

Find Old "Greenbacks"

While removing a stone section in the rear of the Government building at Lexington to permit a connection with the new $75,000 annex now under construction, workmen late Monday afternoon found a bunch of decayed and mutilated "greenbacks" comprising several $1 and $2 bills, which for the time being aroused much speculation as to how the money happened to be concealed in such a strange place. Inquiry developed the fact that about fifteen years ago Frank Miller, of that city then a special delivery messenger at the postoffice, lost $14 in greenbacks and that the money was undoubtedly his. Mr. Miller, at the time the money was lost, had just received his monthly salary, and while counting the bills laid several of them down on a projection in the wall until he could deposit them well in his pocketbook. At that instant a puff of wind, as if covetous of the money, came along and swept it into the ventilating shaft, and the suction carried it up under the foundation of the big structure.

James E. Clay's Will Probated.

The will of the late James E. Clay was probated in the Bourbon County Court Wednesday. The will which bears the date of July 14, 1910, was witnessed by Cornelia Shoemaker and Carrie Jones and is as follows:
 "1. James E. Clay, of Paris, Ky., being of sound and disposing mind but knowing the uncertainty of life, do make this my last will and testament.
 "2. I devise to my wife the tract of about 200 acres known as my Duncan land to be hers absolutely.
 "3. I have conveyed to my oldest children lying in Bourbon county and I direct that my two youngest children be made equal with them at my death.
 "4. The balance of my land I devise to my wife for life and at her death it shall be divided equally among my four children.
 "5. I bequeath to my wife the personal estate after paying any debts I may owe and any of said personal estate or its proceeds remaining undispensed shall be divided equally among my four children.
 "6. I nominate and appoint my wife Executor of this will without bond.
 "Witness my hand this fourteenth day of July, 1910.
 "JAMES E. CLAY.
 "Witnesses—Cornelia M. Shoemaker, Carrie Jones."

TUESDAY.

Revenge is sweet, sweeter still in the face of the existing rivalry between the two cities, and Lexington received her quota of the sweetness when on Tuesday afternoon they smote the Bourbonites and carried off the honors in a brilliant contest at White Park, winning only by a narrow margin.

Like the contest of the day before, the game was snappy from the beginning, each side fighting desperately to the finish. Poole and Vallandigham were the centers of attraction and honors between them were evenly divided. The locals had the best of the fielding and put up a perfect game.

The visitors started out with a rush in the opening session when on three safeties, a stolen base and a pass ball, put a couple of runs over the rubber. Viox, the first up, dropped a Texas leaguer back of short and went second on a pass ball. Glenn fanned the wind and Kimbro, hitting to right advanced Viox to third. Yancey grounded to McKernan, Viox scoring and Kimbro taking third, crossing the rubber on Sinex's safety to center. Sinex was forced a second on Myers' grounder to Maxwell.

In their turn the Bourbonites put one over. Schmidt walked on four bad ones and stole second. McKernan flied to Keifel and Kaiser to Ellis. Chapman hit to right, scoring Schmidt, but was forced at second on Barnett's grounder to Viox for the third out.

Only three batters faced Poole in the second, all for easy outs. Kuhlman started the half following by fanning the wind while Maxwell hit to right for a base. Hicks flied out to Ellis and Maxwell was caught in an effort to pilfer the second sack, which retired the side.

The Colts were unable to do much with Poole in the third although after Viox had been retired on strikes, Glenn doubled to right but was left on the base when Kimbro fanned and Yancey flied to Hicks.

In their half of the third Poole was the first up for the Bourbonites and drove the ball into safe territory only to be forced at second on Schmidt's attempted sacrifice. Schmidt pilfered the second base and came home when McKernan drove the ball to the fence for three bases. Kaiser fanned and Chapman flied to Yancey, retiring the side.

In the fourth both pitchers were very effective, only three men facing Poole, Sinex going out on a fly to Barnett, Myers fanning and Ellis grounding to Kuhlman for the third. Maxwell reached first on an error by Viox after two men had perished and Hicks retired the side on an easy grounder to Glenn.

Poole opened the sixth inning by giving Keifel a free ride to first, who was advanced a peg on Vallandigham's sacrifice. Viox followed with a dinky hit to center scoring Keifel and was advanced to third on Glenn's single to right. Both men died on the bases when Kimbro hit to Kuhlman and Sinex popped up a high one to Maxwell.

Both pitchers were on their mettle in the innings following with Poole the best, while the Bourbonites touched Vallandigham for three safeties none of which came with men on base.

