A Diet of Wild Honey.
Wild honey as a change is an agreeable sweetmeat, but after a few days constantly partaking of it the European palate rejects it as nauseous and almost disgusting. Our experience extended over a fortnight, during which period our food consisted solely of it and maize. It has escaped the Biblical commentators that one of the principal hardships that John the Baptist must have undergone was his diet of wild honey.—National Geographic Magazine.

Extremely So.

It is hard for a man to have harmony in his soul when there is discord in his stomach.

Most Valuable Influence.

The influence of one man of genius is of more value than that of many persons capable of instructing, but not of stimulating.

Herod's Apt Remark.

"There is a motion before the house," quoth Herod, as Salome unfurled the filmy draperies.—Williams College Purple Cow.

Buck's New Barber Shop.

Go to Buck's new barber shop for a first class hair cut, shave or a bath.
Buck has just put in the Jopansy washstands, one at each chair which will give you nice clean water with every shave; no more pans or bowls.
He also now has three nice barbers which give quick service and are artists in their line. 20mayft

4,600 Miles Without Repairs of Any Kind.

OFFICE OF

SHERIFF OF HAMILTON COUNTY.

HENRY W. HAMANN, Sheriff.

CINCINNATI, July 7, 1910.

The Leyman-Buick Co. Cincinnati, Ohio.

Gentlemen:—Having traveled about 4,600 miles in the "Buick" that I bought from you some four months ago, and as yet being unacquainted with the appearance of the interior of a repair shop, I can not refrain from voicing my approbation of the "Buick" Model 17.

There may be a better car for the money, but if there is I have never met it on the road, either up hill, down hill or on the level.

Yours respectfully, HENRY W. HAMANN.

At Indianapolis Speedway last week BUICK stock cars defeated the flower of American cars in the 50 and 100 mile trophy races, winning them in fine style and smashing all stock car world records.
The BUICK finished 75 yards behind the winner in the 400 mile Cobe Trophy race after losing 80 seconds on account of tire trouble.

Here's the Limit.

We don't mind hooking her waist, looking to see if her white skirts show, and if her hat is on straight; we don't mind pinning up a veil now and then and cleaning the mud off her rubbers, but when it comes to holding one end of a store switch while she braids it, we think the limit has been reached, and it's time for us to assert our independence.—Detroit Free Press.

New Yorkers Fond of Candy.

Father Knickerbocker has a remarkably sweet tooth. Candy-makers say that more of their product is eaten in New York than in any other city in the world and more than in any other three cities on this continent. Men show almost as great fondness for it as women do, and many shops in the business sections are patronized almost exclusively by them.

Look Upward.

Morbid fancies, diseased imaginings and distorted perspectives are the results of looking into the pit of shame and folly. Impelling impulse, compelling purpose toward the true, the beautiful and the good, flow from pure feeling, high thinking and slow living.
That man sees life truly who gains what is best and most uplifting from his living, he who has strengthened his soul by contemplation of the great and good things which bless our humanity.

Ancient "Property" Teeth.

The artificial teeth of ivory, bone or wood found while making archeological explorations seem to have been designed for cosmetic purposes exclusively. Like stage "props," they were meant to be gazed upon; to fill the eye, to lend enchantment to a smile, they masqueraded efficiently, but when the owner got down to the serious business of eating they were removed.—New York Medical Journal.

Heat the Knife Blade.

To spread the hardest butter easily on the thinnest bread, have a cup of boiling water handy, into which dip the point of the knife each time before cutting a piece from the butter.
This renders it just right for spreading evenly. New bread or cakes can be cut without jagged edges if the blade of the knife used be heated for a second in a clear fire.

Note for the Girls.

Statistics show that baldness and higher education go together. In other words, the woman with a haystack of hair on her head doesn't know as much as the woman with a coiffure of doorknob size.—Acheson Globe.

Game for Children.

Geographical letters is a good game for older children. A bowl filled with letters is placed in the center of the table. All the players seat themselves and the leader draws a letter, throwing it face upward on the table. The one who first calls out the name of a town beginning with that letter is entitled to the letter. When the bowl is empty the players count their letters and the one who has the most wins the game.

Friendship.

By friendship I mean the greatest love, and the greatest usefulness, and the most open communication and the noblest sufferings and the most exemplary faithfulness, and the severest truth, and the heartiest counsel, and the greatest union of mind of which brave men and women are capable.— Jeremy Taylor.

A Dilemma.

"A pessimist never seems to have a good time?" "How can he? All the comfort he can possibly get out of life is hoping that his opinions are entirely erroneous."

Moonlight During the Arctic Night.

The moon continues to shine at the north pole during the six months' absence of the sun.

An Aim in Life.

An aim in life is the only fortune worth finding; and it is not to be found in foreign lands, but in the heart itself.

Uncle Ezra Says:

"You'll find that the rustler's main object in wak'n' you so early in the mornin' is to tell you it is time to git up to feed him."

Live Now.

Don't spend all your time getting ready to live, but "live now!" There will never be a time when you will be any nearer ready. The mere fact that you are aiming in the right direction proves it.

Childhood's Early Years.

Sometimes children are sent to school to get rid of them; but the ideal is that the first seven years of the child should be spent at the mother's knee.

On with the Dance.

She—"I'm afraid I'm tiring you rather." He—"Oh, not at all. I used to be attendant to the elephant house at the zoo."—Meggendorfer Blaetter.

Quality of Leadership.

You can never lead unless you lift.—Edward Everett Hale.

Earth's Most Desolate Spot.

Not only are human inhabitants unknown south of Cape Horn, more than 2,300 miles from the south pole, but, except sea forms, within that space animal life and vegetable life are practically absent save a few low forms of hardy lichens and mosses.

Descriptive.

"What kind of looking girl is this to whom you have become engaged?" asks the old cigar manufacturer of his son, who has come home from college with the glad news. "Oh, she's a leader!" enthusiastically replies the youth. "Colorado claro hair and a panatela shape, dad!"—Judge.

Statesmanship.

"How did that man come to be regarded as an authority on the tariff?" He never impressed me as much of a student." "No," answered Senator Sorghum. "He didn't spend his time reading books or theorizing. He found out what his constituents wanted, and got it."—Washington Star.

The Married Voice.

A dramatic critic has been saying that our most accomplished players cannot reproduce on the stage the "married voice." Even when they are married. There is a peculiar domestic note—used at home—which cannot get over the footlights and was never meant for publicity.

Remedy for Scald.

A scald is one of the most painful injuries. One of the best healing remedies is made by beating castor oil and white of egg together until a cream is formed.

Foxy Dips.

"What a queer title Dips has given his new novel; he calls it 'Solid Cement.'" "Not so queer when you come to think of it." "How's that?" "It makes the best cellar."

The Infinite Purpose.

God intends no man to live in this world without working; but he intends every man to be happy in his work.—Ruskin.

Too Much Variety.

"Bliggins is a genius," said the censorious friend, "but he won't stick to any one thing. He has too many different kinds of ability." "Yes, he's unfortunate. There is no use of being a genius if you're going to be heterogenous."
