STOCK, CROP AND FARM NOTES.

—Reports from Nicholas county state that the heavy crop of white clover in pastures is playing havoc with cattle. Within the past few days they have been dying by the dozens from swelling on the clover and from almost every section of the county heavy losses are reported.

—The weather bureau has arranged to give daily weather forecasts by telephone to farmers in Texas. At noon each day rural subscribers are called up, and the weather forecast is announced to all simultaneously. Subscribers in towns and cities can obtain the weather forecast at any time of the day after 11 a. m. by calling up central.

—Reports from various sections of Kentucky indicate a general scarcity of turkeys all over the State. The reports claim that fully twenty-five per cent of the entire product were drowned by the heavy rains of May and the early part of June, while fully as many more died from the effects of the cold weather and disease. Indications point to only a half crop throughout the entire State this year.

—The Cynthiana Log Cabin says: "The finest strawberries we have seen this year were presented to the Log Cabin man this week by Mr. R. A. Dills. It has been the general opinion that all the strawberries in this section were killed by the frosts, but it seems that many beds escaped. Mr. Dills has contracted to deliver his entire crop to a local grocery and therefore has none for sale to the consumers."

—In the Fayette Circuit Court Judge Watts Parker denied the injunction asked for by the Grant County Board of Control of the Burley Tobacco Society against A. S. Alphin, who, the former alleged, had pooled his crop of tobacco of last year with the society. Alphin recently took his tobacco to Lexington to be sold, but the Grant County Board of Control stopped the sale with a temporary restraining order issued by the court, which also appointed a receiver to take charge of the tobacco until the court rendered a decision upon the motion for a permanent injunction.

—RICHMOND COURT.—The Climax says: "The smallest crowd seen in Richmond on court day was here Monday, and as a consequence business was very poor. The rain of Saturday night and Sunday made a splendid tobacco season and the farmers were too busy to come to town. There were only 300 cattle on the market, but these sold readily at 4 to 5 cents; hogs sold at 10 cents and sheep were sold at $2.50 per head. There were no good horses on the market and but few mules, and none of which sold. In fact business of all kinds was almost to a standstill."

—Tebbs & Co., of Indianapolis, Ind., have just purchased from Woodford Brothers of Montgomery county, 500 head of fine beef steers. The steers will average 1,100, and sold at private price per pound. The deal involves more than $40,000 and the cattle are all sloop fed. The deal is one of the largest cattle sales made in Central Kentucky for some time.

—At Mayfield a tobacco barn containing about ten thousand pounds of tobacco belonging to M. J. Cochran, of that city, and Clarence Brown, of Paducah was destroyed by fire. The barn was uninsured and valued at fifteen hundred dollars. Insurance probably covers the tobacco loss.

—A dispatch from Shelbyville says the outlook for the pool in that county is very discouraging. Shelby county produces annually between 8,000,000 and 1,000,000 pounds of burley, and the acreage this year is rather above than below the average. Hitherto no county in the district has been more loyal to the pool but the present indications are that the society will control but few crops grown in Shelby. Thus far only one has been entered, and this by E. T. Pollard, the chairman of the county board of control, who signed the contract while attending a meeting of the executive board in Lexington.

—In his crop report for the month of May, which was issued last week by Commissioner of Agriculture M. C. Rankin, he says that unless there is an immediate change in the weather conditions serious damage will be done crops of all kinds throughout this State. The outlook for the farmer is not as bright this year as it usually is at this season of the year. The weather has not been seasonable. There will be a big falling off, and in his next crop report he will say that for the first time in the history of the department there was a report of Jack Frost in June. Frost is reported in several counties in this State this month, something heretofore unheard of.

The report follows: "Weather conditions during the month of May has shown little improvement over those of April. Unusual cold weather has prevailed with much rain, which has kept all vegetation and crops in a backward state, and plenty of warm sunshine is the thing that is desired by farmers and gardeners. Cutworms are prevalent. Those who got their plowing one during the splendid March weather are the fortunate ones, and many have not been able to get their ground in proper condition since."

"Wheat has shown but little improvement since last report, and there are reports from many of the counties that 'rust' has made its appearance. 'Corn' is very backward, and has made but little progress."

"Oats seem to be in better condition than most any other crop, and there are few reports to the contrary. 'Potatoes are in good condition, despite the frosts of April, and those who did not plant until the latter part of April have the best prospect for a splendid crop that they have had in years."

"Most all of the grasses look well, but more especially clover and alfalfa. 'Fruit in some localities, viz: Bullitt, Jefferson, Oldham and a part of Hardin, seems to have escaped the frosts, and the prospects in these counties for a good crop are splendid, especially of apples and plums."

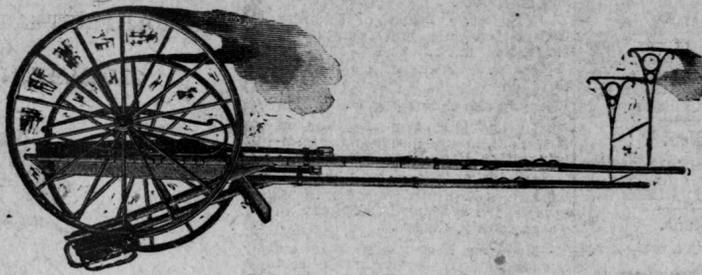

—The government crop report issued from the Department of Agriculture at Washington shows the area sown to spring wheat in about 19,742,000 acres, or 1,349,000 acres more than

—Reports from various sections of this county are to the effect that farmers are losing heavily in cattle as a result of eating white clover. This season white clover has made its appearance in abundance, the rapid growth being due to the extremely wet weather of the past month. In the Ruddles Mills neighborhood one farmer lost a number of head and has twenty-one that are affected with "clover bloat." Mr. Wm. Farris, the dairyman of this city has suffered the loss of five valuable milk cows in the past few weeks as a result of them eating the plant. A number of prominent farmers report the prevalence of "clover bloat" among their herds.

—The Shelby News says: "A large crowd attended Hart Wallace's sale of registered Jersey cattle Wednesday at his farm northwest of Shelbyville. Bidding was spirited and good prices were realized. The entire lot, consisting of 85 head of cows, bulls and calves brought $1,285, which was an average of $16 each. The greater part of the cattle were bought by Virginia parties."

The sale cleaned Mr. Wallace out of Jerseys, but he does not expect to quit the dairy business. He will at once buy a herd of imported Ayrshires and will handle that breed exclusively in the future.

Says the Optimist. There is one good point about big troubles—they eat up little ones.
