Council Proceedings.

The Paris City Council at its regular meeting Thursday night granted a franchise to the Cynthiana & Paris Railway Company, void, however, if the work of construction is not begun within a period of two years, and if the sale or disposition of the said franchise is made to other parties.

The matter was presented before the Council by Mr. Robert C. Talbot, of Talbot & Whitley, who assured the Council that he had looked fully into the matter and that the promoter of the enterprise, a Mr. Fuller, of New York, who had constructed and was the owner of as many as five different interurban railroad systems in different parts of the country and was in earnest about the building of the road, and that Paris and Cynthiana would within a few years be connected by an electric road that would connect here with a road for Lexington and would be another link in a great network of interurban roads for the Bluegrass section of Kentucky.

The Council met at 7:30 p. m., with Mayor O'Brien in the chair, and Councilmen Baldwin, Dempsey, Link, Taylor, Wilmoth, Wilson and Wolstein present. It being the last meeting of the Council before the induction into office on January 1 of Mayor-elect John T. Hinton, a large amount of business was transacted.

Police Judge E. T. Hinton filed his report for the month of November, as follows: Total amount of fines assessed $187.50, of which amount $10 was replevied, $52.50 suspended, $33.50 collected and the remainder worked out.

City Assessor C. D. Webb addressed the Council regarding several clerical errors in the assessment in which J. Hal Woodford was entitled to a rebate of $14.52 collected for taxes and Miss Miss Mary Woodford $51.10.

City Attorney William Grannon rendered an opinion in the matter of the Bourbon Board of Control of the Burley Tobacco Society who had asked if the pooled tobacco in the county, aggregating more than three million pounds, would be exempt from taxation if brought into the city of Paris for the purpose of handling and pricing. Mr. Grannon said that there was no clause in the law that gave the Council the right to exempt from taxation any property other than that of some new manufacturing enterprise.

J. W. Maston was granted permission to erect a one-story cottage on High street extension.

Police Judge E. B. January, who will take the oath of office Jan. 1, filed his bond, with J. H. Haggard and Clifton Arnsperger as sureties.

An appropriation of $200 was made and allowed the voluntary members of the Paris fire Department.

Under the franchise granted the Cynthiana and Paris railway the road will enter Paris on Second street, thence out Houston avenue to Seventh, and connecting with the Blue Grass Traction Company at Seventh and High streets, and may use the latter's tracks to terminal quarters at Fifth street.

DON'T STUDY NATIONAL AIRS

American Visitor in Great Britain Returns with His Feelings Perturbed.

"I wish," growled a man lately back from a tour of the British Isles, "that the British bandmasters would take a course of instruction in what constitutes the American national airs. Band concerts are the rage all over England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales. During the summer season, probably as a compliment to the hordes of Americans who are flinging away gold for their benefit, they present daily what is generally dubbed 'American national airs.'"

"The majority of these bandmasters think 'Dixie' is the national air, because they sagely observe it is the only one which Americans applaud. The 'Star-Spangled Banner' is dismal and lugubrious enough under the best of circumstances, but to hear the Scotch bagpipes have a fling at it is indescribable misery. The man who wrote the 'Columbia' hymn would not know his own work as performed in King Edward's domain, and even the 'Kentucky Home' and other negro ballads get a touch between an Irish jig and a Scotch waltz which robs the American visitor of any pleasure which he might experience in hearing songs from home. It may be that British, Scotch and Irish guests on this side of the water get as much discomfort in hearing 'Annie Laurie.' I hope they do, for it would establish a sort of international musical balance."

BOOKSELLER WITH A MEMORY

A man strolled into a second-hand bookshop and after exchanging "Good days" with the proprietor, asked: "Have you anything in my line today?"

"Let me see," replied the proprietor, tentatively—the man hadn't been in for several months—"You're horses and dogs."

"I am not," snapped the man. He didn't look a bit like a horse or doggy man.

"Oh, no, of course not," rejoined the proprietor apologetically, "you're handkerchiefs and fans."

"Wrong again!" said the man, amused this time.

"No? Well, are you games and dances?"

"The man shook his head.

"Maybe you're Shakers and Mormons. No? Soldiers and statesmen? No? Spas and mud baths? Ah, now I have it. Certainly; you're crime and punishment. Why yes, I have a few good things for you to look at."

The Child as an Asset.

There is undoubtedly a very grave problem connected with the birth rate. The church in past times furnished a religious motive for large families, and this tended to counteract the natural tendency of the birth rate to decline from economic causes as the period of infancy came to be prolonged in an advancing civilization, says a writer in the Springfield (Mass.) Republican. If the religious motive be destroyed, the economic forces making for fewer children must enjoy freer scope, and as the cost of living rises and the financial burden of rearing and educating children through a long series of years becomes heavier for the average parent to bear the scare over race suicide is likely to be the more pronounced. Making the child, however, once more a pecuniary asset of the parents at a tender age would be suicidal to civilization itself.

Wise Lad.

"You young scamp," shouted the angry farmer, "what are you doing in that pond?"

"Swimming," chuckled the lad with the sun-blistered neck.

"Well, don't you see that sign, 'Keep out?'"

"Yes, and that's just what I'm doing, pop, keeping out in the middle."

Pleasing to George.

"George," whispered the gushing young bride, "when I send you that box of cigars by mail and put 20 stars for kisses on a slip of paper, what kind of mail will it be?"

"I don't know what Uncle Sam will call it," laughed George, as he packed his suit case, "but I'll call it first class."