In their half of the fifth the locals went out in order and Lexington did likewise in the sixth. After Kaiser had flied to Keifel Chapman for the second time drove the ball to center for a base and stole second where he perished when both Barnett and Kuhlman flied to the outfield. In the seventh after one was down Vallandigham singled to left but both Viox and Glenn hit into outs. Maxwell hit a high one to Yancey and was out Hicks sent a stinger to the center garden but was forced at second on Pooles grounder to Glenn. Schmidt fanned, retiring the side.

Neither side could get a man on base in the eighth, two of the Colts being retired on strikes and they faced the same in the half following. With things looking gloomy in the ninth Barnett increased the gloominess by sending a high one to Ellis for the first out. Kuhlman increased the hope that springs eternal in the human breast by smashing the sphere to center for a base, but Maxwell grounded to Vallandigham for the second out and Hicks flied to Keifel for the third, ending a contest of a brilliant hue and fast from the tap of the gong. Score: Lexington..... 2 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—3 Paris..... 1 0 1 0 0 0 0 0—2 Batteries—Paris, Poole and Hicks; Lexington, Vallandigham and Keifel. Hits—Paris 7; Lexington 7. Errors—Lexington 1; Paris 0. Earned runs—Lexington 1; Paris 1. Two base hits—Glenn. Three base hit—McKernan. Sacrifice hit—Vallandigham. Stolen bases—Kimbro, Chapman, Schmidt. 2. Base on balls—off Poole 1; off Vallandigham 1. Struck out—by Poole 7; by Vallandigham 3. Passed ball—Hicks. Umpire—Hogan. Time—2 hours.

NOTES.

Eddie Glenn is playing a nice game for the Colts at third.

Lexington should consider herself lucky in getting away with the contest.

The Bourbonites kept Ellis busy in the left garden and he had eight put-outs.

McKernan's three bagger in the third was a corker and scored Schmidt, who was on second.

Both teams seemed to be about evenly matched although some are inclined to think the Colts have a little edge on the Bourbonites.

After the third inning the locals were unable to connect with Vallandigham successfully until after the first man had been retired.

Maxwell's pickup of Sinex's grounder in the sixth was a beauty and the throw that retired the runner at first was quick and accurate.

Lexington sent down a big delegation to witness the game but the crowd from that city was not quite so large as the one at the game the day before.

Chapman's hit in the first drove in the first run for the Bourbonites. He made his second safe drive in the sixth and after pilfering second was left on the base.

Schmidt electrified the crowd with his daring base running. The little fellow scored both runs for the Bourbonites after stealing second both times he was on base.

Hopes were revived in the ninth and the rooters got busy when Kuhlman slammed the ball to center for a base. Nothing came of it however as the next two were easy outs.

Poole's twisters worked well on Ellis in the last inning when the ex-Hustler was retired on strikes. In the previous inning the heavy hitting Yancey was retired in the same manner.

In the seventh Maxwell started off with what looked to be a safe drive to center but Yancey made a quick run and took the ball off of his ankles robbing the Paris shortfielder of a hit.

The Bourbonites played errorless ball while the visitors only made one miscue and that was due to Viox who attempted to handle Maxwell's grounder too quickly, the ball bounding out of his hands and before it could be recovered the runner was safe.

A base on balls was responsible for the winning run and Keifel is one of the weakest hitters on the Lexington club at that. McKernan's play in the first to catch Viox at third when Kimbro could have been retired easily at the first station allowed both runners to land safely with the result that both scored on Sinex's single to center.

Poole pitched a game that will win in nine cases out of ten. In the opening inning the visitors made three of the seven hits off of him, but after that he settled down and pitched masterly ball with the exception of the fifth when he passed Keifel. Seven men were retired on strikes, among them being the heaviest hitters of the Colts.

WEDNESDAY.

The Shelbyville team defeated Paris in the former city Wednesday by the score of 3 to 0. Winchell pitched a good game, allowing seven hits, but the Millers bunched in the fourth inning, scoring two runs.

They added another in the sixth on a base on balls and a single. Shelbyville's pitchers were not in form, so first baseman Kuhn pitched the game and had Paris at his mercy.

He allowed only four scattered hits. All Paris could do was to pop up flies and sixteen men were retired on fly balls.

The features of the game were the fielding of Kuhn, who won his own game in the fourth with a single, the fielding of A. Long and Stengel for Shelbyville, the fielding of Scott for Paris.

