Suicides at Husband's Grave.

Mrs. George Bonta, of Lexington, committed suicide Tuesday afternoon by drinking the contents of a bottle of carbolic acid, while seated near her husband's grave in the Lexington cemetery. She was first discovered by a boy, who was attracted by the woman's strange actions, and who upon seeing her drink the deadly drug and fall, ran for the superintendent of the cemetery, who found the unfortunate woman unconscious at her husband's grave a few minutes later. Dependency over the death of her husband, which occurred about two months ago, is thought to be responsible for her suicide. She was hurried to St. Joseph's hospital in an ambulance but died five minutes after reaching the institution.

BUTLER, CLARK & MILLER, PEALE COLLIER & CO.

Mr. S. C. Bascom and family left Thursday for the home of his father near Owingsville where they will make their future home. It is with many regrets that we give these good people up. Their places will be hard to fill. The senior Bascom is in poor health and Mr. S. C. Bascom has gone to be with his father in his declining days. They have taken but little household goods with them, hoping some day to return to their beautiful country home. Their home will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Barton, who also moved Thursday.

The following officers were elected at Amity Lodge F. & A. M., Tuesday evening: W. M., W. V. Shaw; S. W., M. P. Collier; S. W., H. M. Campbell; treasurer, S. M. Allen, and secretary, J. H. Burroughs; chaplain, W. Watts; Tyler, Durward Mason Stewart; deacons and committees will be named on next Tuesday when the newly elected officers will be installed. The brethren began assembling early in the evening and by 7 o'clock the temple was well filled, including a few visitors. All the officers except Tyler were elected on the first ballot, this being the only one creating any interest. By 8:20 the election had closed and all retired to the dining hall where the inner man was regaled with oysters, after which they returned to the temple where a smoker was enjoyed and a number of interesting addresses were made. It was in many respects the best meeting held in many years. Many of the members pledged themselves to be more regular in their attendance in 1911.

Some little excitement was created Thursday about 12:30 o'clock when an alarm of fire was sounded. The fire occurred in the home of John Berry, colored, and was extinguished before a crowd could gather. The burning of some old clothing, the property of the excited man, was the cause of the excitement. A few days ago Berry had an altercation with his wife and had expressed a desire to go to Paris to attend a colored dance. In spite of her husband's protests the woman went to Paris and has since been refused admission to the home. The woman had taken all of her best clothing with her when she left and Berry sought to get rid of her old clothing. The sight of the flames attracted his mother-in-law who resided with him and she ran screaming into the yard. Several of the neighbors thinking perhaps Berry had attempted violence, sounded the alarm and increased the intensity of the excitement. Berry, who has three children, is employed as a porter in the grocery store of Jones Brothers and is a negro of good character.

Sweeping Definition. Every person who manages another is a hypocrite.—Thackeray.

Decries the "Midnight Oil." "People talk about the midnight oil as if it had some virtue attached to it," writes Dr. Hale in Woman's Home Companion. "In truth, four times out of five the midnight oil means overwork, or it means that you have neglected some duty which should have been attended to before the sun went down."

"Unless each night recovers the ground lost in the exertion of the day before, you are committing suicide by inches; and you have no right to commit suicide at all."

Old People Make Merry. In recently published reports of the fair which took place at the Home of the Daughters of Jacob, New York, mention was made of the chief usher, a "lad" age 105 years, and of the "girls" who sold candy and lemonade, although they were only 108 and 107 years old. Some doubt was expressed as to the ages of these inmates of the home. Albert Kruger, the superintendent, said that there was no exaggeration.

Good Price. The Winchester Democrat says: "One day last week M. D. Hurst, of Bath county, weighed up 50 turkeys and received a check for $123.50 for same. This is nearly $2.50 a head, and at that price it seems that there ought to be money in turkeys as they are good foragers and do not need much attention."
