like that Messina disaster to prove that generosity and unselfishness is growing in pace with everything else.

Strange Thing.

One strange thing about all this secret service business is that if the President really used the government sleutis as charged he should have been able to refrain from telling Congress about it in a special message.

The Wise World.

The New York World gives a list of one hundred things President Roosevelt promised to do and left undone. The world was wise enough not to undertake the compilation of a list of things done that should have been left undone by the President.

Watch "Uncle" Joe.

After Congress has appropriated a half-million for the earthquake sufferers Speaker Cannon may be expected to bob up and tearfully explain that it will be necessary to leave the tariff alone in order that the hole in the national treasury may be quickly plugged.

Annie Laurie.

Annie Laurie was the eldest of three daughters of Sir Robert Laurie of Maxwelltown. She was born December 16, 1832. William Douglas of Pingland (Kirkcubright), wrote the famous song, but Annie married in 1709 James Ferguson of Craigdaroch, and was the mother of Alexander Ferguson, the hero of Burns' song entitled "The Whistle."—N. Y. American.

If You Read This

It will be to learn that the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowel affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their resultant, as bronchial, throat and lung disease (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherry bark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley, of Kingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and scores of others equally eminent in their several schools of practice.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine made up for sale through drugists for the purpose of being used by such professional endorsement, worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. Open publicity of its formula is the best possible guaranty of its merits. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous, harmful or habit-forming drugs and no alcohol—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Glycerine is entirely innocuous and besides is a most useful agent in the cure of all stomach as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections. There is the highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. The "Discovery" is a concentrated glyceric extract of native, medicinal roots and is safe and reliable. A booklet of extracts from eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients mailed free on request. Address Dr. E. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

COMPARING CANDLE WITH ELECTRIC light is like comparing a very small boy with a full grown man. In fact is absurd to compare the electric with any other light. It is in a class by itself. You know how bright it makes other people's places. Well, let us show you how easily and reasonably you can have yours lighted equally as well.

W. B. Rediso CORSETS

The Perfect Corset for Large Women

It places over-developed women on the same basis as their slender sisters. It tapers off the bust, flattens the abdomen, and completely reduces the hips from 1 to 5 inches. Not a harness—not a cumbersome affair, no torturing straps, but the most scientific example of corsetry, boned in such a manner as to give the wearer absolute freedom of movement.

New W. B. Rediso No. 770 for large tall women. Made of white coutil. Has supporters front and sides, also made in black. Sizes 20 to 36. Price $3.00.
New W. B. Rediso No. 772 for large short women. Is the same as No. 770, except that the bust is somewhat lower all around. Made of white coutil. Has supporters front and sides. Also made in black. Sizes 23 to 36. Price $3.00.

Ask any dealer anywhere to show you the New W. B. "Hip-subsiding" models from $1.00 to $3.00 per pair.