Score: Shelbyville..... 0 0 0 2 0 1 0 0—3 Paris..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 Batteries—Paris, Winchell and Hicks; Shelbyville, Kuhn and Thau. Errors—Paris 2; Shelbyville 1. Hits—Paris 4; Shelbyville 7. Two base hit—Seebach. Barnett, Goodman, Oylar. Base on balls—off Winchell 1; off Kuhn 1. Struck out—by Winchell 6; by Kuhn 2. Sacrifice hit—Horan. Hit by pitcher—Horan, Oylar. Wild pitch—Winchell. Left on bases Paris 5; Shelbyville, 8. Time—2 hours. Umpire—Knapp.

NOTES.

"Skunked"—by A. Kuhn.

With Scott to fill the position at short Maxwell was sent to second and McKernan took the day off.

Goodman, Schmidt and Kaiser made up the outfield. Chapman was sent in the ninth to bat for Schmidt, and of course he made a hit.

Winchell pitched a good game holding the Millers to seven hits but he was unable to keep them scattered and the Millers put over three runs.

Scott played his first game with the Bourbonites in several weeks. He returned to the camp Monday after spending several weeks with relatives in Cincinnati resting up.

THURSDAY.

A shutout again but this time the tables were turned and the Millers were the ones who received the long row of ciphers.

The game yesterday resulted in a score of 5 to 0 in favor of Paris. The second game which was scheduled to be played between the two clubs was called off. No other details were obtainable.

Old Paris Ball Player Dead.

T. C. Conover, aged 43 years, died Wednesday afternoon at his home in Lexington after a brief illness and was buried in that city yesterday.

"Huck" Conover, as he was familiarly known was at one time one of the best pitchers in Central Kentucky. He stood at the head of the pitchers during the time of the old Blue Grass League was in existence from the years of 1825 to 1896 and for four years was the mainstay of the Lexington club. In the year of 1888 Conover pitched for the independent club in Paris and in the year of 1894 when Paris was a member of the old Blue Grass League he was a member of the pitching staff, and is well remembered by the older followers of the game.

Parisians At Georgetown Fair.

A number of Parisians, headed by President Jos. M. Hill, Secretary Chas. Webber, Mayor J. T. Hixon and other officials of the Bourbon County Agricultural Society, went to Georgetown yesterday to attend the Scott County fair, the day being set apart as Paris and Bourbon county day, and incidentally to boost the old Bourbon Fair which is to be held in this city the week of September 6-10. A number of the party made the trip to the Scott capital in automobiles while others went over on the cars.

Hustlers and Bourbonites Today

The Hustlers and Bourbonites will try conclusions at White Park this afternoon when a postponed game between the two clubs will be played off. By defeating the Millers yesterday the Bourbonites should be in pretty good shape to cope with the Hustler aggregation this afternoon.

Lost Out Because of a Woman.

A press dispatch from Frankfort yesterday said: "Manager Wallace Warren of Frankfort base ball club, has lost out because of a woman who was another man's wife. The woman was Mrs. Harry Kopp, of Washington, she had been here for several weeks and Warren introduced her as his wife."

"The husband discovered the whereabouts of his wife and came here hunting for her. He went to Richmond last night and after a friendly conference with her, she agreed to return to Washington with him and they will take the noon train for Washington at Winchester."

"Warren left Richmond this morning and came to Frankfort, but will not stay here and his connection with the team has been severed."

Police Raid Burglars' "Den."

The den of the thieves who have for months been operating a wholesale business in Lexington, was located Tuesday in the basement of an old building at the former Good Samaritan Hospital in that city. It was broken into by the detectives Tuesday morning and thousands of articles, ranging from large rugs and furniture to the most worthless junk which the crooks had accumulated during their wholesale operations were removed to the detectives office.

The detectives entered the rendezvous of the thieves by smashing a window, the doors being heavily barricaded and signs of "no admittance" pasted and painted about by the dozen. There have been no arrests but the leader of the gang and some of his accomplices are known to the detectives.

Will Leave For Alaska.

Mr. C. D. Ray formerly of Paris, now of Pueblo, Col., who has been in this section for several months in the interest of the Continental Submarine Gold Dredging Company, will leave Monday for his home in Pueblo, from which place he will start about August 10 for Nome, Alaska.

Mr. Ray is president of the dredging company, which is incorporated under the laws of Arizona with a capital stock of about $500,000 and on his visit here has disposed of about $10,000 worth of stock in Central Kentucky. The company, of which Mr. Ray is at the head, has in operation at Nome, Alaska, a Gardner Submarine Dredger which is used for working on the ice at Nome, Topkuk and other places in Alaska, where gold has been found in paying quantities. During the next year it is the purpose of putting into operation more than a dozen of the machines in Alaskan territory. Mr. Ray Hatcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Hatcher, of this city, will leave in a few days to join Mr. Ray in Pueblo, and will go with him to Alaska to accept a position with the company.

The Chief Surprise.

A New Jersey man found $5,000 in a Bible which his grandmother gave him 35 years ago. What makes the incident remarkable is, of course, that he found the money at all.—Atlantic Journal.

S. S. Association Holds Convention.

The Bourbon County Sunday School Association held its annual convention Tuesday in the Second Presbyterian church, convening at 10 o'clock a. m.

Delegates were present from twenty-six Sunday schools. The convention was called to order by President Dr. F. L. Lapsley, who led in the devotional exercises.

Secretary Joseph Jacoby, read the minutes of the last convention which were approved. His report of the last six years was listened to with much interest. The report showed an increased enrollment of 20 per cent.

Rev. George Joplin of Louisville, field worker in the cause of Sunday school work, delivered the principal address, his subject being, "Is the Boy Worth Saving." Rev. Mr. Joplin spoke of the environment to which the average boy is subjected, especially in the cities and called upon every mother and father to induce their sons to attend regularly the Sunday school of his choice.

Elder J. W. Ligon, pastor of the North Middletown Christian church, followed with an address on "Early Training—Its Importance and What Work is Best Suited for It."

After the appointment of a committee consisting of Rev. Mr. Ligon and Mr. Henry Power, on nominations for county officers for the ensuing year, the convention adjourned till the afternoon hour.

Upon reassembling Rev. M. T. Chandler of the Methodist church, led in devotional exercises. "Problems of the Teacher" was discussed by Rev. C. C. Fisher, of the Millersburg Female College, after which Rev. R. A. Saunders of Millersburg, gave a talk on "The Teacher a Soul Winner." Rev. Mr. Joplin then addressed the convention, his subject being "The Sunday School of the world" with a few echoes from the Washington convention, recently held in Washington, D. C. He quoted statistics to show that the increased adult attendance was very gratifying and that the work of the Sunday school was gradually becoming the institution not only of the child but also of men and women.

The discussion of the various subjects was participated in by Miss Kate Edgar, Mrs. J. T. Vansant, Dr. J. O. A. Vaught, and Superintendent Jones, of the Presbyterian Sunday school in Millersburg.

The committee of nominations reported the selection of Dr. Lapsley for re-election as president and the name of Mr. N. H. Rion as secretary and treasurer. The following resolutions were adopted. We, your committee on resolutions beg to submit the following report:

Resolved, that we strive to perfect the county organization to the end that we may successfully co-operate with the State Association, and may be more useful to the schools of our own county.

We recognize the value of this work, and feel that if the schools of the county could be brought into line with it and could be induced to send large representations to the county convention that much more good could be accomplished.

Resolved, that we have great confidence in the ability of consecration of the men who are leading this work in the State, and we think it will be greatly to our advantage if we were to adopt the plans outlined by them for us concerning house to house visitations, organized classes, cradle rolls department and teacher training classes.

Resolved, that we appreciate the present and efficient work of the State Superintendent, Rev. George Joplin, and that we endeavor to enlist all the schools of the county in a more earnest and faithful co-operation in the work, and especially every school in the county send a large delegation to the State convention at Winchester August 7-10.

Fields Nominated in Ninth.

At the Democratic Congressional Convention of the Ninth District held in Carlisle Wednesday afternoon W. J. Fields of Carter county, was made the party's nominee or Congress, defeating Edgar Hager of Ashland.

In one of the most pathetic addresses ever made before a nominating convention in the State, Mr. Hager declared after he had been defeated that it was the fourth time he had been promised the Democratic nomination for Congress and that each time it had been broken and that he bitterly attacked the men of his home county, who he declared were responsible for his defeat.

The name of C. W. Mathers of Nicholas county, who was for a time prominently mentioned as a candidate, was not presented to the convention and his delegation was instructed for Hager. John W. Woods, Democratic nominee for Attorney General, made the nominating speech for Hager and it was seconded by M. C. Swinford of Carlisle. When it was apparent that Hager would be defeated he asked that the nomination of Mr. Fields be made by acclamation, which was done.

The first ballot resulted: For Fields—Bath 9; Bracken 8; Carter, 8; Fleming 10; Greenup 7; Lawrence 9; Lewis 6; Rowan 4. Total 61
 For Hager—Boyd 10; Harrison 14; Mason 13; Nicholas 9; Robertson 3. Total 49.
